Bishop Matthew Simpson, D.D., LL.D.,

BISHOP OF THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

THE late BISHOP SIMPSON was born in Cadiz, O., June 21, 1811, and died at his home, in the city of Philadelphia, Pa., on June 18, 1884. His academic education was obtained in his native town; his collegiate training was received at Madison College, Pa., by the officers of which he was elected tutor in his eighteenth year. He subsequently prepared himself for, and for a short period practiced, the medical profession; but feeling it his duty to enter the ministry, he was licensed to preach, and in 1834 was received on trial into the Pittsburg Annual Conference, and appointed to the Saint Clairsville Circuit, under the presiding eldership of Wesley Browning. The next year he was stationed in Pittsburg, having Thomas M. Hudson, William Hunter, and Charles Elliott for colleagues in the ministry in that place, the latter being also editor of the "Pittsburg Conference Journal." At the next Conference Matthew Simpson was admitted into full connection, ordained deacon, and appointed to the Liberty Street Charge, Pittsburg. At the following Conference he was assigned to Williamsport, and during the year was elected Vice-president and Professor of Natural Science in Alleghany College. In 1839 Prof. Simpson was elected President of Indiana Asbury University, where he remained until, in 1848, he was elected Editor of the "Western Christian Advocate." In 1844 he was one of the delegates from the Indiana Conference to the famous General Conference of that year, and again in 1848, and 1852. In 1852 he was elected Bishop; Levi Scott, O. C. Baker, E. R. Ames, being also elected at the same time and on the same ballot. These beloved and honored servants of the Church are now all departed this life, Bishops Scott, Baker, and Ames having preceded their colleague to the rest that remaineth.

In addition to the usual duties of his office, Bishop Simpson was three times appointed to represent the Methodist Episcopal Church abroad; the first time, in 1858, to the British Wesleyan Conference; the second time, in 1870, to the same body, taking the place of the lamented Bishop Kingsley, who had died in Syria; and the third time to the Ecumenical Conference of Methodism in London, in 1881, where he preached the opening sermon.

No eulogy of Bishop Simpson is needed at our hand: his memory is fragrant in all the Churches as a godly man, and an able and eloquent preacher. His record is on high.

OBITUARIES.

Florida Conference.

Robert Mitchell died Sept. 7, 1883. He came from the South Carolina Conference in 1872, and from the time of his entering this Conference to the day of his death he proved himself to be a faithful Gospel minister. He leaves a wife and seven children to mourn their loss. As in life, so in death, he was in Christ triumphant. His peace was made, his work was finished, the heavenly escort was waiting to conduct him to his mansion and his crown. His last words were, "Peace with God and with man."

Daniel Wade was born in South Carolina in 1807, and died in Florida in 1883. At an early age he was converted and joined the Church. He moved to Florida about 1840, and in 1868 he connected himself with the Florida Conference. As a preacher, he was earnest; as a pastor, faithful; in his life consistent, and in his death triumphant. Now that he is gone we think of him as a true, warm, and loving friend. Brother Wade leaves a wife and three children, and with them the only legacy of an honored name, which is "more precious than thousands of gold and silver."

South Carolina Conference.

H. B. Kershaw passed from labor to reward in April last in the twenty-sixth year of his age. The subject of this notice was not the child of fortune reared in the lap of luxury and ease. A half-orphan, in early childhood he knew only the love and protection of a poor, unprotected slave mother. Freedom came to him in early childhood, and that mother in almost abject poverty—a mother who never knew a comfort, not to say a luxury—sought to bestow upon her noble boy that precious boon of which she had been deprived—an education. Our young brother under very adverse circumstances succeeded in graduating from the Normal Department of the State University, entering college and being graduated in the full course with the degree of B.A. from the Iowa State University at Grinnell. In June, 1871, Brother Kershaw was soundly converted to God, and he ever lived a consistent Christian life. He received license to exhort from a white society in Iowa, of which he was the sole colored person, and there first exercised his gifts, grace, and usefulness. Brother Kershaw was admitted on trial in the South Carolina Conference, January, 1881. He did his duty fully and fearlessly to the last, and died as he lived, the noblest work of God—an honest man, in peace with all the world.

Louisiana Conference.

John W. Wesley joined the Louisiana Conference, when quite a young man, under Presiding Elder Diossy, having been recommended by the Quarterly Conference at Franklin, La., in the year 1869, and was ordained a deacon the same year by Bishop Simpson. He was ordained elder by Bishop Janes in 1873. His first appointment was at Houma, La., where he remained two years doing good work. In 1871 he was appointed to Washington, where he served three years, much beloved by his people; thence to New Roads, East Feliciana, and finally to Island and Bechell. Failing in health, he took a supernumerary relation in 1882; continuing to do the work of an evangelist until Feb. 8, 1883, when, in Vicksburg, Miss., at thirty-six years of age, he crossed the river to join the throng of the redeemed at God's right hand. Brother Wesley was an honored servant of the Lord Jesus Christ, with a spirit that was full of joy and hope. He entered the peaceful realms of eternal bliss, the rest prepared for the people of God.

Thomas Kennedy was born in Alexandria, Va., in the year 1818, and died Nov. 1, 1883, aged about sixty-five years. He was born a slave, and lived under that institution until freed by President Lincoln's Proclamation. He was converted to God when quite young, and joined the M. E. Church. In his early manhood he was called to preach, and exercised his gifts as a local preacher for many years before the war. When our Church re-entered the field, and the Mississippi Mission Conference was organized by Bishop Thomson in the city of New Orleans, Dec. 25, 1865, Brother Kennedy was the third in a class of twelve, the majority of whom have already gone home in triumph, who joined this Conference on that day. He was ordained a deacon in that session of the Conference by Bishop Thomson, and two years after was ordained elder by Bishop Ames. For eighteen years Brother Kennedy continued to do effective work with general acceptance throughout the bounds of this Conference until Nov. 1, 1883, when, fresh from the field of battle, having fought a good fight, finished his course, and kept the faith, he passed through the gate and entered the city of our God. He was, at the time of his death, pastor of La Harpe Street Church, New Orleans, where he faithfully labored, notwithstanding the fact that he was partially paralyzed in the early part of that year, until called to his reward. Just before his death, being deprived of speech, he gave signals to his brethren and friends that he had no fears of death, and that he was going home in triumph. He leaves an aged and blind widow to the kind consideration of the Church for which he lived and in which he died, to mourn her loss.

Isaac Hayward was of a thoroughly Methodist family. Three brothers served the Louisiana Conference faithfully and zealously. Brother Isaac Hayward was admitted on trial under the recommendation of Dr. William M. Daily, and received into full connection by Bishop Merrill. He died in the full triumph of faith, Feb. 12, 1883, at the age of fifty-six years. Brother Hayward was instrumental in putting holy influences into operation that can never be calculated. He leaves a devoted wife, who mourns her loss.

Wilmington Conference.

Louis C. Matlack was born in Baltimore, Md., April 28, 1816, and died at Cambridge, Md., June 24, 1883. At the age of seven years, under the preaching of the Word, he became the subject of marked religious impressions. It was not, however, until his sixteenth year (being then in the city of Philadelphia) that he became converted. The blessed experience is described thus by himself: "By faith I entered into rest. A clear sense of regeneration thoroughly reconstructing my whole being, thrilled me with unspeakable delight." He connected himself with Union Church, (being received on probation by Rev. Dr. J. Holdich, and into full membership by Rev. Charles Pitman,) and at once took his place as an enthusiastic yet modest worker for Jesus. Here, as Sunday-school teacher, superintendent, class-leader, and exhorter, he found opportunity to "stir up the gift" within him, and the record of those years is one of happy toil. In 1837 he was licensed to preach and recommended to the Philadelphia Conference for admission on trial. At the session of the Annual Conference he was refused admission by a unanimous vote because of his antislavery convictions and utterances. A part of the year following he spent as assistant to Rev. John Lednum at West Chester. He was rejected a second time at the Conference of 1838, held at Asbury, Wilmington, for the same reason, and this was followed in 1839 by the withholding of his license, and a threat of expulsion. In June of this year he went to New England, by invitation of Rev. Orange Scott, and by the Quarterly Conference at Lowell, Mass., was relicensed, and served that charge for six months, and Haverhill for the remainder of the year. He was received on trial into the New England Conference in 1840, and spent that and the following year at Holliston. While resident in Boston, in 1842, he withdrew from the Church, and united in the movement which organized the Wesleyan Methodist Connection, in which he continued untill 1866. The mission of the Wesleyan Societies having been accomplished, he returned to the old Church, being received, by unanimous vote and with great cordiality, into the Philadelphia Conference in 1867. His subsequent work was as follows: Elkton; Presiding Elder of the New Orleans District, Louisiana Conference; Grace Church, Wilmington; Middletown, Bethel, and Presiding Elder of Wilmington District. Being appointed to Cambridge last spring, he entered upon his work with great enthusiasm and delight. The editor of the Advocate writes of him thus: "Manhood is not common enough to pass from notice without a tribute. Rev. L. C. Matlack deserves honor from all men, for he was true to his convictions, when it cost him all that men hold dear, except life;" and Whittier, the poet, justly says: "He was a true man, and a brave, conscientious, Christian philanthropist." As a pastor, he was faithful and kindly, going into places lofty and lowly, with tears for the bereaved, advice to the perplexed, and warnings for the careless. In administration and counsel he was wise, thorough, and impartial, with a knowledge of current events in the general Church which was broad and full. It was, no doubt, because of these qualities that he was chosen to represent the Louisiana Conference in the General Conference of 1872 and our own in those of 1876 and 1880, besides being Secretary of the Book Committee for four years. Nowhere was he better known or more honored than in his own home. Here he was loving, devotional, and happy. Whether studying the Catechism with his little son, or poring over the Word, he was, as in his public life, the same consecrated and faithful servant of God. Brother Matlack was twice married. The wife of his youth was Miss Maria Ruhl, of Philadelphia, who died in New Orleans. In 1873 he was united in marriage with Miss Roberta H. Stephenson, who, with one son, is left to weep over her loss.

Saint Louis Conference.

J. E. Morris was born in Crawford (now Phelps) County, Mo., Aug. 2, 1842, and died at Zion, Washington County, Mo., April 30, 1883, in full assurance of faith. He was converted and joined the Church, September, 1860, under the ministry of Rev. S. Ing, and at once commenced active work in the cause of Christ. The war breaking out soon after, he became a first lieutenant in the army; yet he never lost his faith in Christ, nor abandoned his cause. After the war he served in the office of the clerk of Phelps County until 1867, when he joined the Missouri and Arkansas Conference, and was appointed junior preacher at Houston and Hartville. The next two years he was at Salem, then one year at Batesville, Ark. In 1871-72 he was at Irondale, in 1872-74 at De Soto. At the Conference of 1875 he asked and obtained a supernumerary relation, and began the practice of medicine, having pursued his studies and was graduated in St. Louis the year before. He finally settled at Zion Church, and has been one of its main supporters ever since. He filled the pulpit about half of the time, when the pastor was in the other parts of the circuit. At the Conference, last spring, he was put in charge of that Church, and was doing fine service for it, supporting himself in the practice of medicine. He did not leave the active ministry from choice; his growing family was not being adequately supported by the Church, and he undertook to provide for them as best he could, in the meantime aiding the Church most manfully, both by his means and pulpit assistance. Brother Morris was a man of more than ordinary intelligence, clear and analytical in method, sound in judgment, honest and true to his convictions of duty, modest in deportment, manly and dignified. In his religious life, while he was true to his faith and its practice, he was not without struggles. It was not his habit to accept a doctrine simply because it was held by friends, or taught by the Church. He wanted to investigate and weigh thoroughly for himself, and not till that was done was he fully satisfied. In April of last year, while helping the brethren to put a fence around the church and grave-yard, he took cold, and on the same night he was taken with a chill. It soon developed into a severe type of pneumonia, and in five days his physician said he could not live. He received the news calmly with Christian heroism. He said, if it had been the Lord's will, he would have liked to see his family raised; but, committing them to his brother and two of his brethren of the Church, he died, assured that all would be well. He parted with his faithful and devoted wife as only a Christian can, then fell asleep in Jesus. The Saint Louis Conference has lost a quiet but most worthy member. Those who knew him well will cherish his memory long and fondly.

New Jersey Conference.

Joseph A. Jones was born in Cheadle, Staffordshire, England, April 1, 1857. In April, 1872, his mother, with her three youngest children, emigrated to this country, and took up her residence with a daughter in Trenton. His religious experience began at eight years of age, but it was not until June, 1873, that he made public profession of his faith in Christ, and became a member of Hamilton Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church in Trenton. In the spring of 1876 he was appointed by the Presiding Elder pastor of New Lisbon Circuit. He was required to preach three times each Sabbath, and often walked twelve miles during the day. Twenty-four souls were converted that year under his ministry, and some of his sermons are still spoken of there as of rare eloquence and power. The following year he was appointed to Glendale. While here he attended and was graduated at the "National School of Elocution and Oratory," in Philadelphia. The next year he was pastor of the Church at Hammonton, and remained three years. The first three years of his ministry he labored as a supply, but in March, 1879, he was admitted on trial in New Jersey Conference, was ordained deacon in 1881, and elder in 1883. From Hammonton he was removed to Long Branch, as pastor of Simpson Methodist Episcopal Church. His work here was to organize a society, gather a congregation, and build a church, in all of which he succeeded in two years. At the last session of New Jersey Conference, in accordance with the unanimous and earnest request of Saint James Church, New Brunswick, he was appointed its pastor. The pulpit of that church had been occupied by some of the ablest ministers of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and, as their successor, Mr. Jones went trembling with anxiety, yet buoyant with hope, "resolved to succeed or die." He did both. For some weeks before his death he seemed to be losing health and strength. On Wednesday, Nov. 7, a physician was called, who pronounced his disease typhoid fever. After two weeks of suffering he passed quietly and triumphantly to his eternal home. As a man, he was earnest and enthusiastic; whatever he found to do he did it with his might. He was generous to a fault, and ever ready to forgive. He was honorable and upright, scorning deceit and hating meanness as a sin. As a Christian, his experience was clear, bright, and full of joy. As a preacher, his active mind, ready memory, nervous organism, elocutionary and oratorical culture, ready command of language, together with his warm-hearted enthusiasm and deep religious nature, gave him ability to command the attention of multitudes. Though young, he had already won fame as a pulpit orator. His sermons at Pitman Grove and Ocean Grove camp-meetings were listened to with breathless attention by gathered thousands, until, stirred by his eloquence, silence gave place to shouts of praise.

John Jaroloman was born in Sparta, Sussex County, N. J., April 3, 1826. He was converted under the ministry of Rev. Ebenezer Colson, in the spring of 1842, when about sixteen years of age. In 1847 he was licensed to exhort by Rev. John Copeland, and in 1852 was given a local preacher's license by Rev. F. G. Hibbard, his presiding elder. In 1853 he was admitted on trial in the East Genesee Conference, and ordained deacon in 1855, and elder in 1857, each by Bishop Waugh. He was a member of the East Genesee Conference and of the Central New York Conference, into which a portion of it was merged, for twenty-two years, serving with great acceptability the following charges: Andover, Caton, Painted Post, Wellsborough, Horseheads, Mecklenburg, Havana, North Hector and Logan, Seneca Castle and Orleans, and, in 1870–71, again at Painted Post, and, in 1872, again at Caton. In 1873, his health failing, he removed to Hammonton, N. J., where he so far recovered as to be able to serve as a supply for that appointment, the work of which was not heavy. For three years he served Hammonton, N. J., giving great satisfaction to the people, and endearing himself to his new associates of the New Jersey Conference. In 1876 he was transferred to the New Jersey Conference, and stationed at Cinnaminson, which appointment he served for three years. In 1879–81 he was stationed at Berlin, N. J., and in 1882–83 at Medford, N. J. In the summer of 1883, his health becoming again impaired, under the advice of his physician, he relinquished his charge and went to Troy, N. Y., hoping, by a complete rest from all work, to regain his strength. But in vain. His health continued to fail. He was confined to his house by severe and continued affection of the brain. Slowly, but surely, he sank. He died on Tuesday, Sept. 4, 1883. His success as a minister in all departments of his work has been very marked. His warm Christian heart and social qualities drew all people to him, and was a proof of what he said among his last words to a brother: "I am going to heaven and shall soon see many that I trust I have helped to get there."

Philadelphia Conference.

Pennell Coombe was born in Smyrna, Del., Aug. 5, 1811. He was converted June 24, 1829, and in the spring of 1835 he was admitted on trial in the Philadelphia Conference. From that time until his death he sustained an effective relation to the work. Thirty-five years he served the Church on circuits and stations, four years in the presiding eldership, one year as agent of Dickinson College, ten years in the temperance work. Nine years he filled the office of Conference Secretary, and so efficiently did he perform its duties, that he would have been continuously elected, had he not regarded the position as incompatible with his duties as presiding elder. In 1856 and 1860 he was honored by the Conference as one of their delegates to the General Conference. Brother Coombe was a man of splendid physique, compact, flexible, and strong. His temperament was ardent, and impulsive, and sometimes it may have led him beyond the lines of prudence. He had strong convictions, and he uttered them with boldness. He spake as one who believed what he said, and expected others to believe it. In rebuking wrong he was stern, not without some appearance of harshness; but down in the depths of his soul there was honesty, tenderness, and love. He was quick in his apprehension of a subject, and he held it with a powerful grasp. As a logician, he was clear, close, and convincing. Admitting his premises, there was no evading his conclusions. In the pulpit he felt himself to be what in reality he was, "an embassador of Christ," "a minister of the New Testament," "a steward of the mysteries of God." In delivering his message he used great plainness and directness of speech. He was as easily understood by the uneducated as by the most cultured. His searching appeals were made to the conscience as well as to the reason of his hearers. And God set the seal upon the Gospel he preached. Perhaps the greatest revival ever witnessed in Philadelphia occurred during his pastorate of the Ebenezer Methodist Episcopal Church, in the years 1841 and 1842. It was estimated that over twelve hundred souls were converted to Christ. He enjoyed the satisfaction of receiving nine hundred and fifty-six into the communion of his own Church, while many others united with Churches in the vicinity. On the platform he was at home. This was particularly the case in his temperance work. He was among the ablest and most successful advocates of this glorious cause. On the floor of deliberative assemblies he was a recognized leader of thought. As a debater, he had few superiors. He was always listened to with attention and respect, even by those who differed from him in judgment. In his social intercourse he was approachable and genial. His hand and heart and home were open to his brethren. On the last evening of January he retired to bed in his usual health. The next morning he was not heard moving about his room as usual. The breakfast hour arrived, but all was still and quiet in his study. A knock at his bedroom door was unanswered. A louder knock; but still no response. The door was opened; he was found lying on his bed, but lifeless. So gently were the silver cords unloosed, that the book that he had been reading was still in his hand. The obsequies were conducted under the direction of Rev. J. S. J. M'Connell, presiding elder. Addresses were delivered by Bishop Simpson, T. C. Murphy, J. B. M Cullough, and William Swindells.

Thomas W. Simpers was born Sept. 10, 1814. When about twenty-one years of age he became interested in the teachings of Methodism, and, finding its doctrines and usages congenial to his views and feelings, connected himself with the Methodist Episcopal Church. In 1849 he was called out by the presiding elder, and appointed as the assistant of Rev. Charles Schock, on Nottingham Circuit, a relation which continued during the following year. In the spring of 1851 he was received on trial in the Philadelphia Conference, and sent to Quakertown Mission, on the North Philadelphia District; but subsequently was transferred to Summerfield, Philadelphia, to fill a vacancy caused by the death of Rev. L. M. Prettyman. His subsequent appointments were: 1852–53, Richmond Circuit, Pa.; 1854, Mount Salem, Del.; 1855–56, Newport, Del.; 1857–58, Centreville, Md.; 1859–60, Millington, Md.; 1861–62, Middletown, Del.; 1863–64, Frederica and Barrett's Chapel; 1865, Kent, Md.; 1866–67, Ebenezer, Philadelphia; 1868–70, Front Street, Philadelphia; 1871–73, De Kalb Street, Norristown; 1874–76, Twelfth Street, Philadelphia; 1877–79, De Kalb Street, Norristown; 1880, Cheltenham; 1881–82, Emory, Philadelphia; 1883, Chestnut Hill. In all these charges Brother Simpers did the full work of a minister of the Lord Jesus, leaving behind him not only a good name, but, what is more important, many precious seals to his ministry. He was also quite successful in improving church property, as the following record will show. While at Front Street the parsonage was repaired and refurnished; while at Norristown, during his first term, the church was remodeled and a handsome parsonage built; while at Twelfth Street, the church was rebuilt, and the parsonage repaired; while at Emory, the parsonage was repaired and refurnished, and for several months previous to his last illness he was engaged in preparing to rebuild the church at Chestnut Hill, his last charge. As a preacher, Brother Simpers was plain in his style, evangelical in his teaching, sound in his theology, earnest in his manner, and pungent in his appeals—just such a preacher as will ever be heard with interest and profit by the majority of our people. As a pastor, too, he was always faithful, sympathizing with the suffering, relieving the needy, encouraging the desponding, and carrying sunshine to the homes and hearts of his people. A few days before his death, Rev. M. D. Kurtz and the writer called upon him to convey to him the fraternal greetings of the Preachers' Meeting. He was suffering greatly, and could talk but little. His funeral took place on Feb. 4, brief services being held at Chestnut Hill, after which his remains were taken to the Twelfth Street Church, in compliance with his own request, where the services were conducted by those selected, among them Bishop Simpson.

Michael A. Day was born in Philadelphia, Jan. 24, 1830, and died at Norristown, Montgomery County, Pa., April 2, 1883. Brother Day professed conversion under the ministry of Rev. David Dailey, and joined the Kensington Methodist Episcopal Church on probation Oct. 31, 1847. From the commencement of his religious life he was an earnest worker. He was received on trial in the Philadelphia Conference in 1852, and during a ministry of thirty years served the following appointments: Salisbury, Newtown, South Easton, Holmesbury, Bethlehem, Rising Sun, Newtown, Newark, Cheltenham, Saint Stephen's, Germantown; Radnor and Bethesda, Olney, Bethlehem, and Oak Street, Norristown. He was ordained deacon in 1854 by Bishop Levi Scott. At the session of our Conference in 1883, Brother Day was appointed by Bishop Bowman to the Hatborough Church; but he was not permitted by his heavenly Father to enter upon a pastorate in that charge. During the session he had complained of feeling ill; the day after returning to his home he attended a funeral; the storm and cold increased his illness; soon after, pneumonia set in, and he rapidly sank under the power of the disease, and passed away from us on the day above mentioned. In the beginning of his sickness he appeared to be perfectly aware of its dangerous character and probable result. At that time, on being visited by a ministerial brother and conversed with as to this probability, he immediately replied: "Well, something will at some time take us all away; it is all right, all right." And there is in his case no doubt that he was "all right." Brother Day had a clear and joyous conversion, a call to the ministry as definite and satisfactory as the evidence of his acceptance with God, and was fully given up to the preaching of the Gospel of Christ. He was very distinct and particular in his statements of Christian doctrine, and of the privilege of believers in Christ to enjoy the fullness of divine grace. He was a cheerful, loyal, impressive, acceptable Methodist preacher, and perhaps was not excelled as a pastor. The doctrine of Christian holiness he professed and preached, while his life and ministry gave evidence that he experienced it.

Charles Karsner was born in Elkton, Md., May 19, 1813. When about sixteen years of age he came to Philadelphia and found employment in a drug house, where he remained four years. During this period he attended regularly Union Church, under the pastorate of Dr. Joseph Holdich, and became a member and teacher in the Sunday-school. His parents were induced, mainly by his persuasion, to take a tent to camp-meeting, and while there, with God's blessing, he was the honored instrument of leading his father, mother, and eldest sister to the Saviour, and saw them happily converted. After the return of the family from camp-meeting Charles began the study of theology, and was licensed to preach by the Quarterly Conference of Elkton, Md. In 1836 he was admitted on trial in the Philadelphia Conference. In 1839 Brother Karsner was united in marriage to Lavinia R. Mellechop, of Milford, Del., who proved a helpmeet in his life-work, and survives as his widow. Brother Karsner traveled as an effective minister twenty-seven years, filling the following charges: Northampton Circuit, Va.; Milford, Lewes, and Milton, Del.; Accomac, Va.; Princess Anne, Md.; Holmesburg, Mount Zion, Manayunk; Ebenezer, Salem, Philadelphia; Strasburg, West Chester, Saint John's, Emory, Philadelphia; and, finally, Haines Street, Germantown. During this last pastorate he found himself gradually breaking down with bronchial trouble. At his own request he was granted a supernumerary relation in March, 1863. From this time on to the close of life he pursued a career of continued usefulness in the sphere of a practitioner of medicine, and became to very many afflicted ones the "beloved physician." He took Christ wherever he went, preaching, as well as practicing. As a preacher, Dr. Karsner ranked up to and above the average. He was faithful to his divine calling, a clear thinker, good reasoner, pleasant speaker, and withal a Christian gentleman. His death was sudden, as men count it, but not sudden in the arrangements of God, as his work was well done. While at Ocean Grove, N. J., with his family, in the pursuit of his profession, the death angel touched him on the evening of Wednesday, June 6, 1883, and he was not, for God had taken him.

Henry B. Mauger was born in Chester County, Pa., March 8, 1815. His parents were members of the Protestant Episcopal Church, in the tenets and worship of which he was carefully instructed. His opportunities for education were only such as could be furnished in the common-schools of a farming district. But such was his thirst for knowledge that he read with avidity all the books that he could obtain. His habit of reading and study deepened, as years advanced; but after his conversion it was more wisely directed. Under the ministry of the Rev. John Edwards, while on Springfield Circuit, Henry was converted to God. The transition from the power of darkness into the kingdom of Christ, was instantaneous, conscious, and glorious. He was filled with light and love, with joy and gratitude. Henceforth his life appeared to him as it never had appeared before. It was a sacred trust, to be used in glorifying God, in gaining and in doing good. In the spring of 1843 he offered himself, and was received on trial in the Philadelphia Conference. We do not propose to describe the successive fields of his labor, further than to say, that while some of them were rich and promising, more of them were poor and sterile. But in either case alike, he strove to make them fruitful. He did not work in vain; God was with him, and gave the increase. It is believed by those most competent to judge that he never left an appointment that was not spiritually stronger than when he received it; and he not only built up the Church on its most holy faith, but he added also to the membership. While on Safe Harbor Circuit over two hundred souls were converted and received on probation. In that day when the Lord shall make up his jewels, many a polished gem shall show forth his patient, skillful workmanship. In disposition he was quiet and unobtrusive; in spirit, meek and lowly; in labor, conscientious and abundant. There were not wanting in his life occasions of special hardship; but seldom, even in his own family, was heard the voice of complaint. With submission and confidence he committed all his interests to Him who judgeth righteously. During the last four years he sustained a supernumerary relation to the Conference, but rendered such service to the Church as his health and opportunity would permit. On the last Sabbath evening before his death, he delivered an exhortation in the church at Olney. He spoke with unusual solemnity and power, and the audience were deeply impressed. On the following Saturday evening he retired in his usual health and cheerfulness. About eleven o'clock his wife awoke and found him apparently in a spasm, and at twenty minutes before twelve o'clock, Dec. 1, 1883, without returning to consciousness, his gentle spirit passed to his home in heaven.

Central Pennsylvania Conference.

W. A. Clippinger was born at Willow Hill, in Path Valley, Pa., March 9, 1842, and died in Jeanesville, Pa., May 2, 1883. He had just entered the forty-second year of his useful life when he was called to his heavenly reward. When he was eight years old the family removed to Wells's Valley, Fulton County, where his aged mother still resides. At an early age he evinced a fondness for books, and his thirst for knowledge prompted him to seek a more thorough education than could be obtained in the public schools of his neighborhood. He was, at the time of his conversion, twenty-two years old. In 1865 he was licensed to preach. During the same year, June 27, he was married to Miss Emma Virginia Smith. In 1868 we find him junior preacher of the Saxton Charge. At the close of that Conference year he was recommended by the Saxton Quarterly Conference as a suitable person to be received into the itinerant ranks. Accordingly he was received on probation into the Central Pennsylvania Conference in March, 1869, and placed in charge of the Clearfield Circuit. Here he labored with indefatigable zeal, and God crowned his labors with signal success. During the three years of his pastorate on Clearfield Circuit many souls were converted, and the charge was very greatly strengthened. In 1872–74 he was in charge of Manor Hill; in 1875–76, Petersburg; in 1877 he was stationed at Gettysburg. Here his health failed; he had overtaxed his feeble constitution. At the close of the Conference year he was constrained to ask for a supernumerary relation. But he rested only one year; his health having greatly improved, he asked and received an effective relation at the next Conference. He was appointed to Ennisville. He remained three years on this charge with great acceptability and usefulness. In 1882 he was sent to Jeanesville and Audenreid. But his career was ended, his work was done. On reaching home from Conference he complained of being quite unwell. No medical skill could arrest the progress of the fatal malady. That terrible disease, typhoid fever, had marked him as its victim.

John A. M'Kindless died of heart disease in Harford County, Md., August 22, 1883, in the fifty-first year of his age. He was converted to God in early life, and at once united with the Church. His whole subsequent life gave proof of the thoroughness of the work in him by the Spirit of God. He was received on trial by the East Baltimore Conference at its session in 1861. More than twenty years he proved himself a workman that needeth not to be ashamed. His appointments in the Central Pennsylvania Conference were successively: 1869–70, Castle Fin; 1871, supernumerary; 1872, Rainsburg; 1873, M'Connellstown; 1874, M'Connellsville; 1875–76, York Springs; 1877, Mount Holly; 1878–79, Newton Hamilton; 1880–82, Petersburg; 1883, New Bloomfield, where he ceased to work and live. In all these fields of labor, some of them hard fields, he made full proof of his ministry, realized fruits in the conversion of souls and in building up the Church. Though physically enfeebled when he went to his last charge, and hardly able to meet the demands it made upon his energies, he entered upon his duties with earnestness. But his disease culminating rapidly, he looked forward to the time of his departure with calmness and steadiness of faith, and the joy that enters into the Christian's hope. He found Christ all he needed, both as a Saviour and Comforter. After preaching three times on Sunday, he left his charge for a week's visit to the old homestead in Harford County, Md. The day previous to the time he had set to return to his work he visited his sister, who lives in the neighborhood in company with his father. When about to leave his father bade him good-bye, and remarked: "John, I am getting old and feeble, now, and may not see you again." He replied, "Father, you may outlive me," stepped back, and fell to the ground. Assistance was summoned, and they carried him to the house, where he remained unconscious for four hours. When consciousness returned he was very weak, but remained calm and peaceful, anxiously awaiting the arrival of his wife, who had been summoned to his bedside. The day previous to his death he said to his sister: "I am not afraid to die. I am ready to go, but do try to keep me alive till Mrs. M'Kindless gets here. I must see her once more before I go." She did get there in time to be with him during his last night on earth. The next morning he was much better, and seemed quite cheerful, but was soon seized with a violent pain about the heart. He looked up calmly, gave one long breath, when his spirit passed away. Brother M'Kindless was a man of intellectual ability, and became distinguished among his brethren for both comprehensiveness and clearness of thought. He gave to every subject patient and thorough investigation. His sermons abounded in apt illustrations, which made them not only attractive, but very impressive. Not faultless, nor above mistake, his virtues were so many that his brethren owe it to him and themselves to hold him in affectionate and enduring remembrance. His work is done, and he rests from his labors.

Charles J. Buck was born in Clarkstown, Pa., Dec. 25, 1852, and died August 14, 1883. He was converted to God and received on probation, Feb. 17, 1869, in the Methodist Episcopal Church, under the ministry of Rev. E. M. Chilcoat, at the age of eighteen. Being early impressed that he should preach the Gospel, he received local license in 1873, being at this time twenty years of age. In 1874 he was received on trial in the Central Pennsylvania Conference, his first appointment being Muncy Creek Circuit. In 1875 he served South Heberton Circuit, and in 1876 was junior preacher on Elysburg Circuit. Here he met his wife, Miss Anna Haas, whom he married Feb. 27, 1877. At the Conference of 1877 he was appointed to Benton Circuit, and in 1878 he served Beech Creek and Jamestown Circuits, being a part of the year on each; the years 1879–80, Kedron Circuit; 1881–82, Port Littleton; 1883, Shirleysburg, this being his last appointment. In devoting his life to the Church and to the work of the ministry, he evinced much heroism, in that he toiled cheerfully upon hardest fields with smallest pay. His work, however, was to be brief. Being strong in spirit, but weak in body, having been for several years a victim to consumption, he gradually yielded, until June last, he became totally unfitted for the work of the ministry. Two months more brought him near the close. And, when it became apparent to all that the end was near, and being so apprised by his physician, he expressed a desire to go to the home of his parents, see his friends, and from there take his departure. In this, his last request, he was gratified. Leaving Shirleysburg on Monday morning, Aug. 13, he made the trip safely, arriving at his home near Clarkstown in the evening at eight o'clock. During the night and early part of next day he was quite comfortable. But in the afternoon he began to sink; at eight o'clock in the evening he quietly passed away. His sickness was borne with great Christian fortitude and resignation. Consciousness continued with him to the last. His death was most triumphant. On Thursday, August 16, in the Cemetery of the Emanuel Lutheran Church, in Muncy Valley, we laid away to rest all that was mortal of our beloved brother, there to await the "resurrection of the just."

Elisha Butler was born June 8, 1798, and died in Tyrone, Blair County, Pa., April 5, 1883. He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1825; but how long prior is not known. Having traveled one year under the presiding elder on the old Northumberland Circuit, he was received into the Baltimore Conference in 1838. He was ordained a deacon by Bishop Waugh, March 15, 1840; and an elder by Bishop Soule, March 20, 1842; and a member successively of the Baltimore, East Baltimore, and Central Pennsylvania Conferences. His appointments were: Clearfield Circuit, Lewistown, Williamsburg, Clearfield, Concord, Warrior's Mark, Bedford, South Branch, M'Connellsburg, Hancock, Frostburg, supernumerary, 1853; Manor Hill, Birmingham, Schellsburg, Bloomingdale, Luzerne, Sunbury, Castle Fin, Sunday-school and Tract Agent, 1844–45; Port Matilda, Milesburg, Half Moon, Great Island, Hughesville, Elimsport, Beech Creek, and superannuated, March, 1878; since when he had been a resident of Tyrone, where, by strict economy, he had been able to procure for himself a comfortable home, having spent forty years in the effective ranks, save one. He was twice married. His first wife, a Miss Couser, of Milton, by whom one child is still living, Frank P. Butler, of Wisconsin. His second wife, Miss Martha Ganoe, of Huntingdon County, who survives him, with eight children, five sons and three daughters, one of the daughters, Miss Electa M., being a missionary in China. Brother Butler was a man of strong character, strong convictions, strong predilections, strict in his religious life, and it may be said, Puritanic in both doctrine and discipline. As a biblical scholar he had few equals, perhaps no superior. He could readily take up any Scripture character and give in detail all the points; and has frequently said that, if the Bible were lost, he believed that he could reproduce it from memory; if not in phraseology, at least in substance.

Lexington Conference.

D. P. Jones was born in Baltimore, Md., Feb. 4, 1806. He was admitted into the Washington Conference in 1866, and stationed at Parkersburg. He was ordained deacon and elder in 1867, and appointed presiding elder of the West Virginia District. In 1873 he was transferred to the Lexington Conference, and made presiding elder of the Lexington District. In 1875 he was placed in charge of the Louisville District. His term in this position having expired, he was returned to the pastoral work. The following year he was placed on the superannuated list, and fixed his residence at Shelbyville, Ky., where he died in the triumphs of a living faith, April 27, 1883.

Newark Conference.

Stephen K. Russell died at his residence in San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 22, 1884, in the fifty-seventh year of his age. In March, 1865, he was received into the Newark Conference. His appointments were Andover, Bayonne, and Piermont. In 1870 his health failed, and his relation was changed to supernumerary. In 1871, having improved in health, he resumed the effective work, and was stationed at Oxford in 1871-72, and at Mendham in 1873–74. In 1879, conscious that the insidious disease under which he labored was making slow but continuous advances, he was led to seek a change of climate. He directed his steps to California, where, notwithstanding the disadvantage of feeble health, for the space of three years, he constantly sought opportunities to labor for the glory of the Redeemer and the good of souls. At the Conference of 1881 he was granted a superannuate relation. On the first Sabbath of November, 1883, he preached his last sermon. During that service he took a severe cold, which continued to make inroads upon his frail constitution until it ended in his death. Not only in his work as a servant of the Church, but in all the relations of life, his Christian principles were ever conspicuous. In the pulpit he was evangelical, earnest, and impressive. In the pastorate he was pious, affectionate, diligent, and discreet. In his family he was a tender and affectionate husband, and a kind and devoted father. In social life he was warm in his attachments, kind in his disposition, intelligent in his intercourse, and refined in his manners. He has left behind him a name better than precious ointment—a name fragrant with the memory of his many virtues.

Jacob P. Dailey was born in Pittsgrove Township, N. J., Aug. 23, 1820, and died in Bethlehem, Pa., April 10, 1883. At the age of seventeen he was converted; very soon after this he became impressed that it was his duty to preach, but he was not willing to regard the impression as the voice of God, still he thought it must be his voice. His religious training and his strong faith in God at length satisfied him that the call was divine. Having reached this conclusion he resolved to place himself in the Lord's hands, fully determined to submit to his will. Shortly after this he was recommended by his class as a suitable person to preach, and the next Quarterly Conference granted him license and recommended him to the Annual Conference. In the spring of 1845 he was admitted in the New Jersey Conference and sent to New Germantown Circuit. In October, 1849, he married Miss Hannah Broadhead Linderman, eldest daughter of Dr. J. J. Linderman, who was a practicing physician living near Dingman's Ferry, Pa. Mrs. Dailey, being an intelligent and devoted Christian woman, identifying herself with all the interests of the Church, won the affections of the people in every appointment, and her consistent life and wise methods made her a blessing in all the churches where her husband was stationed. Brother Dailey had a frail constitution from his youth, therefore he could not endure the hardships incident to an itinerant's life without great care, and yet by observing the laws of health and keeping a good conscience he lived to a ripe age. His humility was very apparent. It did not show itself in a few hasty expressions of self-condemnation, easily uttered, and too easily passing current for genuine fruit. With him it was like every other principle which he embraced, strictly practical. His retiring manner, gentlemanly bearing, and pure life won for him the confidence and esteem of all who knew him. While he was at Tottenville, about one hundred were added to the Church; at Vienna, fifty; at Sandystone and Port Oram a number. He was a stanch temperance man. During his ministry he filled the following appointments: New Germantown, Asbury, Clinton, Peapack, Delaware Circuit, Fort Lee, Rome and Wantage, Sandystone, Flemington, Springfield, New Germantown the second time, Asbury the second time, Vienna, Quakertown, Flemington the second time, Woodbridge, Belleville, Port Oram, Saint Paul's, Staten Island; Little Falls, Spring Valley, Asbury, Staten Island. Thus he served in the pastorate for thirty-eight years, without an interruption. At the Conference at Philipsburg he appeared feeble, but it was his desire and expectation to continue in the work that was more dear to him than life. When the Bishop announced his name for Everettstown Charge he was not able to be present at the Conference, having been taken sick the previous Saturday, and the following Monday after the Conference adjourned he died. His last words to his wife and children, spoken in great deliberation, were, "Trust and love God; good-bye;" after which he sank quietly and peacefully into repose, in joyous expection of eternal life.

Wyoming Conference.

William H. Gavitt was born March 4, 1833, and died Dec. 21, 1883, at Centre Moreland, Pa., in the midst of his labors. Brother Gavitt was converted in 1855 and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church at Brooklyn, Pa., where he received his license to preach and recommendation to the Wyoming Conference, with which he united in 1860, and served the following charges: Gibson, Auburn, Paupac. In 1864 he enlisted in the army to assist in delivering our beloved land from the grasp of rebellion and the disaster of disunion. He was promoted to the chaplaincy of the Fifty-second Regiment of Pennsylvania Volunteers, and faithfully performed his duties till honorably discharged at the close of the war. He then returned to the regular work of the ministry, and was sent to South Danby, Hornbrook, Shepherd's Creek, Caroline, Harpersville, Green, Clifford, Sterling, and Northumberland, at the last of which he "ceased at once to work and live." Brother Gavitt was united in marriage, Oct. 2, 1865, with Mary Louisa Blakeslee. From the time Brother Gavitt returned to the pastorate, till about two weeks before his death, he did continuous and faithful work. His health, which generally had been excellent, began to weaken some months previous to his final illness, but no persuasion would induce him to omit aught of the excessive labors on one of the most laborious charges in the Conference; and in the midst of his regular work, and during the unpleasant weather of the fall and early winter, he commenced extra meetings at Beaumont and carried them forward successfully for over six weeks, with some forty conversions and a general quickening of the Church. Closing his meetings there, he was about to commence at Centre Moreland, when he was stricken down with typhoid pneumonia, and his weakened health and the overwork of the previous weeks were too much for even the vigorous constitution he had inherited, and he sank steadily and surely until the eternal shores of everlasting blessedness were gained. Brother Gavitt had many qualifications for success as a minister of the Gospel. He was a good singer, deeply pious, devoted and faithful, abundant in labors, a good pastor and an earnest preacher, and won many souls for Christ, and many here and hereafter will rise up and call him blessed.

New England Conference.

Daniel Waite was born, January, 1814, in Derby, England, and died in Brookfield, Mass., April 22, 1883. At the age of twenty he gave his heart to the Saviour, and in a Sunday-school he commenced a life of religious activity which ceased only with the pulsations of his heart. In 1840 he came to America, and, with his family, settled in Northampton, Mass. He at once commenced preaching on the Sabbath to the people of the village of Leeds, the town in which he was employed, and continued this to the pleasure and profit of the people until 1850, when he took charge of the Church in Northampton, by the request of the presiding elder. In 1851 he was admitted into the New England Conference, and received the ordination of deacon. For thirty years he moved about as an itinerant minister, securing the love of his people and the esteem of his colaborers. His last appointment was Brookfield, where he spent three years of successful labor, finished up his work, came to Conference in Boston, greeted his brethren with his usual cordial smile, and not feeling well, returned home, and in a few days "was not, for God took him." Our departed brother was a good man, and filled with the spirit of his Master. As a preacher he was earnest, forcible, persuasive, and rich in illustrations. He was a clear thinker, a strong reasoner, and frank in denouncing wrong and defending the right. His warm heart pulsated strongly for all the oppressed and down-trodden of the human family, and so he was active in every good cause. Strongly attached to the Church and people of his early choice, he was prompt in attending to all the interests committed to his care. A faithful pastor, his visits among his people were more than acceptable, securing to him the deepest sympathy and the warmest love. His faithful and affectionate wife, after a close companionship of fifty years, is left to complete her journey alone. But she will not be forgotten by the widow's God, nor lose her place in the sympathies of the Church she has so long and faithfully served.

Samuel Kelley was born in Salem, N. H., Feb. 1, 1802, and died in Quincy, Mass., Sept. 6, 1883. Between these two points in the registry of time lies a life of almost eighty-two years of activity and labor which has few parallels. He was received on probation in December, 1820, licensed as an exhorter in August following, and as a local preacher in September, 1821. Thus his great life-work was commenced, running through a period of sixty years without a break. He entered the New Market Seminary, intending to have a collegiate course, but was over persuaded to relinquish this object by the urgent call for the rapidly growing work, and was put upon a circuit. In June, 1822, he was received on trial in the New England Conference. Of this extended term of ministerial service of sixty years, only a part of one year was lost by illness. A large portion of his active life was spent in New Hampshire and Vermont, where he filled the most important charges with marked ability and success. He was interested in all the great reformatory movements of the age, and never failed to give a distinct avowal of his sentiments. He was elected delegate to the General Conference of 1836. In 1854 he was transferred to the New England Conference, and appointed city missionary in Charlestown. In 1866 and 1868 he was city missionary in Boston, and for thirteen years he has served as chaplain in the Sailor's Home in Quincy, Mass. As a body moving toward the gravitating center increases in velocity, so our venerable colaborer seemed to increase in zeal and activity as he drew near his end. While other men at fourscore are resting from their labors, or courting the quietness that seems befitting the evening hour, he was multiplying his engagements, opening new fields, arranging new enterprises, preaching three or four times on the Sabbath, visiting from house to house, leading class and prayer meetings. His end was peace and triumph. Nearly his last utterance was, "I know whom I have believed." A man of strong intellectual powers, clear perceptions, vigorous will, and tireless energy, added to fervent piety, his ministry was a great success. Having a good understanding, a reliable judgment, and knowledge of human nature, he fell into few mistakes. Without the fancy of the poet, he had a great faculty for illustrating his topics of his discourse, and of presenting the truths of the Gospel and striking the conscience of the sinner. Condescending to men of low estate, he visited the dwellings of the poor, and never leaving until after kneeling and commending each case to God. He was grave without gloominess, and cheerful without levity; a true friend, a devout Christian, a faithful pastor, and a successful minister of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. "His witness is in heaven, and his record is on high."

Randall Mitchell was born in Temple, Me., June 4, 1812, and died in South Athol, Mass., Aug. 11, 1883. By the death of his father he was called, when but fifteen years of age, to the responsibility of the family support. Aided by his two brothers and by his energetic mother, he was taught the great lessons of self-reliance and industry. When nineteen years of age he and his two brothers were converted on the same day. He was soon impressed that he must give himself to the work of the ministry, but struggled against the conviction, finding no peace until he could say, "I will go." In 1839 he joined the Maine Conference and was appointed to Woodstock. In 1841 he located, and for twelve years supplied various places under the direction of the presiding elder. In 1854 he was admitted to the New England Conference, and supplied various charges very acceptably until 1874, when, his only son dying, he removed to South Athol, where he ended his days in peace and triumph. Notwithstanding his early disadvantages, he was an able and interesting preacher of the word, and through his ministry many were brought from darkness to light. His piety was uniform and apparent; his attachment to the Church strong, and his interest in her prosperity ceased only when he ceased to breathe. Heroic to the last, he met the great foe without fear, made his own funeral arrangements, and all done, he passed within the vail and we saw him no more.

North Indiana Conference.

Ezra Maynard was born in Jefferson County, O., June 5, 1816, and died in Dunkirk, Ind., Nov. 8, 1883, in the sixty-eighth year of his age. In 1834 he joined the Methodist Episcopal Church. He was licensed to preach in 1844. In 1845 he was received into the North Indiana Conference, being ordained deacon in 1849 by Bishop Janes, and elder in 1852 by Bishop Baker. His fields of labor were Alamo, Greenfield, Decatur, Auburn, La Grange, Covington, Warren, Orland, Baubago, La Gro, and Huntington. In 1855 his health failed, and he was superannuated. He supported this relation with all cheerfulness for twenty-eight years until his death. For twelve years he engaged in mercantile pursuits. Brother Maynard was married in 1852 to Miss Letitia English, who still survives him. Ten years ago no one thought he could last another year, but he still lingered, a wonder to himself and to all who knew him. For the last year of his life he seldom slept more than a few minutes at a time, and that either sitting in his bed or his chair. In all his sufferings he was exceedingly patient, never complaining, but praising the Lord in the midst of it all. His faith was strong, and he died as he had lived, trusting in Jesus. All the summer of 1883 he grew weaker, and on the 1st of November he was taken with a chill, from which he never rallied, but passed away in a week as quietly and peacefully as a chield falling asleep. In his family he was a kind, affectionate husband, and a loving father. He was an excellent extempore preacher. He was very punctual in all his engagements, and neither rain, cold, nor storm ever prevented him from filling his appointments. As a member of the Church, he was faithful, active, and liberal, ever giving wise counsels to his pastor and holding up his hands, and aiding in all the enterprises of the Church. As a man, he was diligent, patient, meek, submissive to the divine will, conscientious, holy. He always helped the needy, and one of his most prized works was helping a Methodist preacher obtain an education.

John Ingle Payton was born in Butler County, O., June 1, 1814, and died in Champaign County, Ill., Dec. 14, 1883, in the seventieth year of his age. While he was yet a child, his parents removed to Delaware County, Ind., where he grew to manhood, and entered upon the active duties of life-work. He was converted at fifteen years of age and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. While yet a youth the Church gave him license to exhort, of which he made such active use, and showed himself so useful, that he received license to preach in 1843. He was admitted on probation in the North Indiana Conference in 1849. He was ordained a local deacon by Bishop Janes in 1847, and elder in 1853 by Bishop Ames. His appointments were as follows: Bluffton, Monmouth, Auburn, Allen, Leesburg, North Manchester, Columbia City, Bluffton, Winchester, Albany Farmland, Muncie Circuit, and Camden. In 1865 he took a superannuated relation, and removed to Henry County, Ill., where he served as supply in several charges, organizing one, which he was serving at the time of his death. In 1868 he was made effective and appointed to Warren, but the next year he returned to the superannuated ranks. He was never content to remain idle, but preached wherever and whenever he had the opportunity. The last Sabbath that he spent on earth he preached in the village of Ludlow, and administered the sacrament of the Lord's Supper. He was married to Miss Temperance Dragoo, March 23, 1837, whom he has left behind as his widow, after forty-six years of wedded life. Brother Payton's death was very sudden. Without long sickness or suffering he ceased at once to work and live. He was stricken down with apoplexy on Dec. 14 last. On that morning he appeared to be in his usual health, arose and attended to his ordinary duties on the farm. He led the family devotions for the last time, and went out into the field. About nine o'clock he came in and sat by the fire. He was suddenly taken with vomiting and dizziness, lay down, and speedily passed into the deep coma of apoplexy, from which he was never aroused, but in an hour or two "fell on sleep." Brother Payton's life is his best epitaph. It was such that there was no need of dying testimonies to assure us that he is with Jesus, whom he so faithfully preached. He was a man of ability, a good extempore preacher, exemplary in all his life, untarnished in character, and devoted to every interest of the Church. He was always faithful in all his work, and always willing and anxious to do what he could for the Master. His death seems almost like a translation. Preaching up to the last Sunday, administering the blessed emblems of redemption, he heard the voice of the Saviour calling him, and laid down the weapons of his warfare, and departed to be with Christ, "which is far better."

New York Conference.

Orrin Purdy Matthews was born July 22, 1820, in Southington, Conn., and died Feb. 9, 1884, in Bloomingburg, N. Y. He was converted when twenty-two years of age, and in 1847 entered the New York Conference, and filled successfully twenty different pastorates. To him the calling of a minister was inexpressibly sacred and responsible. The best there was in him and the most he could command by study, reading, observation, and prayer were brought under contribution to make his ministry acceptable and efficient. He had no trifling element or any indolent tendency in his nature. He was the minister at all times and in all places—dignified and thoughtful, maintaining a blameless character and spotless reputation, a pure minded, sweet-spirited man. He was genial, social, kind, and winsome in his spirit and bearing, gathering around him a large circle of admiring and loving friends. He was of commanding personal presence, with a voice of wonderful scope and flexibility. His mind was active, vigorous, and grasping. He thought for himself, and put his own individuality upon all his mental efforts. He was a preacher of more than average ability, whom the people delighted to hear. He had the courage of his convictions, was bold and fearless in denouncing sin, never shunning "to declare the whole counsel of God." His precepts and practice were never equivocal; on all great moral and reformatory questions he was pronounced and aggressive. He was a man of sterling integrity, in whom religion was all-pervading and all-controlling. His highest delight was in preaching the Gospel. His ministry was a long and useful one, receiving his best years and his best powers—thirty-seven years of solid work for God and humanity. To all who came to his bedside he made very touching and emphatic allusions to his experience and prospects, magnifying the Gospel he had preached, in its power to save, and extolling his loving Saviour. On New-year's-day he seemed absorbed in heavenly meditations. He said, "I shall have an abundant entrance." Seeing his family weeping around him, he exclaimed, as if peering through the mists and gloom that hung about them. "In that country God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes." "In my father's house are many mansions." He came like a conquering hero down to the death crossing, with a life record of faithfulness behind him, and the comforting presence of his almighty Lord with him.

William Francis Harris was born in the city of Baltimore, Md., Aug. 6, 1813, and died at his home in Germantown, on the Hudson, March 22, 1884. His father, who was in the United States Army and stationed at Fort M'Henry, removed to West Point soon after the birth of this son. Young Harris was baptized and brought up in the Protestant Episcopal Church until he reached the age of twelve, when, hearing of a revival at Fort Montgomery, in the Methodist Protestant Church, he was prompted by curiosity to visit the meetings, in company with some young friends. The result was that he was happily converted to God. As soon as opportunity offered he joined the Church on probation and was assigned to a class, scarcely knowing the nature or intent of either. Although expecting his father's displeasure, he at once told him of his conversion, and asked the privilege of setting up the family altar at their home. To his surprise his father readily consented, and the hearts of father, mother, and brothers grew tender, and ready to yield to God, which they did at a revival meeting in Cold Spring. The fire on that family altar glowed brighter, and young Harris consecrated himself fully to God, and to that which he saw would become the work of his life. Soon after this the commander of the post, with whom he was a great favorite, had him appointed to a cadetship in the West Point Military Academy, but his tastes and inclinations did not run in the direction of the arts of war. So, after the first year, he resigned and turned his attention to teaching. About this time the late Dr. Torry, of New York, meeting him, questioned him very closely in regard to his proposed course in life, and asked him if he did not feel called of God to the work of the ministry. He at once opened his heart to this friend and told him how deeply he had been exercised on the subject. He was advised to prepare himself by study for this important work. In 1835 he entered Hamilton College, from which he was graduated at the head of his class in 1839. In the spring of 1846 he joined the New York Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church. In this Church he preached and labored with great zeal and acceptability for fifteen years, and was blessed with gracious revivals at nearly every appointment. He was the last pastor of the Sullivan Street Methodist Protestant Church in New York city before it became transformed into what is now the Washington Square Methodist Episcopal Church. For reasons satisfactory to himself, he withdrew from the Methodist Protestant Church in 1857, taking with him the fraternal regard of all his brethren, and in the same year joined the New York Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and filled the following appointments: Hancock, Croton, Leeds, Windham, Hobart, Hunter, Germantown, and East Chatham. At Germantown Brother Harris was blessed with a revival the most extensive and genuine in the history of that Church. His labors in this work were beyond his endurance, and at the end of his second year in East Chatham he requested the presiding elder to ask for him a supernumerary relation. He often referred to this as the saddest day of his life. He purchased a home on the east bank of the Hudson, where, for almost eleven years, he, with beautiful Christian patience and resignation, waited for the call of God. His last sickness covered a period of five months. During most of this time he was entirely helpless. But in this crucical test of the Gospel he rested upon the atonement of Christ, and often when he thought the end was near he would whisper, "'Though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.' It is all right; it is all right. My peace is made with God." His death, like his sickness, was peaceful and beautiful. Brother Harris was a careful student, a good preacher, and a successful minister of our Lord Jesus Christ. He was married April 7, 1842, to Miss Elizabeth Cherry, of Paterson, N. J., with whom he lived most happily.

Nathan H. Bangs died in the city of New York, April 2, 1884, in the sixtieth year of his age. He had just completed the thirty-sixth year of faithful and earnest service in the cause of the Master. He reached the seat of the Conference in his usual health and spirits. On the first morning of our annual session, his daughter, at whose house he was to have been entertained during the Conference, proceeded to call him to breakfast and found him quietly reclining upon a lounge. Thinking him to be in a gentle sleep, she did not disturb his slumber, but it was "the sleep that knows no waking" until the resurrection of the just. The startling nature of the case was soon ascertained, a physician was summoned, and he at once pronounced him dead. Our dear brother was not permitted to speak of his triumph through the blood of the Lamb. There was no loving good-bye to wife and other loved ones, no fraternal message to his Conference. But if death was without a moment's warning, it was not without many years of preparation. Brother Bangs executed the office and functions of a godly minister upon the following charges, successively: Monroe, Callicoon, Liberty, Monticello, Marbletown, Wortsborough, Olive, Bloomingburg, Sugar Loaf, Woodstock, Greenfield, Highland, Putnam Valley, Coeyman's Hollow, Leeds and Sandy Plains, Union and Jackson Corners, Dover Plains, Copake, and North and West Hillsdale, where his earnest and successful ministry was so suddenly and mysteriously terminated. Brother Bangs was true to principle in all directions, and was a uniform advocate of every Christian work.

Joseph H. Wood was born at Hyde Park, N. Y., Jan. 11, 1834, and died at Liberty, N. Y., July 13, 1883, aged forty-nine years. His conversion was satisfactory, but it was supplemented by a struggle; for with the evidence of acceptance came the mandate, "Go, preach!" Though strongly drawn toward the Methodists by warmth of temperament and by the circumstances of his conversion, he nevertheless yielded to other influences, and connected himself with the Presbyterian Church, with a view to entering its ministry. In pursuing his studies he found himself unable to accept Calvinism, and well-nigh abandoned all idea of preaching the Gospel. In 1857 he was married to Emma J. Peters, who, through all the subsequent years of his active ministry was his constant companion and helper. In 1858 he left the Church of his fathers and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. He joined the New York Conference in 1860. His first appointment was Ashley Falls, where he labored faithfully and successfully for two years. In 1862 he was sent to Hartsville, but he was restless. He was not only a Christian minister, but a loyal American citizen. The April breezes of 1861 had borne to his ears tidings of treason. When at last, Sept. 18, 1862, Harper's Ferry surrendered to the Confederate forces, he said, "It is enough; I ought to go." In October he was found in uniform in the color company of the Forty-ninth Massachusetts Volunteers, and was ere long "at the front," facing the nation's foe. At Port Hudson he was one of the force of two hundred and forty men, eighty of whom were killed in a single charge. A comrade says of him, "At Port Hudson he was a wonder; now coolly holding the limb of a wounded man for amputation, now carrying the sufferers from the field, and now, in the stillness of the night, weeping over, and praying with, or comforting the dying." Returning from the war in somewhat impaired health, in 1864–65 he preached at Tyringham and South Lee. His subsequent appointments were: Germantown, New Paltz, Florida, Glasco, Liberty, Fergusonville, Gardnertown and Little Britain, Pike Pond, Shandaken, Philipsport. As a man, Brother Wood was well-balanced. Humility was prominent. This was, perhaps, the dominant characteristic of the man, and imparted to him an exquisite grace and attractiveness. He was, indeed, a true disciple of Him who made himself of no reputation, girded himself with a towel, and washed His disciples' feet. As a minister of the Lord Jesus he was thoroughly orthodox. With him conversion was the instantaneous work of the Holy Spirit. In the pulpit, after refuting the moral theory of atonement, he would exclaim: "O Bethlehem, thou canst not save me! O spotless life of Jesus, thou canst not pay my debt! but to thee I look, O precious Cross of Calvary." On Tuesday, July 11, with his companion at his side, he drove from his home at Phillipsport to Liberty, a distance of eighteen miles, to visit a former parishoner. After supper he walked from the dining-room to the parlor, entering which, his language suddenly became confused. Apoplexy had seized him, and in an unconscious condition he was carried to the lounge. At eight o'clock the next morning he passed through the gates into the city.

Jeremiah Millard was born in the town of Beekman, N. Y., Nov. 3, 1821, and died in the city of Kingston, N. Y., July 28, 1883, in the sixty-second year of his age, and in the thirty-second of his ministry in the Methodist Episcopal Church. In May, 1845, he was married to Miss Eliza Myers, of New Hackensack, N. Y. Jeremiah Millard was received as a member on trial in the New York Conference in the year 1850, and was stationed in the following churches: New Paltz, Florida, Sugar Loaf, Monroe, Montgomery, Thirtieth Street, New York city; Fishkill, Pleasantville, Brewster's, Mount Kisco, Washington Heights, New York city; Catskill, Coxsackie, Walden, and Eddyville. In the spring of 1882 he was appointed the presiding elder of the Newburg District, and while in the discharge of his duties died away from home at the house of his friend, the Rev. Elias S. Osbon. He was a man of strong sympathies, and was as quick to act as he was to feel concerning the sorrows and burdens of his brethren, and to render them any aid in his power. As a minister, he was pre-eminently a devoted and useful man, a thorough Methodist in doctrine, a good preacher, a diligent Sunday-school worker, a genuine revivalist, a loved and trusted pastor, caring for the converts, cheering the sick and afflicted, looking after the wandering sheep of the flock, seeking by personal effort to bring men into the Church, bringing out the hidden talents of the diffident and young, giving honor to the aged, and in all ways caring for the flock over which the Holy Spirit had made him the overseer. At New Paltz he organized one new society. At his next charge, Sugar Loaf, he built two new churches, one at Bellvale and one at Chester. On Monroe Circuit he procured a church at Washingtonville. On the Montgomery Circuit he enlarged the parsonage. In Thirtieth Street Church, of this city, he had a grand revival, in which several young men were converted, who are now members of this Conference. At Matteawan he built a fine new church and purchased another at Fishkill Landing, and then enlarged the parsonage. At Pleasantville he removed a heavy debt and doubled the size of the parsonage. At New Castle he harmonized conflicting elements and there built a large and beautiful church. At Washington Heights, in this city, he completed a noble church. At Cattskill he removed a most oppressive church debt. He built a parsonage at Coxsackie. At Eddyville, where we have a small society, he lifted the heavy incubus of a debt of four thousand dollars. What a magnificent record of leaving the Church better and stronger than he found it! The last year and more of his life was spent in an office and work that he greatly enjoyed. As a presiding elder, he was greatly beloved by his brethren. He was wise in counsel, careful and prudent in his administration, and was taken away before being made to pass through the fearful, searching, killing tests which are so often applied to men in this office. God gave him the high honor of falling at the post of duty, and, like a brave officer, dying in the front and lead of his regiment. His sickness was of short duration, painful in the extreme, but he was calm, cheerful, and happy to the last.

Aaron Rogers was born in Connecticut, May 28, 1808, and died at East Durham, N. Y., Aug. 13, 1883. He acquired a good education and engaged in school-teaching. While teaching at South Durham he became acquainted with and married Rebecca Rickerson, who shared his itinerant life and passed to her reward Sept. 11, 1881. His clearness of perception, pleasing address, and fervent piety early attracted the attention of devout men and women, who prayed that he might be led to consecrate himself to the ministry. At length he felt that it was his duty to preach. In 1834 he was received into New York Conference. His successive appointments were: Stockbridge and Richmond, Canaan, Egremont, Jefferson, Delhi and Bloomville, Coeyman's, John Street, Stamford, Conn.; Coeyman's second time, Durham, Catskill, Ellenville, Cairo, West Stockbridge and Richmond second time, Windham, Cairo and High Hill, Hobart, Charlotteville, Summit, Franklin, East Chatham and Red Rock, Germantown and Myersville, East Jewett, Greenburg, Harrison, New Paltz, Croton, superannuated. In 1871 he ceased to travel regularly, on account of the very poor health of his wife, but supplied places near home until stricken with paralysis, three years ago. One year he supplied Cornwallsville, where he was licensed and recommended to Conference nearly half a century before; one year Norton Hill, and one year the Presbyterian Church at West Durham. He had a peculiar style of poetic expression that was pleasing and effective. Many, among them preachers who have heard the ablest men, declare: "We never heard sermons more eloquent than those from Aaron Rogers." He was also mighty in prayer. The attendants at Conference prayer-meetings will never forget the fervency and appropriateness of his thanksgivings and supplications, or the beauty of his language. In the social meetings and at the family altar he was equally gifted. His religious experience was clear and positive. He was a faithful pastor and a successful revivalist. In most of his charges souls were happily converted. In social life he was gentle and affectionate as a child. All who knew him were glad to have him in their homes. He recovered from his first stroke of paralysis so far as to be able to go about and preach occasionally. Eight days before his death he preached very ably at the regular appointment at East Durham Methodist Episcopal Church, and attended class. He appeared to all radiant with Christian joy. Four days later he was again stricken with paralysis. He seemed free from pain, and, with mind clear, seemed passing to everlasting day. He had often said, "I expect to live forever," and none doubted that "death was swallowed up in victory."

Maine Conference.

Charles Andrews was born in Berwick, Me., Oct. 23, 1811. He says: "My mother's godly counsel was the first thing I remember to have made a lasting impression on my mind, and I should have been a Christian in childhood, but the impression was that I was too young, and I was not converted till I was between seventeen and eighteen." At this time he was at Great Falls, N. H., where he became acquainted with the Methodists (his parents were Congregationalists) and went with them to a camp-meeting held at Kittery, Me., in September, 1829, seventeen miles from Great Falls. He walked to and from the camp-meeting, at which he and about two hundred others were converted. He says: "In twenty-four hours after I was converted I felt that it would be my duty to preach the Gospel. I tried to suppress the feeling, but it ripened into a conviction." After this he availed himself of all means within his power to acquire an education and prepare for the work to which he felt the Lord had called him. In the fall of 1832 he went to Kent's Hill Seminary, and remained there five years. In 1838 he joined the Maine Conference, and was appointed to Argyle. The next year he and Brother Lufkin were sent to Houlton, where over one hundred souls were converted. At the close of this year he was united in marriage to Margaret Hitchings, in Robinston. He was ordained deacon in 1840 at the Conference held at Kent's Hill, and elder in Bath, in 1842, by Bishop Hedding. He sustained an effective relation to the Conference for forty consecutive years, never being laid aside by sickness, though much of the time in feeble health. His courage never failed, and his desire to labor for the cause of God seemed to lift him above his infirmities of body. During the forty years he filled twenty-five different appointments, on all of which he saw good results from his labors, and on many of them a large number of souls converted. Through the long, weary months of his last sickness he was remarkably patient and submissive, always saying, "The will of the Lord be done."

Francis Asbury Robinson was born in Sidney, Me., Dec. 22, 1827, and died in Deering, Jan. 27, 1884, aged fifty-six years. He was gratuated at the Wesleyan University, in the class of 1849. He joined the Maine Conference, and was stationed in 1854 at Wilton, and in 1855 at Skowhegan. In 1850 he was elected professor in Maine Wesleyan Seminary and Female College, which place he left to fill the above appointments, and to which he returned after them. In 1871 he was elected to a professorship in Pennsylvania State Agricultural College; was obliged to resign after three years on account of ill-health, recovering from which he accepted the position of principal of the Young Ladies' Seminary, in Goshen, N. Y., where he remained two years. Then followed a severe illness, which compelled him to give up all hopes of future work, and he returned to Kent's Hill. Here he so far recovered that in a few years he accepted a professorship in the seminary, and retained it until the last commencement, when he resigned and accepted an appointment in the Custom-house in Portland. He represented his town in the last State Legislature. All of the above positions he filled with great acceptance. He was a genial, warm-hearted, noble man. His death was a triumphant one, which occurred on Sabbath afternoon, soon after partaking of the sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

Thomas Hillman entered upon the work of the ministry in the Maine Conference in 1849. His fields of labor were: Bartlett, N. H.; Penn, North Paris, East Poland, Lisbon, Livermore, Newry and Andover, Paris and Woodstock, Ogunquit, North Augusta, Bethel, and Rumford. He was several times, for brief periods, supernumerary or superannuated, and, at the Conference of 1883, retired finally from active service. Brother Hillman was a spiritually minded man, diligent in his work, a good preacher, a successful minister of the Lord Jesus. He was outspoken in the pulpit, sending home to the hearts of men the truths of God. Revivals generally attended his labors, many being through his instrumentality converted to God. About a year before his death a slight paralysis affected unfavorably his already failing health; and in June and July, 1883, repeated attacks of hemorrhage of the lungs brought him very low, resulting in his release on the 3d of August following. As he approached the river's brink he found ample support in the truths which he had preached. "All is well," he said; "a crown of life awaits me." To his wife he said, "One of us must go a little way alone." He trusted fully in Jesus, who gave him great victory in his dying hour. A large congregation gathered with sad hearts and tearful eyes around his remains, testifying to the esteem and love with which they regarded him.

E. H. M'Kenney, a superannuate member of the Maine Conference, was born in Maine, Oct. 23, 1841, and died at Saugus, Mass., Feb. 17, 1884. He was converted to God when twenty-five years of age, and the year following, (1867,) having heard within his soul the divine whisper, "Go, preach," he joined the Maine Conference, and was stationed at Cape Elizabeth, Shapleigh and Acton, South Elliott, and West Falmouth. Losing his health in 1873, he took a superannuate relation, and removed to Lynn, Mass., where he was brought through sickness very near to death, but, partially recovering, he went to work anew for the Master, and royally served the Church and the cause he loved for a number of years. He organized a society and built a church at Saugus, serving this people the full term of three years. He also supplied at Essex, and his last appointment was to Wilmington, where he gathered a class and organized a society, which has recently dedicated a church. Brother M'Kenney was a holy man and a successful minister; all respected him, many loved him. His last sickness was severe, but the end was a joyous victory.

Daniel Waterhouse was born in Bowdoinham, Me., of Christian parents, Feb. 10, 1813. He was converted at the age of sixteen in a prayer-meeting in his father's house. He was licensed as a local preacher Nov. 12, 1831. In 1839 he was employed under the presiding elder on Shapleigh Circuit. In 1840 he was recommended from Shapleigh Circuit to Maine Conference, which held its session at Kent's Hill, and was received on trial and appointed to Shapleigh, Cumberland, Harrison and Naples, Bethel, South Paris, Cornish, Durham, Livermore, Phillips, Waterville, and Kendall Mills. Here his health failed, and, at the Conference of 1854, he took a supernumerary relation. In 1855 his relation was changed to effective, and he was appointed to West Kennebunk, Hollis, Standish, Elliott, Lovell and Stow, Fairfield, Solon, Industry, Fayette, Mechanic Falls, Monmouth, Yarmouth, and Conway. In 1883 he received his appointment to Newfield. Here he had purchased a nice little home in which to spend the evening of his life. But God saw otherwise. He had preached but once or twice on his new charge when he was prostrated by sickness, and in about two weeks he went to his home above after a ministry in the Maine Conference of forty-two years. Brother Waterhouse was ordained deacon at Gardiner by Bishop Waugh in 1842, and elder by Bishop Hedding, at Bangor, in 1844. He was married to Abbie C. Ayer, of Newfield, April 14, 1842. She was a helpmeet, indeed, to him, to whose hearty and active co operation in his work may be attributed no small share of his success. Brother Waterhouse was a man of deep piety, of sterling integrity, and great faithfulness as a minister of the Lord Jesus. He was a clear and earnest preacher, and God made him instrumental of saving souls.

C. C. Coville, a superannuated preacher of the Maine Conference, died at Pownal, July 1, 1883, aged seventy-two years. Brother Coville was born at Woolwich, Jan. 28, 1811. When about twenty years old he was converted to God, and ever afterward gave evidence of his adoption into Christ's spiritual family. Having served some time as a local preacher, he was received as a member of the Maine Conference in 1842, and stationed at Phippsburg. His subsequent appointments were: Biddeford, Newfield, Porter, Cape Elizabeth, Scarborough, Phippsburg, Poland, and Pownal. In 1855 his feeble health compelled him to take a superannuated relation. He continued to reside at North Pownal for twenty-eight years. Though of feeble physical form, he was respected for his mental power, his unaffected piety, his amiable disposition, and his irreproachable Christian character. As a preacher, he was faithful in his ministrations, and original in his methods of presenting and illustrating the Gospel, while he always continued loyal in his attachment to the doctrines and polity of the Church. After his superannuation he was a great help to the preacher in charge by his sympathy, counsel, and co-operation; and the Church and North Pownal will miss his presence, his labors, and the support he so generously contributed.

Vermont Conference.

A. S. Cooper was born in Westfield, Mass., August, 1807, and died at Williston, Vt., Jan. 21, 1884. He was converted April 17, 1826, was licensed to exhort in October, 1828, by Elbert Osborn, was licensed to preach April 10, 1830, by Laban Clark, and was admitted on trial in the New York Conference in June, 1830. During his ministry he labored in Connecticut, Massachusetts, New York, and Vermont. When the Troy Conference was organized in 1832, he was within its bounds, and remained a member of that body till 1860, when, with Western Vermont, he was transferred to the Vermont Conference. He was effective twenty-six years, and a supply two and a quarter years of the twenty-seven he held a superannuated relation. Some powerful revivals occurred under his labors. At one time in his early ministry he had about three hundred conversions in one year. On another charge he reported one hundred converts. He was a good preacher and a faithful minister of Jesus.

Daniel Field was born in Springfield, Vt., Oct. 13, 1805. From his native town he entered the work of the itinerancy in 1831, and for nineteen consecutive years filled faithfully the appointments given him. From 1850 to 1855 he sustained local relations, but again entered the effective ranks and continued there for thirteen years. The later years of his life he spent with his family on a farm in Williamstown. Brother Field was a man of many rare gifts. With a clear apprehension of God's word, and an understanding of the Christian life, he was able, by striking illustrations, and unique presentation of the truth, to stir the conscience and move the heart. He had a sure instinct, leading him to detect the weak point of an argument, and he was able to reveal that weakness with the suddenness of the lightning flashes. Against every form of hypocrisy and unrighteousness he could use a sarcasm at once withering and stunning. His power in prayer was often marvelous, and his genial, devout, loyal disposition made his presence a benediction, even after his active ministry ended. From a life of almost continuous bodily weakness he found release on the morning of May 20, 1883. "His works do follow him." May great grace rest upon the bereaved widow and children.

Amasa G. Button was born in Tunbridge, Vt., Oct. 19, 1814, and died at Evanston, Ill., Jan. 23, 1884. At the age of seventeen he was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church. In 1834 he was licensed to preach, and at once entered upon work on the Chelsea Circuit. In June, 1835, he joined the New Hampshire Conference. Nine years later, when the Conference was divided, his lot fell in the Vermont Conference, of which he remained a member to the time of his death. In his ministry of nearly forty years in the effective relation, he filled many of the most important appointments in the Conference, and was its secretary for six years. In 1838, he was married to Miss Lucinda Johnson, with whom he lived in happy companionship for almost half a century, and whose kind ministrations attended him till his end came. As a preacher, Brother Button was a man of fine ability. He was popular, but in no vain sense of that word. He seemed to regard the Gospel too important, and the preaching of the cross of Christ too sacred, to allow him to descend to any thing low or uncomely. The following appointments, in the order named, embraced the charges he served. In 1835 he was appointed to West Windsor Circuit, which included the towns of Windsor, Weathersfield, Reading, and Plymouth. After this, Chelsea Circuit. Then Perkinsville, where his labors were blessed with a gracious revival. His next appointment was Woodstock. Here about one hundred conversions were reported, seventy were baptized and received on probation. Barnard, Hanover, N. H., and again he returned to Chelsea, Vt. After this he was stationed at Montpelier, Northfield, Peacham, Danville, Saint Johnsbury, Lyndan, M'Indoe's Falls, Fairlee and North Thetford, Newbury, and West Newbury. In 1866 he was seminary agent. After this he was appointed to South Royalton, and lastly to Brattleborough. Here his labors as a pastor closed. In 1872 he was admonished by failing health that his work was nearly done, and he removed to Evanston, Ill., where he chose to spend his declining years and whence he entered into rest. Brother Button leaves a wife and one daughter. In the final disposition of his estate he generously remembered the Vermont Conference Seminary, the Preachers' Aid Society, and the Church Extension Society.

Daniel A. Mack was born in Plainfield, Vt., June 4, 1825, and died at the New Hampshire Orphans' Home, in Franklin, N. H., Dec. 1, 1883, aged fifty-eight years. His early history, ministerial life, army service, and efforts in behalf of the Orphans' Home, have given him prominence in society, and entitled his memory to our kindest regards. He was left an orphan when seven years old, from which time he was chiefly dependent on his own efforts. At the age of seventeen his religious life and experience began. Soon after this he was baptized and received into the Methodist Episcopal Church. He attended school at the old Newbury Seminary, after which he studied for the ministry at the Methodist General Biblical Institute, then located at Concord, N. H. Here he was licensed as a local preacher in 1847, and united with the Vermont Conference in 1850. He was ordained deacon at Northfield in 1852, and elder at Brattleborough, Vt., in 1857. After serving as pastor of several churches he was appointed chaplain of the Third Vermont Infantry in 1862. He served as chaplain about four years, and rendered excellent service both in camp and on the field of battle with his comrades, the living and the dying. After the close of the war he returned to his work as pastor in the Conference, but after a few pastoral charges, including East Barnard and Royalton, he engaged in establishing the Orphans' Home, of which mention has been made as the place of his death. Oct. 9, 1850, he united in marriage with Anna R. Robie, who survives him, having with intelligence and activity been an efficient helpmeet in his work.

G. C. Thomas.—[Obituary not received.]

Northern New York Conference.

H. O. Tilden was born in the town of Moira, N. Y., in 1811, and died at his home in North Lawrence, N. Y., May 12, 1883. He was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church at the age of seventeen. In 1835 he resolved to devote himself to the work of the ministry, and took work on Hopkinton Circuit. He joined the Black River Conference in 1837 on trial, and served Hammond Charge. In 1838 he was sent to the Louisville Charge, and the following year he was received into full connection. His fields of labor were as follows: Chateaugay, Natural Bridge, Teresa, De Kalb, Watson, Martinsburg, Black River, Pamelia, Ellisburg, Depauville, Rodman, Henderson, Black River again, Alexandria, Lawrence, Philadelphia, Rennsalaer Falls, Hammond, South Canton, Nicholville, Dickinson, Constable. Brother Tilden spent forty-three years in the effective ranks. He was a good man, thoroughly conscientious, and devoted to his work. Every interest of the Church committed to his care was faithfully looked after. He was an able and acceptable preacher, and attended faithfully to his duties. At times he was most powerful in prayer.

Rufus E. King was born in the town of Lempster, N. H., April 10, 1811, and was a little over seventy-two years of age at his death. In 1838 he was employed by Rev. W. S. Bowdish, presiding elder, on the Chateaugay Circuit, with Allen Castle preacher in charge. In 1839 he labored on the same circuit, with H. O. Tilden in charge. In 1840 he was employed by Rev. Louis Whitcomb, presiding elder, on the Bombay Circuit. In 1841 he joined the Black River Conference. In this relation he has faithfully served the following charges: Bucks Bridge, Norfolk, West Stockholm, Bombay, Moira, Saint Regis Indian Mission, Martinsburg, Copenhagen, North Potsdam, Nicholville, Brasher, Colton and Coxes Mills, Louisville, Ellsworth, supernumerary. In 1871 he was made effective and appointed to Ellsworth, and afterward served West Stockholm, Moira, and Norfolk for a second term. From this time to his death he sustained a superannuated relation. His home being at Hannawa Falls, he served the people of that community by preaching every Sabbath, holding prayer-meetings, visiting the sick, and burying their dead. Brother King was an able minister of the New Testament. He came upon the stage when the country was new and the people poor. The opportunities for education were limited. These he improved in the common school so as to be quite proficient in the various branches of an English education. Blessed with a retentive and well-trained memory, stored with a thorough knowledge of the Scriptures, he was skillful in handling the word of life. His manner of preaching was extempore. He was systematic in arrangement, earnest, clear, and forcible in delivery. His thoughts were expressed with great fluency, often surprising his hearers in the use of qualifying terms in which the same idea was presented in a variety of ways. His pulpit ministrations were attended with a divine influence that carried the truth home to the hearts of his hearers. Brother King was married three times—Dec. 3, 1833, to Miss Mary Gibs, whose son Charles left home many years ago, and is living in the West; Dec. 7, 1841, to Miss Harriett E. Cornish, whose two sons were present to witness the closing scenes of the few days in which the mortal life of their father went out; May 2, 1853, to Miss Angeline J. Prentice, who survives him in very feeble health. Her eldest son, a promising young man, died a few years ago. The youngest son, who takes the name of his father, joined the Northern New York Conference at its last session.

E. E. Kellogg was born in the town of Turin, N. Y., April 1, 1828. Brother Kellogg's conversion was remarkably clear. His subsequent call to the Christian ministry was also undoubted and positive. Having completed his preparatory studies he entered the Concord Biblical Institute in the year 1852. Immediately after he was graduated he served as "supply" at the Embargo Street Church, Rome, N. Y., for a portion of a year. In June, 1856, he was admitted on trial into the old Black River Conference, at its session in Syracuse. The charges served by this faithful minister were as follows: Evans' Mills, Gouverneur, Madrid, Cape Vincent, Black River, Carthage, Madrid second term, Antwerp, agency of Ives Seminary, Fort Covington, Massena, Morristown, Plessis, and Mannsville—fourteen in all—commencing in 1856 and closing in 1883: twenty-seven years of loyal, loving labor. Though never robust, yet by painstaking care Brother Kellogg endured the strain imposed by laborious charges. While stationed at Morristown indications of physical weakness were ominously manifest, but the servant of God faithfully and uncomplainingly kept at his post. At Plessis the disease assumed an active type, and only through strong will power, and often in bodily distress, did he meet his ministerial duties and complete his pastorate. At the session of Conference in State Street Church, Watertown, in April last, Brother Kellogg asked what was unusual in him, the favor of a light charge, where the traveling would be trifling and the membership compact. Little did our ascended friend suppose that at Mannsville, the appointment which so happily met his wishes, he would "cease at once to work and live." Here, his last charge, he was heartily welcomed as sent of God. His work opened auspiciously, and the prospect of immediate success seemed most flattering. But four months of service proved that the duties of his office taxed his little strength beyond endurance. The closing days of this godly minister were memorable. No anxiety for his personal safety agitated his soul. No temptations annoyed his mind. His dying experiences gave no encouragement to doubt. The testimonies he gave to the presence and power of Jesus were striking and joyous. Brother Kellogg had a deep and clear religious experience. Communion with God was the habit of his soul. Conscientious to the last degree, his vows as a Christian and a minister were ever before his mind. Genial in manner, gentle in spirit, and generous in sympathy, he invariably succeeded as a pastor of the people. His "preaching was not in enticing words of man's wisdom." He studied to build up the churches committed to his care. A pure character, a loyal Methodist, a loving friend, an affectionate husband and tender father was he.

Joseph O. Gifford was born in Spafford, Onondaga County, N. Y., Aug. 4, 1824, and died at Knoxborough, N. Y., Nov. 17, 1883. He was converted in June, 1854. He joined the Oneida Conference on probation in the spring of 1860, and was stationed at Ludlowville. He was ordained deacon, April 20, 1862, by Bishop Ames, and elder by Bishop Scott, April 10, 1864. Owing to changes in Conference boundaries he has been connected with the Oneida, Black River, Central New York, Troy, and Northern New York Conferences. He served with great acceptability the following charges: Ludlowville, Nelson, Jamesville, Pompey Hill, East Hamilton, Earlville, Vienna, Sprout Brook, Brookfield, and Knoxborough, which proved to be his last charge, making in all nineteen and one half years of effective service in the ministry. He was an earnest and efficient preacher, a good pastor, and was very acceptable on all his charges. His address was attractive and pleasing, which made him an agreeable associate and friend. He preached his last sermon, Oct. 1, 1883, at the funeral of one of the members of his church, and was soon after prostrated with a fever, which continued for six weeks, from which he had not strength to rally. His funeral was attended at Knoxborough, N. Y., at which there was a large attendance of the people of his charge, who deeply mourn the loss of a beloved pastor.

Raslus O. Beebe was born in Hamilton, N. Y., July 4, 1815, and died at his home in Ohio, N. Y., March 8, 1884. The death of Brother Beebe was very sudden and unexpected, caused by paralysis of the heart, and his short illness was painful and distressing. Brother Beebe was converted in January, 1835, and from that time his whole study was how to do good and save souls. In May, 1839, he was married to Miss Maria Tenbrook, of Edmeston, N. Y., with whom he lived happily until his death. They were the parents of three children, two of whom died in early life. He began his ministry in 1847, and served two years under the presiding elder. In 1849 he joined the Oneida Conference, and two years later was admitted to full membership. He served the following charges: Decatur, Richmondville, Vermont Centre, Broadfield, Litchfield, M'Donough and Smithville Mission, Masonville, King's Settlement, Triangle, Harford, Summer Hill, Freetown, North Pitcher, Lafayette, Jamesville and Reservation, Central Square, Stirling, Amboy, North Western, New Bremen, Florence, Oswego Centre, and Ohio. In April, 1882, on account of failing health, he took a superannuated relation and purchased a home in Ohio for a little well-earned rest. As a preacher, he was sound in doctrine, earnest, devoted, spiritual, and scriptural. He was a man of great faith and power in prayer. His wife was a true helpmate in his work, and many will rise up to call them blessed. His funeral services were attended at the church in Ohio, and his mortal remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at that place.

Josiah Fletcher was born in Bingham, Me., July 21, 1833, and died May 7, 1883. He was converted in 1850, under the labors of Rev. Theodore Hill, received license to preach in 1853, supplied East Readfield in 1856, entered the Theological School at Concord in 1857, and was graduated. In 1860 he was married to Miss Sarah M. Taylor, joined the East Maine Conference, and served successively the following charges: Rockport, Damariscotta, Wiscasset, Ellsworth, Orrington, Castine, and Waldoborough. In 1869 he was transferred to Maine Conference, and appointed to Vienna Circuit; and was next stationed at Mechanic Falls. In 1872 he was transferred to the Black River Conference, and continued in the itinerant service until his health failed in 1876, when he was superannuated. He soon after returned with his family to East Readfield, Me., the home of his wife's parents. After his retirement from the effective ranks, he labored with zeal and industry, against great disadvantages, in such employment as he could perform, to obtain the necessaries of life and educate his children. The same patience and persistence manifested in preparing for and prosecuting the work of the ministry, now characterized his efforts in these days of privation, toil, and suffering. Brother Fletcher was a man of good natural ability; a Christian, with a clear, deep, and positive religious experience; and a preacher of thought, argument, and unction. If his manner in the pulpit was not attractive, he could arrest and hold the attention of his hearers by the clearness, force, and spiritual power with which he presented the sublime and glorious truths of the blessed Gospel. His consecrated and holy life enforced his public teachings, and still remain a legacy to his family and the Church.

New York East Conference.

Ira Abbott was born in Middlebury, Conn., May 22, 1812, and died in the house of his birth, April 15, 1883. In 1839 he joined the New York Conference. At the division of the Conference he became a member of the New York East Conference, and remained an active member till 1875, and a superannuated member until his death. Thirty-six years of active ministerial labor were given the Church as a member of the Conference, filling the following appointments: Hamden, Essex, Cheshire, Fair Haven, Westport and Wilton, Easton, Waterbury, Ridgefield, Flushing, Patchogue, Hempstead, New Milford, Southbury, Farmington, Cheshire, Bloomfield, Essex, Middlebury, Bethlehem, Cornwall Bridge and Ellsworth, Georgetown.

John L. Gilder was born Aug. 8, 1816. A child of pious parents, and trained from infancy in prayer and faith, he became himself in early youth a subject of renewing grace. He was licensed to exhort Oct. 1, 1828; as local preacher, July 30, 1829; and was received into the traveling ministry in Philadelphia Conference in 1829, and his Conference assignments for four and fifty years were as follows: Freehold Circuit, Newark, Somerset Mission, Asbury, Pennington, Bordentown, Flushing, Brooklyn, York Street; New York, Allen Street; Sag Harbor, Bridgeport, Middletown, New York, Madison Street; Newburg, Redding, Brooklyn, York Street the second term; Hempstead, Flushing Female College, New Canaan, Principal of Church Hill Institute, New Canaan; supernumerary, Principal of Riverdale Institute, supernumerary, Bronxdale and Olinville, South Harlem, New York; Brooklyn, York Street the third term; New York, Seventh Street; Glen Cove, L. I.; Flatlands, L. I.; Brooklyn, Carroll Park. He was married to Miss Emma Holden in 1832, who survives him. He was blessed with four sons and eight daughters; and his house was one of the cheeriest spots on earth. His golden wedding was joyously celebrated, and he and his family were generously remembered by choice and valuable gifts. His religious experiences were deep and pure. He was valiant in defense of our well-established doctrines, and while progressive in all his views of polity and discipline, always looked with disfavor and distrust upon new experiments in doctrine and new methods for evolving experience. He lived in daily communion with God, as the result of continuous consecration, and so needed no momentary preparation for dying. On the Sunday night before he left us he was heard to say, "Sudden death would be sudden glory," and so, two days later, he realized it.

Siegfried Kristeller was born of Jewish parents in Wollestein, Prussia, June 28, 1836. He received his rudimentary education in the high-school of his native town, and had, at that time, made very commendable proficiency in the German, Latin, Hebrew, and Swedish languages. He was trained in the strictest form of Judaism. At the age of thirteen years he was confirmed, and set to the hard duties of a Talmudic student, with the view of his becoming a teacher and reader in the synagogue. About the same time he was apprenticed to a mechanical trade. This has ever been the custom with the youth of the orthodox school who are to be set apart as religious teachers in Israel. The saying of a celebrated rabbi with regard to this conformity is held in much esteem: "He that does not learn to work with his hands, may learn to beg with his tongue." At the age of nineteen years he left his native land and came to this country. The sequel showed that Israel's God was with him, and had directed the steps of the lonely emigrant. He soon became acquainted with a truly Christian family, and through its influence the young Israelite began the study of the New Testament. For a year he continued his investigations into the claims of Jesus Christ as the Jews'

Messiah, encouraged in his pursuit, in no small degree, by the godly lives of the family who were deeply interested in his conversion. Thus struggling against prejudice, combating error, and awakening to the condition of his sinfulness, he gradually advanced into the light of a clear conviction. At this time he frequently broke into tears, saying: "While I believe in Jesus as the Messiah, I suffer greatly for the grief that I know my parents will be plunged into should I become a Christian." About this time he accepted the invitation of a member of the family referred to, to visit Martha's Vineyard camp-meeting. The following day was one of severe conflict. He says: "I had a struggle through the day, urged by the good Spirit to purchase my ticket for the camp-meeting, while the bad spirit attempted to prevent me." He knew that if he accepted Christ it must be to "suffer the loss of all things," literally to give up father and mother, brothers and sisters, and become an outcast from the communion and fellowship of Israel. The God of Abraham "met him there," and revealed to him the Christ "of whom Moses in the law and the prophets did write;" his heart was made to rejoice. He knew that the one only sacrifice had availed for him, and his lips gave forth the joyful testimony, "Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God." On Aug. 24, 1857, Brother Kristeller was baptized at the camp-meeting, in the presence of thousands, by the Rev. Moses Chase, of the Providence Conference. Soon after his conversion came his divine call to preach the Gospel. But what struggles must be encountered? what difficulties must be overcome? Without pecuniary means, with a very imperfect knowledge of the English language, discarded by parents, and cast out of the synagogue as an apostate by his Jewish friends, and to be henceforth regarded as dead and lost! But grace conquered, faith removed mountains, his strong conviction of the divine call made him to be courageous and successful over all obstacles. Brother Kristeller took his preliminary course of study in the East Greenwich Academy, and in 1865 was graduated at the Wesleyan University, Middletown. In 1868 he was married to Miss Louisa H. Skotzky, a convert from Judaism, who, with their three children, survive him. In 1869 Brother Kristeller joined the New York East Conference. His appointments were as follows: High Ridge, Fireplace and Bellport, Sayville and Blue Point, New Bridge and Seaford, Smithtown Circuit, Bethlehem, Cooper Hill, Cook Street, Brooklyn. Brother Kristeller did good and effective work for the Church. In all his appointments he had revivals, and some of them were of a very remarkable character. In the early part of 1883, and while serving the Church in Cook Street, he was seized with a severe sickness, which developed into hasty consumption. On Sept. 25, of the same year, in the midst of his years and usefulness, he was suddenly summoned to cross over to the promised land, and enter into the rest that remains for the people of God.

Charles Edward Glover was born at Orient, L. I., July 5, 1831. In 1856 he received license to exhort, and soon after, in the same year, local preacher's license was given him; and after closing his studies at the seminary, he commenced his ministry by preaching for several months in Miss Garrettson's chapel at Rhinebeck, on the Hudson. He entered the Biblical Institute at Concord, N. H., in 1857; was graduated in 1859, and was accepted as a probationer in this Conference, at its annual session in New Haven, in April of the same year. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Ames in 1861, and elder by Bishop Baker two years later. His appointments were as follows: Amityville and New Bridge, First Place, Brooklyn; Johnson Street, Brooklyn; Saint John Street, New Haven; Hartford, Nostrand Avenue, Brooklyn; Greenwich, Hempstead, Twenty-seventh Street, New York; Rye. In all of these, except two, he remained the full term admissible by Methodist law, and in all he was successful. In the best sense he could not be otherwise than successful, for he was a discreet, diligent, faithful, fearless minister of Christ. In a very few instances the list of names of members did not increase under his administration; but plethoric church records were first converted to truth and honesty, and the conversion of souls usually followed. He was not in any special sense a revivalist, though as a soul-winner his success was above that of the average of his brethren. During the first year on his first charge he received ninety probationers. While serving the Asylum Street Church, Hartford, one hundred and five of his members, with his cordial co-operation, separated from the parent body and organized the South Park Methodist Episcopal Church in that city, and yet, at the end of his term of three years, he reported a larger number than he found at the beginning of his pastorate. At Nostrand Avenue and other charges, and especially at Hempstead, his ministry was honored of God by large accessions to the membership. As a pastor, he was sympathetic, bearing in his own heart the burdens of the sick and poor, wise and discriminating in counsel, and when occasion required he administered reproof with fidelity. In his administration of church affairs, while he never interfered with the functions of official men, yet no interest escaped his attention, and every department received impetus from his energetic and vitalizing touch. The inspiration of his entire ministry was an unaffected and ever-urgent desire to honor God by doing good to men, and he allowed nothing to stand in the way of this consummation. He greatly loved his brethren, and no one ever more enjoyed the sessions of the Conference than he. When corresponding with the Biographical Secretary of the Conference, two or three years ago, he said, with a playful seriousness that was characteristic: "When you biographical fellows come along I begin to feel old, but it only brings me nearer translation. All is well. Heaven will be sweeter because the New York East Conference is to be there." The translation came sooner than was anticipated. Brother Glover was physically vigorous and very active, but had allowed his nervous system to be overstrained; and on Sunday, Sept. 9, after preaching in the morning, with unusual unction and enjoyment, upon Psalm cxii, 4, "Unto the upright there ariseth light in the darkness"—a text which would almost seem to have been taken in the spirit of prophecy—he went home, and was immediately prostrated by violent illness. He rallied sufficiently to attend a portion of the Sunday-school service for which he was responsible, and this was his last work. He passed away on Oct. 2. His funeral was attended from among his beloved people at the church in Rye, and a large number of his brethren in the ministry, and also representatives from the membership of many of his former charges, attested their high appreciation of his virtues and his work by their attendance and tokens of grief.

William Gothard was born at Lowden, Nottinghamshire, England, June 16, 1809, and died in the city of Brooklyn, Nov. 9, 1883. He was converted in the fall of 1826 at Hucknall, in Nottinghamshire, and was licensed to preach at Mansfield by the Quarterly Conference of the Primitive Methodist Church in 1829. He came to this country in 1836; was received into the New York Conference in 1837. He intended to come in the ill-fated "Bristol," that was lost off the coast of Long Island, and actually took passage, but was persuaded by his friends in Liverpool to wait for the next ship. He always considered the circumstance as a special providence. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Hedding in 1839, and elder in 1841 by the same Bishop. His successive appointments were; Stamford and Pound Ridge, Stockport, Lee, Pine Plains, Rye and New Rochelle, New York city, Jane Street; Birmingham, Brooklyn, Franklin Avenue; Smithtown, West Hampton and Moriches, Greenpoint, Flatbush, Rockville Centre, Northport and Centreport; Cold Spring, Woodbury, and West Hills; Islip and Babylon; Newtown, Middle Village, and Maspeth; Upper New Rochelle, Pound Ridge and Selleck's Corner, Cypress Hills. He superannuated in 1875, and resided in Brooklyn, in connection with the South Third Street Church, greatly beloved by all. Brother Gothard was a preacher of more than average ability, and made a correct and appropriate use of the Scriptures a specialty. At times he was carried away by his theme, and seemed utterly forgetful of all surroundings, and would rouse his audience to great excitement. Yet he was always practical, simple, strictly Methodistic in his presentation of divine truth. Many converted in his revival efforts live to bless his memory. Gradually he wasted away until the poor body was reduced to a mere shadow of his former self. There was no special disease, but a slow decay, until the flickering spark of life went out. Just before his departure, his family, according to a request made two weeks before, gathered at his bedside, and sobbingly sung, "O how sweet it will be in that beautiful land," etc. His lips moved, but no sound escaped them. A heavenly smile played on his features; then the pleasant farewell look upon his four daughters; then the upward gaze, as if a new vision appeared; then the spirit escaped without sigh or struggle. So passed away one of the saintliest members of the New York East Conference.

Zachariah Davenport was born in London, England, March 1, 1803. He died at Saugatuck, Conn., Dec. 20, 1883. When but a child, passing a Methodist chapel, he was attracted by the singing, and ventured in. Here religious impressions were made that were never effaced. His convictions and desires for a better life were increased by attendance upon the Sunday-school, where he found the help that had been denied him at home. "To the Sunday-school, under God," he said, "I owe every thing. By its agency I am what I am. Here I learned to read. I was not for a day in any other school." Among the men to whose preaching he listened were Adam Clarke, Richard Watson, Robert Newton, Richard Waddy, and Joseph Benson. He was converted under a sermon by the latter, from "Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me?" The new spiritual life then received so quickened his mental powers, that, with only limited opportunities, amid daily toils, he made such progress, that, though at fifteen he could not read the Gospel of John in his native tongue, at twenty-five he could, with ease, read it in the original. As the only hope of saving a life seriously threatened by disease, he sailed for this country in 1832. The long voyage of nine weeks completely restored his health. He was licensed to preach by the Greene Street Quarterly Conference, New York, in 1833; admitted to the New York Conference in 1834; ordained deacon by Bishop Hedding in 1836, and elder by Bishop James O. Andrew in 1838. His successive fields of labor were White Plains, Stamford, Southhold and Cutchogue, Patchogue, Huntington South and Islip, New Milford, Westport, Yorkville and Forty-first Street, New York, Smithtown, Moriches, Clinton, Westport and Saugatuck. A fall from his wagon while at Clinton had caused injuries from which he never recovered. Through continued suffering, however, he persevered in his work till 1856, when increasing infirmities compelled him to superannuate. As strength permitted he subsequently filled temporary vacancies at Wilton and Southport. Brother Davenport had a natural dignity, a sympathetic heart, and a courteous demeanor, that won the esteem of all with whom he came in contact. No one heard from his lips an unkind word. In the pulpit his dignity and urbanity commanded the respectful attention of the most careless and vicious.

John S. Inskip died at Ocean Grove, N. J., March 7, 1884, aged 68. He was born in Huntington, England, in 1816, and came to this country in 1820. Brother Inskip was converted in his fourteenth year, under the ministry of Rev. Levi Scott, and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church. In 1836 he joined the Philadelphia Conference, and was appointed to the Cecil Circuit, where he became acquainted with Miss Martha J. Foster, to whom he was married in November of the same year. Speaking of his wife, he said: "Under God, more than to any one else, I owe to her my ministerial success, as well as my domestic bliss." In 1838 he was ordained deacon by Bishop Waugh, and elder in 1840 by the same Bishop. From 1835, when he received his first appointment, to 1845, while he remained in the Philadelphia Conference, every field of labor was a scene of the most marvelous outpourings of the Spirit, the conversion and gathering of hundreds into the Church. In 1845 he was transferred to the Ohio Conference, and stationed in Ninth Street Church, Cincinnati. Here, and at Dayton, Urbana, Springfield, and Troy, there were unprecedented revivals. In Springfield he introduced the custom of family sittings in church, which, by some of the ministers, was regarded as an innovation of the rule of the Discipline requiring men and women to sit apart during church services. For this innovation he was tried and censured by his Conference; but being conscious of the propriety of his course, he appealed to the General Conference, held in Boston, in 1852. His defense of himself on the occasion was regarded as a masterly effort, and secured the reversal of the action of his Conference in the case. This circumstance led to his being invited to the New York East Conference. He was stationed in the Madison Street Church, New York city, where his labors were crowned with great success. Soon after this he became deeply interested in the anti-slavery question, and was one of the stoutest advocates of freedom. But when controversy became a tragedy, and skies were darkened with the smoke of battle, his soul was fired with the inspiration of the holy cause, and, as chaplain of the Brooklyn Fourteenth, he hastened, with his gallant regiment, to the front, and was in the first general engagement at Bull Run. But his health failing from unusual exposure, he resigned his commission, and received an honorable discharge from Gen. M'Dowell, July 22, 1862. Returning from the war he again entered the pastoral work, and was stationed at Birmingham, Conn. After filling several important appointments, he was transferred to the New York Conference, and stationed at Greene Street Church, New York. After a prosperous term here, he was transferred to the Baltimore Conference, and stationed at the Eutaw Street Church, Baltimore, where for two years he was blessed with a continuous revival. In 1871, being deeply impressed that he was called to the evangelistic work, he took a supernumerary relation. This year was greatly distinguished by a series of tabernacle meetings, held at Salt Lake City, and in the principal cities of the Pacific coast. Never in the religious history of California was there such a series of meetings held. In 1872 he was transferred to the New York East Conference, and received a nominal appointment to the Seventh Street Church, New York. From 1873 until his death he remained on the roll of the supernumerary members of the Conference, and was editor of "The Christian Standard and Home Journal," in Philadelphia. Brother Inskip was a man difficult to characterize. He had a remarkable gift of language; he was never at a loss for words to express either his thoughts or feelings. His logic was never at fault. His rhetoric was always good, and often reached the sublime. When fully aroused his impulses became a whirlwind, but always successfully directed to meet the interests of the cause in hand. Brother Inskip was a thoroughly good man, a distinguished minister of the Gospel; his fame as a heroic preacher of a free and full salvation will grow brighter with increasing years.

Troy Conference.

Salisbury S. Ford was born in the town of Duanesburg, N. Y., March 5, 1819. He was converted in 1837, and received on trial into the Troy Conference in the spring of 1843. He labored successively in the following fields: Middletown and Wells, Ellenburg Mission, North Hero, Hampton, Cambridge Mission, Sheldon and Enosburg, Weybridge, Salisbury, Sudbury and Whiting, Gallupville and Berne, Cobleskill and Richmondville, Bethlehem, North Pittstown, Seward, Mexico, Mo.; Kinderhook, Carlton, Lanesborough, Petersburg, Monkton. In 1879 he became a superannuate. Brother Ford was a good preacher, and often rose to real power while dispensing the word, but excelled as a revivalist, and was ever seeking some new corner of his field as a place to hold extra meetings. He had a melodious voice of great compass, and, when touched with revival unction, sung our hymns and revival choruses with wonderful effect. It was on his knees at the altar revival services where he was a very prince with God; between his prayers of power and his sweetness of song the struggling penitent was helped to Jesus. Some remarkable revivals accompanied his work. He continued in the effective work until 1879, when he went to Frankfort, Marshall Co., Kan., and bought on credit an eighty-acre farm, and began to improve it. Sickness, however, soon came, and at the last Conference session Brother Ford's severe illness was made known. He was at that time very near death, but partially recovered, and in May, 1883, on receipt of his annuity from Conference, he left Kansas for the East to recuperate among his children and friends. But exposure brought back his sickness, and he fell asleep in Jesus, June 9, 1883, at the age of 64. Devout men carried him to his burial, and many spiritual children, among them several preachers, made lamentations over him.

Jonas Phillips was born in the town of Mohawk, April 25, 1821, and died at Lansingburg, N. Y., June 26, 1883. He was converted to God when quite young in a series of meetings held at Fort Ann, and soon after united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. He was licensed to preach and recommended for admission in the traveling connection by the Church in West Troy. He was admitted on trial at the session of Troy Conference, held at North Adams, in 1851, and appointed to Chatham Circuit. His subsequent appointments were as follows: Salem, Galway and Rock City, North Pittstown, North White Creek, Waterbury, Vt.; Dalton, Bennington, Fonda, Whitehall, Sandy Hill, Castleton, Vt.; Salem, second time, and Granville. In 1878 he received a supernumerary relation, and remained on the retired list until his decease. Some years ago, in Boston, Mass., he was injured on a car, from which he never fully recovered. He continued to preach occasionally, and for a year or two he supplied a small charge on the Burlington District; but he never regained either his physical or mental vigor. When received into Conference he was a superior English scholar. By close application to reading and study he became one of the most able preachers among us. For several years he was treasurer of our Conference Missionary Society. In the years of his effective service, under his supervision, the church property of his charges was decidedly improved. God honored his labors with gracious revivals on several of his appointments. His last illness was brief, and his end was peace. To some who conversed with him on the subject of death he expressed unshaken confidence in God and an assurance of his favor. He has left a widow, a most estimable Christian lady; an invalid daughter, who for many years has been a helpless but patient sufferer; and an honored son, Rev. W. L. Phillips, pastor of Saint John's Methodist Episcopal Church, Brooklyn, N. Y., to mourn their loss.

Damas Brough was born in Canada in the year 1839. He was admitted to the Troy Conference at its session in 1866, and was appointed to Rural Grove, where for two years his industry, ardent piety, and burning zeal won him special mention. His subsequent appointments were Bern Circuit, Rotterdam and State Road, Warrensburg, Argyle, Gallupville, Valley Falls, Whitehall, Fonda, Hoosic Falls, and North Chatham. In his last appointment he ended his earthly pilgrimage. He suffered from a cancerous affection, but worked as long as he could stand. He loved his family very dearly, and his Church work more, and for both causes he prayed for return of health. When asked concerning the spiritual comfort he possessed, he said: "I have great peace and perfect rest in Jesus. It has pleased God to give me souls for my reward in every charge I have occupied, and I shall shine in the light of God." The last day of his life he called his children and talked to them of his departure, and to those old enough he gave the counsels befitting a dying saint. Wife and children received his blessing, and on the evening of the 23d of January he breathed his last, in the midst of a weeping circle of parishioners who were assembled to be with him in his last hour. Brother Brough was a good preacher and a faithful pastor. His ordination vows were a living obligation on his soul. He was diligent to rule his family as a man of God. He was ambitious to excel, and in every charge did whole work and made full proof of his ministry. His success was marvelous. Our Conference has lost in him one of its best workers and a true man of God.

Germany and Switzerland Conf.

J. Zipperer.—[Obituary not received.]

[The following obituary was received too late to appear in the Minutes of 1883.]

Carl Ludwig Daniel Weiss was born in Speyer, Palatinate, August 25, 1841. In 1864 he entered our Conference Seminary in Bremen, Dr. W. F. Warren, now of Boston University, being his teacher. In 1866 he was received on trial in the Conference, and appointed assistant of Dr. L. Nippert, in Heilbronn. Afterward he was appointed to Lahr, Bremen, Speyer, Ludwigsburg, and Berlin, in all of which he was an indefatigable and successful missionary; especially in Berlin, where he was highly esteemed, even by some pastors of the State Church, and his perseverence and blessed labors were readily recognized by all true Christians. There he organized a new mission in a quarter of the worst renown, established a school for hand-work, founded a girls' union, was president of our deaconess-work, and, during the last two years, chief editor of our periodicals and books. For many years he was elected secretary of the Conference. About four months ago he was taken ill with consumption. Hoping to find recovery in Switzerland, and desiring to see once more his brethren in the ministry, he left Berlin, accompanied by his wife, and arrived at Frankfort the first day of June. Being unable to continue his journey, he remained in the Martin's Mission Institute. There the brethren saw that his departure was near. On the 6th of June he suddenly and peacefully passed away. Just before his departure he said: "Tell the brethren that I have realized in my sickness the truth of the Gospel I have preached in healthful days. They should consecrate themselves wholly to the work of God, for this is a great consolation in the dying hour." He desired his congregation in Berlin to be greeted, and exhorted them to be united and to cleave with purpose of heart unto the Lord. Our Conference has suffered a great loss by the death of Brother Weiss. During his career he filled some of the most important offices, and proved himself to be a faithful servant of Christ, whose labors were crowned with great success. He was firm, upright, noble, a man of deep piety, and loved by all.

East German Conference.

August Christian Friedrich Wallon was born May 24, 1858, in Philadelphia, Pa., and died in New York, Oct. 13, 1883. The blessed influence of pious parents showed itself early in his life, for the Holy Ghost brought conviction to his heart while yet a youth, and in his fifteenth year he confessed to have found peace through the blood of the Lamb. In 1881 he was graduated from the Boston University, and joined the East German Conference. His time of labor was short, but blessed with gratifying results. In Lawrence, Mass., he built a new church, and had a good revival. On his next field, in Jersey City, he also commenced a new church, but was only permitted to lay the corner-stone, when the Lord called him home to his reward.

Caspar Jost was born in Gaw-Algesheim, Hessia, Germany, Dec. 14, 1817, and died Dec. 4, 1883, at Brooklyn, N. Y. He was reared in the pale of the Roman Catholic Church, and educated for the profession of law. In 1840 he came to this country and settled in the State of Missouri. In 1843 he was powerfully awakened and converted to God under Methodist preaching in a Baptist Church at Jefferson City. In 1844 he entered the Missouri Conference, and was stationed at Saint Louis, and from 1847 to 1850 at Milwaukee, Wis., and Quincy, Ill., where his labors were crowned with great success. In 1850 he was transferred to the New York Conference, and stationed at Second Street, New York, and in 1852–53 in Broadway, Baltimore, Md. He was presiding elder of the German District for 1853–57, and labored thereafter on the following charges: Schenectady and Fort Hunter, Port Mission, N. Y.; Second Street, Fortieth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.; Newark, N. J.; Lorimer Street, Brooklyn; Schenectady, N. Y.; Second Street, New York; Wykoff Street, Brooklyn. From 1881 until his death he was superannuated, but continually active for his Master according to the opportunities offered him. In 1877 his health began to fail, and an affection of the heart caused serious apprehension lest his life should terminate suddenly. Apparently he recovered; but the great sufferings of his wife for a whole year, the anxiety, the sleepless nights, and her death, Sept. 20, 1883, undermined his system and hurried him to the grave. To a brother minister he said: "All in Him! all in Him! It is all grace! all grace! Labor for the Lord and for immortal souls as long as you can." Brother Jost was a praying man, an earnest Christian, an able, pathetic, and efficient preacher, a faithful pastor, a strict disciplinarian, a reliable and wise counselor, a great promoter of the various Church interests, a true friend, especially of the youth; and wherever he discovered gifts in a young man, he knew how to develop them and make them subservient to the interests of the Church. His worth, ability, and gentlemanly character was generally acknowledged. In his Conference he took naturally a prominent position, and served as its secretary from its organization until his departure. The funeral solemnities took place in Second Street Church, in which many of his brethren participated. "He rests from his labors, and his works do follow him."

New Hampshire Conference.

Americus K. Howard was born in Marlow, N. H., May 1, 1812, and died at his home in Auburndale, Mass., May 3, 1883, aged seventy-one. Brother Howard was converted Sept. 9, 1825. He joined the New Hampshire and Vermont Conference on probation in 1833, and was admitted into full connection and ordained deacon by Bishop Emory, at Portsmouth, in 1835, and elder by Bishop Hedding, at Great Falls, in 1837. He was married to Jane A. Adams, June, 1833. He received the following appointments: North Wardsborough, Gilford Circuit, Brattleborough, Cavendish, Springfield, West Winchester, South Redding, and Felchville. In 1843 he located. In 1844 the New Hampshire and Vermont Conference was divided, and he was re-admitted into the Vermont Conference and stationed at Woodstock. Brother Howard's health here failed him, and he was relieved of further responsibility and labor in the Conference. In 1855 he was re-admitted into the New Hampshire Conference, and stationed two years at Chesterfield, one year at Whitefield and Bethlehem, two years at North Haverhill, and two years at South Acworth. He was then superannuated, but preached when he was able. Brother Howard was a good and useful man, an excellent scholar, and a preacher clear in his statements and sound in his doctrine. He had revivals upon nearly all his charges, and labored beyond his strength for the upbuilding of the Church of Christ.

Jesse Boyden was born at Barnard, Vt., March 27, 1813, and died at Woodstock, Vt., Sept. 1, 1883, in his seventy-first year. Brother Boyden was in the active work of the ministry but eight years when he superannuated on account of a serious throat difficulty, and remained in that relation for thirty-six years. He was a thoroughly converted and deeply devoted man, and, though he labored on a farm, exercised his ministerial functions as he had strength and opportunity. His last sickness was short, but painful; but he was fully sustained and greatly comforted by the conscious presence of the Saviour, with whom he had sweet communion. The Rev. A. L. Cooper, presiding elder of Springfield District, Vermont Conference, within whose district he died, and who officiated at his funeral, writes: "In his nature Brother Boyden was modest and retiring, almost to a fault; but in his moral and religious convictions, he was decided and unswerving. As a husband and father, he was kind and indulgent; as a citizen, he was faithful and respected; as a Christian, conscientious and devoted, exemplifying Christian holiness pin exerience and life; as a Methodist, he was intelligent, hearty, and catholic; as a minister, earnest and spiritual. He lived in the present, not in the past, and, according to his ability, he sought to improve every opportunity within his reach to help forward the cause of Christ. His work is done, but the fruit of his life will increase with the years and endure forever. To his family, to his Conference, to the Church, and to the world, he has left the legacy of a pure and useful Christian life."

John English was born at Orford, N. H., Sept. 1, 1809, and died at Newbury, Vt., March 26, 1884, aged seventy-four years. The cause of his death is unknown. He fell dead while in conversation with a gentleman in a store. He was converted while following the occupation of a printer in Haverhill, N. H., baptized by the Rev. C. R. Harding, June 17, 1832, and received into full connection in the Methodist Episcopal Church June, 27, 1832. He was admitted to New Hampshire Conference on trial in 1838; ordained deacon by Bishop Roberts, at Chelsea, Vt., July 5, 1840, and elder by Bishop Hedding, at Newbury, Vt., June 26, 1842. He was married to Ellen M. Dake, of Windsor, Vt., June 10, 1843. There were born to them two children, Grace A., now Mrs. Albert Hale, of Claremont, N. H., and William F. English, who was graduated from Dartmouth College at the age of nineteen, and is now, at the age of twenty-one, near the close of his second year in Hartford (Conn.) Theological Seminary. The pastorates of Brother English were as follows: Sandwich, Peeling, Bristol and Alexandria, Londonderry, Brattleborough and Guilford, Alstead and Langdon, Unity, Lempster and Goshen, Cornish, Warner and Hopkinton, Warner, Deering and Hillsborough, Dracut, Hampton, Canaan, North Charleston, Bath and Benton, Landaff, Tuftonborough and Wolfborough, Rumney, Bath and Benton, North Monroe, supernumerary, Chesterfield, Dracut, supernumerary, supplying various places from 1871 to 1884. His widow lives alone at her home in Newbury, Vt. "While the workmen fall the work goes on." When we lay down our work may abler hands than ours take it up.

Bishop Isaac W. Wiley, D.D., LL.D.,

BISHOP OF THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

Isaac W. Wiley was born in Lewiston, Pa., March 29, 1825, and died in Foochow, China, Nov. 22, 1884. He joined the Methodist Episcopal Church when only a child of ten years. He was licensed to preach at the age of eighteen. His scholastic opportunities were confined to an academic course of study. Driven permanently, as he supposed, from his purpose of entering the itinerant ministry by diseased vocal organs, he betook himself to the study of medicine, and at the age of twenty-one was graduated from the medical department of the New York University. After practicing his profession in Pennsylvania for four years, at the solicitation of Dr. Durbin, (having joined the Genesee Conference,) he went as medical missionary to Foochow, China, where he labored for four years, and then returned to this country. He served in regular pastorates in three different appointments, when he was called to the principalship of Pennington Seminary, where he remained for five years.

At the General Conference of 1864 he was elected editor of the "Ladies' Repository," and re-elected in 1868. By the General Conference of 1872 he was chosen a Bishop. As a Bishop he took his full share in the work of the Episcopal Board in the general superintendency. In 1877 he made an extended tour of visitation to the missions in Japan and China. He performed his last work as a Bishop at Foochow, where he began his work as a missionary for Christ thirty-four years before.

The Rev. J. H. Pike writes concerning him from Peking, China, under date of Oct. 10, 1884:

"We were greatly delighted to have Bishop Wiley with us again. He came in great feebleness of body and in much physical suffering, but in the fullness of the blessing of the Gospel of Christ. All the way from Japan to Peking he was quite sick, and able to take but little nourishment—that little in liquid form—and often his stomach rejected even that; consequently he was much prostrated. He was not able to preside over the regular sessions of the meeting, but saw the missionaries each afternoon in his room. Once, with characteristic will-power, he left his room and came into the church where the meeting was assembled. No one who was present that morning will ever forget the impressions of that hour as the Bishop walked up the aisle slowly and with difficulty. The business was suspended, and the assembly rose and remained standing until he was seated on the platform. One member suggested that we ought to sing the long-meter Doxology that we were permitted to see our dear Bishop with us once more. He replied, 'No, brethren, go on with your work; we will sing the Doxology on the other side.' After resting a short time the Bishop rose and addressed the Conference. While he was speaking there was not a dry eye in the house, and every heart was deeply moved, 'sorrowing most of all, that they should see his face no more.'"

The Rev. F. Ohlinger, writing from Foochow under date of Nov. 26, gives the following account of the last hours of Bishop Wiley:

"The closing session of the Conference was called on Friday evening, Nov. 21, when appropriate resolutions were passed and a committee appointed to write a letter to Mrs. Wiley. During the night and on Saturday, Nov. 22, he did not speak much and seemed to be suffering but little. He remained in one position and breathed like one in a sweet sleep, often for nearly an hour at a time. It was evident that he was gradually sinking, and at 4 P. M. he quietly passed away. 'Death has hit a shining mark.' The whole Conference had remained to show him the last token of reverence and love; the leading men of the body, especially those who had been ordained by him seven years ago, begged to be allowed to act as pall-bearers, and all wished to do something to express their high esteem of the departed. They cheerfully availed themselves of the opportunity to buy a pillow and lining of beautiful white silk for the coffin, saying: 'Yes, that's very appropriate; on the pillow his precious head will rest, and the lining will be very near him.' The funeral services, English and Chinese, were such as might be expected, and were participated in by all the members of the mission, by Elders Hu Yong Mi and Sia Sek Ong; the Revs. C. C. Baldwin, D.D., and C. Hartwell, of the American Board; and Bishop Burdon, of the Church Mission. The words of these silver-haired colleagues of Bishop Wiley will never be forgotten by the large audience that filled Tieng-ang Tong to overflowing that remarkable Sunday afternoon."

OBITUARIES.

North-west Indiana Conference.

Michael Johnson was born in Jackson County, Ind., Sept. 8, 1820, and died near Toronto, Kan., Oct. 18, 1883. He was the youngest of four brothers who gave their lives to the ministry in the Methodist Episcopal Church, one of whom, the Rev. James Johnson, still walks among us, honored and useful in his declining years; another, the Rev. John B. Johnson, of Greencastle, who is happy and efficient as a member in the local ranks of our clergy; another brother, David Johnson, M.D., is a strong man in the Methodist Episcopal Church in Paola, Kan. Michael Johnson was converted at the age of twenty-one, and two years later, in 1843, he joined the Indiana Conference, at its session in Crawfordsville. The Conference dividing the next year his work was in the North Indiana Conference, and again at the division of the Conference he fell into the lines of the North-west Indiana Conference. He was appointed to and served the following charges: Newport, Pendleton, Cicero, Canton Mission, Rossville, Leesburg, Dayton, Augusta, Danville, Rockville Circuit, Normandy Circuit, Mechanicsburg Circuit, Clark's Hill, and in the South Kansas Conference at Strawn, and two years at Ottumwa, making nineteen years of service as an itinerant preacher. In 1847 he was married to Mary Jane Cones, who shared with him to the last his toils and triumphs in the Church, and now in her deep bereavement exercises an unwavering faith in the Gospel that he loved so well to preach. His preaching was evangelical and greatly blessed of God to the salvation of souls. During his active ministry he received into the Church sixteen hundred and forty persons. In 1879 he went to Kansas in the hope of a restoration of his feeble energies, but in that new country, where the fields were so white unto the harvest, he could not rest from his beloved work. He began at once gathering the people together in the destitute settlements, preaching to them the word of life, and organizing them into societies, Sunday-schools, and circuits. His last pastor, Rev. J. C. Hull, of South Kansas Conference, writes of him: "I first met Brother Johnson four years ago at a District Conference, and have met him occasionally since, always finding him ready to testify to the sufficiency of a life of faith in the Son of God." When the crisis came he was ready for his triumph. His sufferings lasted but a few days, and were intense in their severity. In the last struggle, when asked by his wife and daughter if the Saviour was with him, he joyously answered, "O yes, he is just right here!" At another time he said, "I am going home." These were his last words before he took up the song of triumph in the company of the blood-washed throng.

Edwin A. Andrew, A.M., died at his home in Evanston, Ill., August 14, 1884. He was born in Kosciusko County, Ind., April 29, 1846. He passed away in the fullness of life, leaving all its joys and ambitions "in hope of an immortal crown" and of a home in the "city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God." He was an earnest patriot and brave soldier, serving through the whole period of the war, and rising from the rank of private to that of first lieutenant. He was in twenty-six regular engagements, and marched over ten thousand miles. At the close of the war he entered Wabash College and was graduated in the regular classical course, with the honors of his class, in 1871. Soon after his graduation he was united in marriage with Elizabeth, daughter of Rev. W. F. Wheeler, deceased, for many years an honored member of the North-west Indiana Conference. The same year, in the fall, he was admitted on trial in this Conference, and appointed to Kentland Mission. In 1872–73 he was appointed to Pine Village. He afterward served the following appointments: Remington, Chesterton, Westville, and Colfax. In 1881 he was elected Professor of Natural Science in Willamette University, Salem, Oregon. Being earnestly advised by friends and physicians to try a change of climate, on account of persistent bronchial affection, and hoping a change of work, for a time, might prove beneficial, he accepted the position and filled it with success. At the close of the year, however, though re-elected, he deemed it best to return to Indiana and take a superannuate relation to his Conference. For a time his health improved, but only for a time. Last February he was stricken down with neuralgia and rheumatism, which soon resulted in almost total paralysis. For weary months he shared, in an unusual degree, "the fellowship of Christ's sufferings." He bore all patiently and bravely. His room was made bright with flowers, and sacred with love, song, and prayer. He drank the cup of pain to its very dregs, but it was sweetened and transformed into the wine of life eternal by the love of Jesus. In the fiercest sufferings he often whispered to his wife "God is love." When unable to get any rest, through a long stretch of suffering, he would smile out of conquering eyes, and say, with unutterable yearning, "He giveth his beloved sleep." His warfare is over. The feet that marched with soldierly tread all through the long campaigns, and with Sherman to the sea, are forever at rest. The brain that planned and the heart that struggled for the good of others have "ceased from their labors." The suffering is ended, the victory is won. "He giveth his beloved sleep."

Indiana Conference.

Levi Johnson was born in Xenia, O., Aug. 28, 1813, and died in Scotland, Ind., Jan. 12, 1884. While he was yet a child his father died, leaving his mother with five small children. When Levi was five years old his mother removed to Indiana, and settled in Wayne County, where she succeeded in raising her children—two daughters and three sons, two of whom, Levi and John Wright, became ministers. Levi learned the potter's trade, and worked at it until he entered the ministry. It is not known at what time he became religious or was married, but it is known that for a number of years he was a licensed exhorter, and for one year a local preacher. As a local preacher, he was zealous and efficient, rendering valuable aid to his pastor. He so attracted the attention of the Church as to cause the official board to be willing to recommend him as a suitable person to be admitted into the Annual Conference, and he, feeling that he was called to devote his whole time and talent to the work, though incumbered with a wife and six children, accepted a recommendation, and was admitted into the Indiana Conference in October, 1847, and continued an efficient member until death. He was appointed to the following charges: Clarksburg, Mount Carmel, Greenville, Corydon, Martinsville, West Indianapolis, Carlisle, Bluegrass, Center, Fredericksburg, Washington Circuit, Leesville, Bloomfield, Putnamville, Mount Vernon Circuit, Patoka, Owensville, Rockport Circuit, Grandview, Oakland City, Lancaster, Springville, Campbellsburg, Loogootee, and Newberry, where he finished his work. His life was one of unusual hardship and toil—having raised twelve children—but no one of his family ever heard him complain; his light was always shining. His desire was to go from labor to reward, and not be superannuated. This was granted him. Wherever he was appointed he went and did his work well, built as many parsonages, sold as many books, preached as many sermons, and witnessed as many conversions and accessions to the Church, perhaps, as any other man in his Conference. He was twice married. On Jan. 1 he contracted a slight cold, but, true to his nature, he took some slight remedies and pushed ahead in his work. On Jan. 5, one of the coldest days ever witnessed in this climate, he started from his home, in Newberry, for Scotland, where he was to commence a meeting. On Sabbath morning he preached, conducted his social prayer-meeting in the afternoon, during which time he was unusually happy. At night he entered into his work with as much vigor as when in youth, but in the middle of his discourse he was taken with paralysis of the lungs, and all thought that he would pass away; but the paroxysm soon passed off. Then he arose to his feet and said, "Brethren, I may never speak to you again. God help you all." He was assisted to the house of William O'Donnel, where he received every attention that could be given by a kind and good people for an afflicted pastor, and it was thought that he would recover until Saturday afternoon, when he had another paroxysm, but milder than the first. Recovering from this he rested until 10:45 o'clock, when he passed away, his heart, it is supposed, being paralyzed from the beginning. His faith was strong and his confidence unshaken. His language was, "I have kept my accounts settled with my heavenly Father, and am ready to go, for his grace is sufficient for me." He leaves a wife and twelve children to mourn his sudden departure.

Napoleon J. Bell was born May 17, 1824, near New Amsterdam, Harrison County, Ind. He was converted and joined the Church about the year 1852, soon after which he began to serve the Church as local preacher. Being very successful in his labors, and having a good education, he was induced to enter the Indiana Conference in the year 1858. The charges which he served are as follows: Wickliffe Circuit, one year; Edwardsport, two years; Washington Circuit, two years; Booneville, one year; Clark's Prairie, two years; Paoli, one year; Springville, one year; Quincy, two years; Freedom, one year; Monrovia, one year; and Riverside Mission, Indianapolis, one year. At Quincy, in 1872, the hand of death was laid upon his daughter Isadore. At Freedom, in 1874, his first wife, and his sons John and Benjamin, were also called away to the spirit land. Here he suffered much in mental, nervous, and bodily affliction. At Monrovia he was again married. His second wife was Mrs. Elizabeth A. Poe, a widow lady. At Monrovia, in 1875, his health failed him, and he was compelled to take a superannuated relation. From this place he went to Indianapolis, but was too feeble to do effective service during his year at Riverside Mission. From this time till his death he engaged in secular business with what power he had left. About ten weeks previous to his death he took a severe cold in his head; it seemed to settle in his middle ear. He had been troubled in a similar manner before, and each attack seemed severer than the preceding one. He had partially recovered from the last attack, but ventured out into the cold too soon and took a fatal relapse. After much severe suffering death came to his relief soon after midnight, Jan. 7, 1884. His age was fifty-eight years. During his rational moments in his last illness he was deeply impressed that his work was done. He declared that he was ready to go, and even when not rational would return thanks and praises to God. He leaves a wife, a daughter, and four sons, with a host of friends, to mourn their loss. Professor George W. Bell, of Monrovia, his eldest living son, was with him to the last. Brother Bell was a man of peculiar but strong mind, ready in sharp repartee. He delighted in metaphysical subjects, was outspoken, and very uncompromising when satisfied he was right. He was a pointed and practical preacher, and was very useful in his calling while he had strength to labor. We have not the data from which to compute, but during his ministry he conducted many revivals of marked power, and was the means of leading many to Christ.

William Meginnis died unexpectedly in Martinsville, Ind., April 16, 1884. He was spending a few days with his children and grandchildren while some changes were being made in the parsonage arrangements, and he intended to return to his charge—Cornettsville — before the following Sunday. He preached twice and rode ten miles on Sunday, April 6, and on the following Sunday attended divine service in Martinsville. The labors and exposure of the winter had been unusually severe. He had been in protracted meeting for five weeks, frequently riding great distances in a wet, flat country, but he was determined to meet his engagements, and some fifty or more souls were converted. For some time he had been affected with heart trouble, and this, with congestive pneumonia, caused his death. He was born in Kent County, Md., March 11, 1812, and raised in affluence on a large farm during the days of slavery. In 1833 he was married to Ann B., a daughter of Rev. Solomon Sharp, of Philadelphia Conference, and in his early manhood was engaged in merchandising, after manumitting his slaves, which constituted the chief part of his inheritance. In 1837 he came to Indiana, stopping at Terre Haute, and there investing some thousands of dollars in property, which, if he had kept, would have made him immensely rich. At the session of the Indiana Conference that year he was admitted on trial. His appointments were as follows: Spencer, Springville, Paoli, Brownstown, Paris, Washington, Lexington, Milroy, Burlington, Putnamville District, Nineveh, Martinsville, Bloomington District, Monrovia, Mooresville, Spencer, Mount Vernon Circuit, Sullivan, Morgantown, Waverly, Alfordsville, New Lebanon, Blue Grass, Blackford Street, (in Indianapolis,) Belleville, Newburg, Owensville, Cornettsville. During the entire period of nearly forty-seven years he was superannuated but two years, and then on account of affliction accompanying the loss of his wife in 1877. At his death he was the oldest minister on the effective list in his Conference. Ten children were born in the family; five are gone before, and five remain. One, Solomon S., at his death was a prominent minister in the Illinois Conference. Usually the household was moved to the place to which the father was appointed, and several thousands of dollars over and above ministerial receipts were spent in the work. In 1868 he was honored with an election to the General Conference. He was a Methodist preacher of a characteristic type, clear, pointed, and forcible. His ministry was attended with blessed results in the conversion of souls. He was intensely loyal and devoted to Methodism, remarkably punctual to his engagements, exceedingly deferential to his superiors in office, and consistently heroic in submitting to the requirements of the itinerancy. In manner he was a gentleman; not, perhaps, as affable as those who have sought to win their way in royal courts, but he was dignified in carriage, clean in person, neat in attire, orderly in domestic life—a fair sample of the noblest of nature's noblemen. His last testimony represented the man and his religion—"As I have lived so I die. I rest from my labors, and my works will follow me." The funeral was attended by all the neighboring ministers. The body rests beside that of his wife in the beautiful cemetery at Martinsville.

Willis W. Webb was born in Warrick County, near Evansville, Ind., Feb. 16, 1839. He was converted and joined the Methodist Church at the age of seventeen. He married Miss Eliza Atkinson Dec. 25, 1860. After a faithful service as layman in the Church for several years he yielded to his long-abiding convictions and began preaching the Gospel. In 1871 he was admitted to the Indiana Conference, and he devoted himself wholly to the ministry, filling a number of important charges, as follows: Yankeetown, one year; Otwell, two years; Grandview, three years; Paoli, three years; and Bedford, two years. About the middle of the last Conference year he was attacked with hemorrhage of the lungs. This affliction had been upon him, growing worse and worse, for some three years. He dearly loved the work of the ministry, and many were added to the Lord through his labors in each of his charges. One of the sorest trials of his life came when he was convinced by the logic of fate that he must give up preaching the Gospel, but grace was given, and he meekly submitted. Then followed a long and hard-fought battle for health and life, that he might be permitted to lead his growing family into the beautiful walks of Christian character and culture. Once he said, "I am worse in body, but better in soul; while the outward perisheth, the inward man is renewed." Again he whispered, "The religion of Christ is every thing to me." At the very last he said, "Blessed wife, farewell; God bless you; I shall soon be home; all is well." His especial request was that nothing should be said to his praise before the people or in print. His real life is painted in rich colors upon the hearts of those whom he has served, and his host of true and noble friends. Those intimate with his entire life know that from childhood to its close his character has been unsullied, and one of spotless purity. He died at Mankato, Minn., May 4, 1884.

Hayden Hays was born in Switzerland County, Ind., May 23, 1812. He was married to Prudence Jones Dec. 2, 1833, with whom he lived until her death, March 23, 1884, at Gosport, Ind. Her body was taken to Greencastle and placed in the family burial-ground at Forest Hill. To this union were born eight children, six sons and two daughters, five of whom are still living. Soon after his marriage he united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, and was at once made a class-leader, was soon licensed to preach, and entered the Indiana Conference. His itinerant ministry began in 1839, at first with the largest circuits, and afterward the best stations in the Conference. He was a presiding elder fourteen years, and was twice elected a delegate to the General Conference. He remained a member of the Conference till his death. About two years before his death a stroke of paralysis compelled him to superannuate. Two years after this he was afflicted in the lip and on the forehead with cancers, both of which were taken out and finally cured. About Feb. 1, 1884, he was again taken ill, and constantly grew worse until his death. Paralysis of the involuntary muscles of breathing seemed to be the immediate cause of his death, which took place July 20, at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Daniel Langdon, of Greencastle, Ind. His closing hours were those of perfect peace. Brother Hays was truly an apostolic preacher. In an eminent degree he possessed that which the ancient preachers had—a sense of the sinfulness of men, and a conviction that the only remedy was in Christ. His original fitness for the work was a fervid spiritual perception of the awful truth that Jesus Christ came into the world to save sinners. Those who have heard Brother Hays preach, and are acquainted with his work, are certainly impressed that this important element was present in his public work. His zeal was according to knowledge. It warmed his heart, thrilled his nerves, and fired his brain. It had for its foundaness an absolute faith in God, and therefore in all Church agencies. His enthusiasm was at times a little impatient of restraint, which gave him distinctness, and marked him as a positive force in the ministry. His life was comparatively faultless. He was able to make his appeals to the human conscience as well as to the judgment. His consistent life induced men to follow the truth, and gave force and character to all his words and sermons.

George W. Walker died in Evansville, July 18, 1884. He was born in Dec. 21, 1809, in Granger County, Tenn.; was married to Martha Brient, June 22, 1830; was licensed to exhort, Nov. 29, 1828, and licensed to preach, Oct. 12, 1829; came to Indiana in 1833; was ordained deacon by Bishop Roberts, Dec. 9, 1835, and elder by Bishop Roberts, Oct. 10, 1841; was admitted on trial in the Indiana Conference in 1839, and was appointed to the following charges: Richland Mission, Springville, Leesville, Orleans, Rockport, Rome, Jasper, Bedford, Orleans, Washington, Gentryville, Booneville, Princeton, Mount Vernon. Here he had a severe spell of sickness, and was superannuated, but was employed by the presiding elder in the spring of 1858 for Newburg; 1859 to 1863 he was presiding elder of the Rockport District; after which he was appointed to Rockport Station, Corydon, Bruceville, New Lebanon, Washington Circuit, Farmersburg, Patoka. While he was on the Patoka Circuit his health failed. He felt that his active work in the ministry was done. At the Conference in 1875 he was granted a superannuated relation. He lived in Princeton until 1883. During his stay in Princeton he preached as often as he could. Brother Walker was a good student and a clear-headed preacher. We have had but few men that knew more theology and understood our standard works better than he. He was also able to convince his congregations that he preached the truth. He was a safe man. In 1864 he was elected a delegate to the General Conference. He was neither a sensational preacher nor a great revivalist, but he always did solid work. He usually left his work in a better condition than he found it. From the time he superannuated his health gradually failed until he died. He would often say, "The will of the Lord be done." In the fall of 1883 he became so feeble that he moved to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Wright, in Evansville. I visited him often during his last sickness, and felt that it was a privilege to talk with one so firm in the faith. He had a complete victory in death. He felt that he was washed in the blood of the Lamb. One day he said to me, "We have known each other for a long time, I hope we will live together in heaven." The next day I asked how he felt. He replied, "All right, I am trusting." He shouted "Glory! Praise the Lord. I'm speaking of the wonderful peace." He said, "I am astonished." When his voice failed he would whisper "Halleluiah." Brother Walker died as he lived. His aged widow needs the prayers of the Church.

Pittsburg Conference.

J. W. Hough was born in Ohio County, W. Va., Nov. 11, 1843, and died at Florence, Washington County, Pa., July 25, 1884. In early life he was deprived of many educational advantages, but was enabled to enter Bethany College in 1861. The war breaking out soon after, the college was suspended, but Brother Hough persevered in his desire for an education, and became at a later period Superintendent of Public Instruction in Brooke County, W. Va. In 1870 he was converted at Castleman's Run, W. Va., and united with the M. E. Church. In 1873 he was licensed to preach, and filled several appointments as a supply until 1880, when he entered the Pittsburg Conference. In 1881–82 he was appointed to New Cumberland Circuit, and in 1883 to Florence Circuit. In the midst of his second year on this work he was suddenly cut down. He was a man of kind and affable manners, an industrious student, and an earnest and faithful minister of the New Testament. His record is on high.

D. K. Stevenson was born in Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 11, 1835. His parents were members of the Scotch Covenanter Church, and in this faith they reared their children. In 1858 he was converted in Clarksville, Mo., where he was then residing, and united with the M. E. Church. The same year he received license to preach, and in 1859 he entered the Missouri Conference. When the war of the rebellion broke out he laid aside the work of the ministry, and enlisted in the One Hundred and Fifty-fifth Regiment of Pennsylvania Volunteers. For three years he served with his regiment, and at the expiration of that time he was detailed for special service in the War Department at Washington. When discharged from the army he returned to his native city and entered into business, but his early convictions had not left him, and he consequently re-entered the ministry in the Pittsburg Conference in 1867. His appointments thereafter were as follows: Fayette Circuit, Rostraver, Harlem, (Ohio,) Bloomfield, Leesburg, Wintersville, Cokeville, Noblestown and Midway, Tucker's and Florence, Carmichael's, Salem and Franklin, and Second Church, (Johnstown.) He was united in marriage, in 1868, to Miss L. A. Hingeley, daughter of Rev. E. Hingeley, of the East Ohio Conference; and had just entered upon his work after Conference when he was suddenly cut down, Nov. 19, 1883. As a preacher, he was intellectually strong, and firm in his convictions. He died at his post.

D. A. M'Cready was born in Columbiana County, O., Aug, 24, 1825, and died in Pittsburg, Oct. 21, 1883. He was of sturdy Scotch-Irish parentage, and was strictly taught in the doctrines of the Reformed Presbyterian Church; but when a boy was converted among the Methodists, and thenceforward became identified with them. He was graduated from Allegheny College in 1849, and in the same year entered the Pittsburg Conference. His appointments were as follows: Canonsburg, Florence, Chartiers, Bridgeport, Rostraver and Elizabeth, Sewickley, East Liberty, Hamline Chapel, (Steubenville, O.,) M'Connellsville; transferred to Missouri and Arkansas Conference, where he served Glasgow (Mo.) and Louisiana (Mo.) charges, and one year as President of Lewis College, located at Glasgow. In 1870 he returned to the Pittsburg Conference and filled the following charges: Uhrichsville, (O.,) M'Keesport, (Pa.,) Irwin, Bridgewater, Beaver Falls, Trinity, (Pittsburg,) Walton Church, (Pittsburg.) As a minister, Brother M'Cready was earnest and laborious. He preached the Gospel in its simplicity, visited from house to house with the greatest fidelity, and was eminently successful in winning souls to Christ. He had been at times a great sufferer from neuralgic affection, and for some time before his death supposed himself to be free from the disease. On Sunday morning, Oct. 21, he preached as usual, and in the afternoon attended a funeral. One hour after his return from the latter he was dead. He ceased at once to work and live.

[The four following memoirs were omitted in the General Minutes of the Conference last year.]

Abner Jackson was born in Exeter, N. Y., Sept. 17, 1795, and died at the home of his son, L. A. Jackson, at Reynoldsville. Pa., Aug. 3, 1883. In early life he espoused the doctrines of Universalism, but after his conversion, April 7, 1822, having previously renounced his former belief, he became a thorough and devoted Methodist. He was licensed to preach in 1828 in Kingsville, O., and in 1832 was admitted to the Pittsburg Conference and appointed to Clarion Circuit. The next year (1833) he was appointed to Brookville. His subsequent appointments were: Butler, Harmony, Beaver and Fallston, Beaver Street, (Allegheny,) Beallsville, Chartiers, Carmichael's, Rough Creek Mission. From 1848 to 1850 he was superannuated. In 1851 he was made effective and appointed to Canonsburg, Greenfield, Greenfield and California. The next year he took a superannuated relation, in which he continued until death. Brother Jackson was first married in 1817 to Miss Phosa Hendryx, and by this union there were seven children, two of whom, Rev. Cornelius H. and John J. Jackson, entered the ministry, and are members of the East Ohio Conference. He was a sincere patriot as well as a devout Christian. In the war of 1812 he served as a soldier, and during the late rebellion was for a time chaplain of the Ringgold Cavalry. He was a devoted, faithful, and useful minister of the Gospel. His ministry was characterized by a thorough consecration to God's will, and was crowned with abundant success. When his death occurred he had nearly completed his eighty-eighth year, and though weak in body, his mind retained much of its vigor. He sleeps in Jesus.

G. W. Cranage was born Dec. 12, 1820, and was converted and joined the Smithfield Street M. E. Church, in Pittsburg, in 1839. The next year he was licensed to preach, and entered the Pittsburg Conference in 1842. Twelve years later he was united in marriage to his now bereaved companion, Annie J. M'Pherson, daughter of the late William M'Pherson, of Johnstown, Pa. During his ministry, which extended over a period of forty years, Brother Cranage served the following charges: Grandview, Middletown, Indiana, New Salem, Redstone, Wheeling, (Va.,) Braddocks, Sewickley, Kittanning, Ligonier, Connellsville, Middletown, Bentleysville, Temperanceville, Elkton, superannuated, Marlborough, New Lisbon, Irwin, Harmony, Seaman's Friend Society, New Derry, Wesley Chapel, (Pittsburg,) Bentleysville, Springdale, Dayton, Union and Emory, Fairall, and in 1880 he took a superannuated relation, in which he remained until his death. He possessed more than ordinary preaching ability. He was a clear, logical, and strong thinker, and possessing a good voice and ready utterance, was always instructive, and often eloquent. In the statement and defense of the great doctrines of Christianity, as taught by Methodism, he especially excelled. The final summons came to him on Nov. 18, 1882, and he died in great peace.

L. H. Bugbee was born in Gowanda, N. Y., Nov. 25, 1830, and died in Geneva, N. Y., July 28, 1883. He was converted in boyhood, and licensed as an exhorter at the age of eighteen. The same year, (1849,) he entered Genesee Wesleyan Seminary at Lima, N. Y., and was graduated as valedictorian in 1851. He then entered Genesee College, at Lima, remaining two years. In the autumn of 1858 he entered Amherst College, and was graduated the next year. In 1855 he was elected Professor of Belles-lettres at Cooperstown Seminary. In 1857 he joined the Upper Iowa Conference, and was appointed President of Upper Iowa University, where he remained three years. In 1860 he was transferred to the Rock River Conference, where he served five years in the pastorate—at Wheaton, in Chicago, and at Aurora. In 1865 he took charge of North-western Female College, at Evanston, Ill., remaining three years. In 1868 he accepted the Presidency of the Wesleyan Female College at Cincinnati, and continued there for seven years. At the expiration of that time, 1875, he was elected President of Allegheny College, and became a member of Pittsburg Conference. He continued in this position until 1882, when, in consequence of failing health and other reasons, he resigned. At our last Conference he was appointed to Monongahela City, but he never actually entered upon his work there. He went to Clifton Springs, where he remained six months, and thence went to Geneva, where he died.

Five only of the twenty-five years of his ministerial life were spent in the pastoral work, the remainder were devoted to educational labor, in which department he greatly excelled. In all his work he was strictly conscientious. He constantly sought a deep personal experience, and studied to be an example to others in a blameless life. His end was peace.

M. M'K. Garrett was born in County Down, Ireland, Feb. 1, 1835. When about six years of age his parents removed to the United States and settled in Lawrenceville, (now a part of Pittsburg, Pa.,) where, at the age of fourteen, he was converted under the ministry of Rev. F. S. De Hass, during a revival held in Wesley Chapel. It soon became evident that Brother Garrett possessed gifts and graces which fitted him for the work of the ministry, and he was accordingly licensed to preach, and, in 1856, he entered the Pittsburg Conference. His first appointment was to Sandyville Circuit in Ohio, with Rev. Hosea M'Call as preacher in charge. The next year he was at Hanover, and thereafter his appointments were as follows: Chartiers, Redstone and Connellsville, Carmichaels, Smithfield, (Ohio,) Bloomfield, New Cumberland, Leesburg, Dravo and Greenock, Mount Pleasant, Bellevernon, Freeport, New Brighton, and South Common, (Allegheny.) In all these fields of labor he was blessed with great prosperity, and many souls were brought to Christ through his instrumentality. He labored with a sincere desire for the Church's welfare, never sought his own ease or comfort, and was eminently successful in restoring the waste places of Zion. During his first year at South Common Church his health failed, and taking a superannuated relation at the Conference of 1882, he removed with his family to a farm near Forest City, Iowa. His health steadily declined until June 7, 1883, when he passed away, without a struggle or a fear, into the inheritance of all things. His wife, to whom he was united in 1859, and their two children survive him, and are still living in their Western home.

East Ohio Conference.

Valorus Lake left this world for the heavenly, his richest bequest being the good name he bore. How fondly friends cherish their interest in such a legacy! The genuine wealth of this world is enhanced by every such life, making all of us richer for its benefactions. Very many witnesses claim their share in the inheritance left by Brother Lake. Tell us not so much of the perishable wealth a man has accumulated, as how much of happiness he has strewn along life's pathway for others to enjoy as they pass. The value of eighty years so passed is not to be expressed in gold. The story of Brother Lake's life may be briefly told thus: He was born in Plainfield, N. Y., July 22, 1804, and died in Wayne, O., May 9, 1884. He was converted in his thirteenth year, and united with the Free-Will Baptist Church. He soon after changed his church relation, and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. He became an ardent lover of her doctrines and policy till his death. He was united in marriage, March 29, 1829, to Miss Julia Holdridge, who preceded him only about two weeks to the better land. He was sent to the New York Legislature in 1845–46, where he did good service for his country. He was licensed to preach in 1847, and received on trial in the Erie Conference in 1850. The following charges have been blessed with his ministry: Rock Creek, Chagrin Falls, Twinsburg, Talmadge, Kent, Northampton, Windham, Canfield, Williamsfield, Kelloggsville, Charlestown, and Nelson. In 1870 his health failed him, and he took a superannuated relation. Brother Lake was a noble man, beloved by all who knew him. Religion was to him a source of unspeakable happiness, and the genial, kind pastor had many and warmly attached friends. His work is done. He rests from his labors, and his works do follow him.

I. N. M'Abee was born in Unity Township, Westmoreland County, Pa., Aug. 2, 1804, and died at Mount Union, O., Jan. 18, 1884. He became a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Oct. 1, 1823. Rev. Henry Baker was the pastor who took his name. He was converted in 1825. In 1829, under a sermon preached by Dr. S. Wakefield, he was wonderfully blessed. He wrote in his journal: "Twilight became day, joy rapture, my peace flowed like a river, and my righteousness as the waves of the sea." In June, 1830, he was called to preach. He says his call to preach was as clear as his conviction of sin. He received license to preach in October, 1831, and preached as a supply in 1832, with J. G. Sansom and Dr. William Hunter for colleagues, and Charles Elliot for presiding elder. In 1833 he was received into the Pittsburg Conference, Bishop Roberts presiding. His name was placed on the superannuated list, March, 1875. He was a man of great endurance. In 1857 he held a meeting of one hundred days on Westchester Circuit, in Tuscarora County, preaching every day, and receiving four hundred and thirteen members into the church during the meeting. For several years his mind had been failing, but in 1878, seeming to have some apprehension of this, he said to his eldest son, "Whatever my end may be, I want you to know that I die saved by grace." A few months ago, when his mind for a short time was unclouded, he was asked what he thought about dying. The answer was, "To die will be glorious; no one that loves Jesus need fear death."

Thomas Guy departed this life at his residence in Jefferson, Ashtabula County, O., Dec. 18, 1883, in his seventy-first year. He was born in Armagh County, Ireland. At nineteen he was licensed to preach, and began missionary work in southern and western Ireland. In 1843, through the solicitations of Bishop Soule, he came to America. Landing in New York he found some old acquaintances, who persuaded him to join the Church to which they belonged—the True Wesleyan. He entered at once upon itinerant work. His first charge was in Cleveland, O., his second in Pittsburg, Pa. In the latter, besides doing his pastoral work, he assisted in editing a denominational periodical. In 1847 he united with the Erie Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in which he remained in active service till the organization of the East Ohio Conference in 1876. Into this his lot fell Two years ago last September, while attending the Conference at Painesville, a disease which had been preying on him for years suddenly prostrated him, and necessitated a dangerous surgical operation. That retired him to the superannuated list, where he remained till death. He was a good man, full of faith and the Holy Ghost; a plain, sound, earnest, practical preacher, and powerful in prayer. He had many seals to his ministry. His end was that of the righteous. His sun set in a clear sky. He was the husband of one wife, an excellent woman, and the father of four sons and four daughters, all full grown. His memory they will ever delight to cherish. The entire community in which he lived wept when he died.

James Shields died at Mentor, Sept. 9, 1884. He was born, June, 1825, in Center County, Pa.; was converted when fifteen years of age; was licensed to preach by Rev. W. F. Wilson, presiding elder of Franklin District, in 1851; joined the Erie Conference at Franklin, Pa., in July, 1853; and served in that Conference the following appointments: Washington, Pa.; Shippensville, New Bethlehem, Portersville, Punxsutawney, East New Castle, Orangeville, O.; Washington, Pa.; Shippensville, Evansburg, Townville, supernumerary, Pithole and Tarr Farm, Hamlet, N. Y.; Perrysburg, Courtland, O.; Jackson and Ohlton. In 1876 the East Ohio Conference was formed by the division of the Pittsburg and Erie Conferences, and Brother Shields, being in Ohio, became a member of the East Ohio Conference, in which he served the following appointments: Mayfield, Mentor, Huntsburg and Burton, Grand River, Montville. During this year his health failed, and at his request the ensuing Conference granted him a superannuated relation. He then moved to Mentor, hoping by rest and care to recover his health; but he constantly grew worse, suffering intense pain until relieved by death. Amid all his sufferings his faith never wavered, but he rested with unshaken confidence in that Saviour he had so faithfully preached, and found his grace sufficient for him on a sick and dying bed. He leaves a wife and four sons to mourn their loss. At Tionesta, Pa., June 18, 1862, he was united in marriage with Miss Helen Sibbald, by whom he had six sons, the first two dying of diphtheria in May, 1869, within a few days of each other. This great loss, taking at the time all his children, nearly broke him down, but God sustained him. During the war of the rebellion he was a true and fearless patriot, throwing his whole soul into the work for the suppression of the rebellion. In 1867 he took a supernumerary relation, and visited Ireland to look after some pecuniary interests in that country coming to him from the death of relatives. On his return to this country he re-entered the regular work of the ministry, continuing therein till failing health compelled him to retire, to suffer and die. Brother Shields was a man of fervent piety and unflinching devotion to God and the Church. He loved controversy, and was a zealous and fearless defender of the doctrines and usages of the M. E. Church; and woe to that person who dared on his field of labor to assail them. Defending these and vanquishing their enemies was always a means of grace to him. A man of positive convictions, warm attachments, true and tried friendship, his affection for his friends was deep and unchangeable. His natural abilities were of a superior order, but his early advantages, being very limited, prevented him from taking the position among his brethren to which culture would have entitled him.

West Wisconsin Conference.

John Knibbs was born in Woodstock, England, March 2, 1829, and died in Prairie du Chien, Wis., Feb. 1, 1884. He was educated at Oxford University, and remained there as student and teacher for twelve years, being then prepared for the Episcopal ministry. Coming to this country in 1856, he immediately entered the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church within the bounds of the West Wisconsin Conference. Ordained deacon by Bishop Baker, and elder by Bishop Scott, he filled with great acceptability the following appointments, at all of which, save one, he remained a full term: Prairie du Chien, Richland City, Dodgeville, Mineral Point, Darlington, Hazel Green, Platteville, Belmont, Dodgeville, Portage City, Broadhead and Prairie du Chien. In 1858 he was married to Miss Amelia Blodgett, of Mineral Point, who nobly shared with him in all the toils and trials of the itinerant life. In the winter of 1858, while traveling in the Kickapoo Valley, he was overtaken by a terrible snowstorm, and was lost during all the night in the woods. When found his limbs were frozen, in consequence of which he was compelled to have one foot amputated; and, though it rapidly healed, and he was soon at his work again, through all his life he not only bore the mark of the terrible ordeal through which he passed, but also was compelled to endure severest suffering, which so increased, that at last death came as a glad relief. When conscious of his nearness to death he talked with his family and made all arrangements for his burial, and said that, were it not for their sorrow, he would gladly go home and be at rest. An able preacher, a ripe scholar, thorough and methodical in all his work, kind and genial to all, tender and affectionate in his family, he lived to bless the world, and did his work well through a life of suffering such as few ever know. He leaves his devoted wife and three daughters, and many are the seals to his ministry.

Sellic O. Browne was born in Acworth, N. H., Sept. 23, 1821, and died at Baraboo, Wis., Oct. 21, 1883. Converted in youth, he joined the Methodist Episcopal Church in his native town in 1842. Soon removing to Fitchburg, Mass., he was, in 1845, married to Miss Harriet Whipple, who died three years later. In 1850 he married Miss Mary Whipple, who, with two daughters, now survives him. Having been occupying his leisure moments in the study of medicine, he completed a course in the New York Medical College in 1855, after which he engaged very successfully in the practice of his profession for a number of years in Ware and Springfield. In 1858 he was licensed as a local preacher, and for several years, as opportunity offered, continued to do work as such, and also as a supply under the presiding elder, being ordained deacon by Bishop Scott, at Waltham, Mass., in 1867. In 1869 he came West, joining the West Wisconsin Conference, then in session at Portage, and was stationed at Menominee. He received thereafter in the Conference the following appointments: Oxford, Delton, and North Freedom. Then receiving a supernumerary relation, he resumed the practice of medicine, removing to Baraboo in 1878. When he had just completed arrangements to re-enter the regular work in the Dakota Mission he was taken ill, and sank rapidly under typhoid fever. Dr. Browne was a man of strong character and marked individuality. By careful and systematic study of our doctrines he had come to be in perfect harmony with Methodism. He had a very clear and deep religious experience, and was a man of very decided convictions, which he fearlessly expressed. Wherever he lived he enjoyed the esteem and confidence of all, being recognized as a man of worth, a sincere, humble, and devout Christian, and a faithful minister of the word of life.

Iowa Conference.

Richard S. Robinson died at his residence in Oskaloosa, Iowa, on Tuesday, May 6, 1884, aged seventy-seven years, one month, and fourteen days. He was born, March 22, 1807, near Brownsville, Pa., which remained his home till he was fifteen years of age. His parents subsequently went to Ohio. There, under the ministry of Rev. John Baughman, he was converted in 1827, and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church. Shortly afterward he was appointed class-leader, and the following year was licensed to preach. In the fall and winter of 1828 he traveled the Whitewater (Ind.) Circuit, Rev. A. Wiley, presiding elder. In 1829 he was admitted to the Indiana Conference, and given six hundred miles in circumference, with a large number of appointments, and it required six weeks to make the circuit. The people dwelt mostly in single-room cabins, and many of those primitive buildings were his preaching-places. From constant exposure on long rides in all kinds of weather, hard fare, and an inordinate use of his voice, this year's work so impaired his vocal powers that they never fully recovered. He was afterward appointed successively to the following Indiana works: Fort Wayne, Trading Post, where he often preached in the old Fort Gobin, Rising Sun, Elkhart, Logansport, and Crawfordsville circuits. These appointments were followed by a year of superannuation. He was then appointed successively to Richmond, New Albany, and Lawrenceburg stations, and then to Brookville, Fairfield, Mount Vernon, Newburg, and Salem circuits. At Salem he built a parsonage, but was not permitted to occupy it, for at the close of his year he was made presiding elder of Vincennes District. In 1854 he was transferred to Iowa, and stationed at Keokuk.

After a year at Keokuk he was stationed at Keosungna, then at Birmingham, then Eddyville, then presiding elder of Chariton District four years, then to Winterset in 1862, when the Iowa Conference was divided, and he fell into the Des Moines Conference. After two years he was transferred to Iowa Conference, and stationed at Oskaloosa. Subsequently he traveled Attica, Bellefontaine, Oskaloosa, and Hamilton Circuits, in 1869 to Centerville Station, thence to Bluff Creek Circuit, and later to Marysville, when his health forced him to superannuate. Thence his health gradually failed till released by death. He was twice married; in 1833, Sept. 9, to Miss M. M. Jackson, who died several years later, and in March, 1842, to Jane Taylor, who still survives him. The first union was blessed with four children, but one of whom survives him; ten children, nine of whom are living, from the latter. In his life as a minister he was grave and dignified, but at the same time dis trustful of his abilities. In social life he was genial and sociable. Without any advantages for learning he secured by wise use of time a good English education. As a student he weighed what he read and heard, separating truth from error. As an instructor he never appealed to prejudice or passion. A complication of diseases merged into consumption, which caused his death. He was helpless for six months before his death. About April 1 he realized the end was near, and he was taken, according to his desire, from Kahoka, Mo., to Oskaloosa, Iowa, and May 6 he passed peacefully away surrounded by his family.

Benjamin Holland was born in Harrison County, O., April 11, 1809, and died at the house of his son-in-law, J. Lawson, near Batavia, Iowa, Jan. 17, 1884, after an illness of eight months. He was converted at a camp-meeting in Ross County, Ohio, in 1828, and soon after felt called to the ministry. He was married to Mildred Patton, March 5, 1833, who survived him about eight months. A year later he was licensed to preach, and served as local preacher nineteen years. He removed to Iowa in 1848, and located in Lee County, near Fort Madison. In 1853 he entered the Iowa Annual Conference, at Oscaloosa, and remained an honored member until his death. He received the following appointments: Pittsburg, Drakeville, and Troy, two years each; Indianapolis, one year; Montezuma, two years; Eddyville and Pella, one year each; Monroe, Peoria, and Martinsburg, two years each; Abingdon, Chillicothe, Independent, Batavia, and West Point, one year each. He received a superannuated relation in 1874. He was a man of more than ordinary ability, accustomed to think clearly. His sermons were thoughtful and instructive. He was thoroughly acquainted with the Bible. He was genial and gentle, and commanded the respect of all. He was a devoted husband, a loving father, and a true friend. In his religious experience he was not demonstrative, but throughout his religious life the presence of the Holy Spirit was an abiding witness. During his last sickness he exhibited the greatest patience, longing for his departure to come. A short time before his death his daughter, asking him concerning what message he would have her take to his absent friends, he said, "I want to send them my last testimony as to the necessity of purity of heart." His room was always a scene of rejoicing. At times, while singing and shouting the praises of God, his countenance would beam with joy. So the servant of God went to his well-earned rest. His funeral was held in First Church, Ottumwa, and his body rests in the beautiful cemetery of that city.

North Nebraska Conference.

S. P. Van Doozer died at Fullerton, Neb., Jan. 16, 1884. Concerning the exact date of his birth we have no certain information. He was a native of New York, and about 58 years of age. After graduating at the Michigan State University, he attended the Garrett Biblical Institute. Soon after he removed to Missouri and was engaged in our educational work for a time. He married, in 1854, Miss Julia Tomlinson, who died four years afterward. He was transferred to the Nebraska Conference in 1869, and stationed at Columbus; in 1870 at Dakota City. From 1871 to 1875 he was presiding elder of Covington district. In 1875 he was appointed to Crete and Pleasant Hill, but was changed to Republican City; the next year, 1876, at Orleans; in 1877 at Lincoln Circuit; in 1878 and 1879 at Osceola; and from 1879 to 1882 at Papillion. His last appointment was in September, 1883, to the Albion District. His first round was completed, and he was just entering upon his second round, when he was smitten by the disease which ended life and labor. Brother Van Doozer married, in 1871, Miss Sarah E. Malloy, who, with two interesting sons, survives him. As a preacher Brother Van Doozer was sound in his theology and scriptural in presenting salvation on the terms of the Gospel, "Repentance toward God, and faith in the Lord Jesus Christ." That school of the prophets, Garrett Biblical Institute, had taught him that our theology is a complete system, compact, harmonious, strong, and all-sufficient. He was clear and forcible in setting forth the momentous themes relating to man's moral state and eternal happiness. His flocks were fed upon solid truth rather than vapid sentimentalism. He built many churches, often with his own hands when help was lacking, which frequently was the case. He was a wise builder of living stones into Christ's spiritual temple. To many throughout these borders his memory "is as ointment poured forth." He was the intimate friend and co-worker with the gifted and sainted White of our Nebraska Conference, to whose sudden death his own decease presented such a striking and painful parallel. He was a Christian hero. He was a wise counselor. He was a devoted husband and a kind, affectionate father. The world has been made richer because he lived, the Church poorer because he died.

Jesse J. Fleharty was born in Jacksonville, Ill., Feb. 5, 1835. He was converted and joined the M. E. Church at the age of seventeen. He entered Knox College, and subsequently Hedding College, but his means being limited, he was not able to graduate. He was honored by the Illinois Wesleyan University with the degrees of A.M. and Ph.B. He was admitted into the Central Illinois Conference in 1858, and served the following appointments: Wyoming, French Creek, Wethersfield, Port Byron, Cambridge, Moline, Berlin, Atkinson, Young America, (now Kirkwood), Buder, Neponset, and Wyoming. He served a few months during the war in the Christian Commission. He was granted a location in 1879 at his own request. In this year he began educational work at Osceola, Nebraska; then at Fullerton, Nebraska, in 1881. He was married to Miss Anna Brace, Dec. 4, 1861. He died at Tampa, Florida, May 2, 1884.

Cincinnati Conferernce.

David Kemper was born in Botetourt County, Va., July 8, 1807, and died in Lebanon, O., March 24, 1884. He was converted at a camp-meeting held near Fincastle, Va., Aug. 30, 1825, and united with the M. E. Church on the 8th of the following month. July, 1833, he received license as a local preacher. Sept. 1, 1834, at Circleville, he entered the traveling connection, and was appointed to Darby Circuit, Ohio Conference. He was ordained deacon at Chillicothe, Oct. 2, 1836, by Bishop Joshua Soule, and elder, at Columbus, Sept. 30, 1838, by Bishop Beverly Waugh. The following appointments were served by him from 1834 to 1869: Darby, Sidney, Coal River Mission, W. Va.; Barboursville, Guyandotte, Charleston, Franklin, New Haven, Germantown, Union, Troy, Urbana Station, Chillicothe District, Franklin again, Eaton, Mechanicsburg, Goshen, Clarksville, Miami, Mainville, Williamsburg, Madisonville, and Bethany. Aug. 30, 1869, the forty-fourth anniversary of his conversion, and also the time that marked the completion of thirty-five years of active and laborious work in the itinerancy, he took a superannuated relation to the Conference, and removed to Lebanon, where he continued to reside until his death. During the Conference year of 1871 and 1872 he supplied the Raysville and Merrittstown Charge. He was married to Miss Sarah A. Gallaher, of Red Lion, O., April 5, 1842. She departed this life Feb. 6, 1883. Brother Kemper was not only a Methodist in name, but also one in all the habits of his life. He kept a strict account of all his business transactions, and every important private or public event was carefully noted in his Journal. During the last thirty years of his life the anniversary of his spiritual birth never took place without he made a written and grateful acknowledgment of the fact. No other event of his life was so important in his estimation as the conversion of his soul. Brother Kemper was a plain and a practical preacher of the Gospel. His modesty bordered on timidity, and yet he had the courage of his convictions. Though superannuated he was not superannuated. He was active in Christian work to the very last. He was a thorough Sunday-school teacher and a faithful class-leader. Three months before his death he was stricken with paralysis. Apprehension was at once awakened as to the final result. Sunday, March 16, he was at all the church services; general class in the morning, preaching both morning and evening, and Sunday-school in the afternoon. He pronounced the benediction at the close of the evening service. He was in a rapturous frame of mind all the day. It was his last Sunday in the earthly sanctuary. The following day he was not well, and on Tuesday he was quite ill. Pleuro-pneumonia had set in, and this, in connection with a complication of diseases, brought him at once to the verge of the grave. His sufferings were intense, but never did a murmur fall from his lips. He was filled with the patience of the blessed Master. Friday following he said to his pastor: "They are making a strong battle to keep me here. I do not know whether they will succeed or not, but one thing I do know, if they fail, I go to Jesus." He then repeated, "To live is Christ, and to die is gain." His strength now rapidly failed him, and he was for the most part unconscious. Monday afternoon his spirit went to the God who gave it. Thus lived and died the pure and the true David Kemper, whose memory is "as ointment poured forth."

Charles Ferguson was born in Loudon County, Va., July 10, 1817. Immediately after his conversion he joined the M. E. Church, under the pastorate of the Rev. W. P. Strickland, Marietta Circuit, O. With quenchless zeal for the salvation of his fellow-men he soon felt a divine call to enter the Christian ministry, which he did as a supply under the presiding elder on French Grant Circuit, Lawrence County, O. The great Head of the Church signalized his approval of the act by the accomplishment of two important events. The first was the conversion of his mother. In the early part of the year he became so intensely concerned for her salvation that day and night he carried her case in prayer to God. One night, while occupying the same room with his presiding elder, he became so agitated that he could not rest, and, rising from bed in an agony of prayer, he pleaded with God for the salvation of his mother. The presiding elder awoke, and, hearing his distressed utterances, he asked, "Why, Ferguson, what is the matter?" The agonized pleader answered, "O, my mother, my unconverted mother! I cannot rest until she is saved." And there, on the naked floor, he "wrestled in prayer with the angel of the covenant" until, toward the break of day, a sense of relief, comfort, and joy pervaded his soul, when he resumed his place in bed, satisfied that God had heard his prayer, and his mother was saved. Some days thereafter he received intelligence from home that the same night, and the same hour in which he was engaged in prayer, his mother was graciously saved. The second was the conversion and admittance into the Church of eleven hundred souls. The year was one of glorious triumph, and clearly designated and confirmed his life-work. Accordingly, he was recommended and received on trial into the traveling connection by the Ohio Conference, at Hamilton, in 1842. The early years of his ministry were spent on fields of labor in West Virginia. Brother Ferguson was admitted into full connection in 1844, and the same year he was united in marriage to Miss Martha, daughter of the Rev. Samuel Robbins, pastor of the Congregational Church at Marietta, O. For fifteen years Mrs. Ferguson consecrated herself in faithful labor to promote the interests of the Church, when the Master called, in 1859, and she sweetly fell asleep in Jesus. His first regular appointment in Ohio was Jackson Circuit, in 1847, and thence onward, with the episode of agent for Springfield Female College in 1853, he pursued uninterruptedly the pastoral work for twenty-eight years, during which period he was married, Oct. 23, 1860, to Mrs. Anderson, his now-bereaved widow. Brother Ferguson's line of appointments were first-class, embracing charges in Cincinnati, Lebanon, Springfield, Dayton, Hamilton, Urbana, Waynesville, Franklin, and Wilmington, when, in 1881, he was superannuated, his health having so failed as to compel him to ask for this relation, which he sustained up to the time of his departure, June 4, 1884, aged sixty-seven years.

Willis M. Boyer was born in Olean, N. Y., June 1, 1836, and died in Manchester, O., Jan. 4, 1884. Brother Boyer embraced religion and joined the M. E. Church, January, 1861, in Ripley, under the labors of Rev. J. S. Peregrine. While residing in Maysville, Ky., he was licensed to exhort and afterward to preach. On returning to Ripley, in 1869, he took work under the presiding elder, Rev. S. Bennett, and was appointed to Laurel Circuit, with Rev. J. P. Porter, preacher in charge. At the Conference of 1870 he was admitted into the Cincinnati Conference on trial, and appointed to Laurel Circuit, where he had spent much of the previous years as a supply. His appointment the third year was desired by the charge, but he was appointed to West Union Circuit, where he remained three years; then to Feesburg, then to Williamsburg, and then to Manchester; at each charge remaining the full term of three years. So acceptable were his labors, that charges where he had served desired his return to them for a second term. He was admitted into full connection in 1872. He was a godly man and a good preacher. His soul was in his work, and the Lord blessed his labors. In 1866 he married Miss Mary J. Edmunds, of East Maysville, Ky. She and their four children are left to mourn the loss of a devoted husband and father. His health had not been good for several years, but he continued to do full work until into the second quarter of his third year at Manchester. At the next session of Conference he took a superannuated relation. His decline was steady and sure, terminating in dropsy. He often expressed a strong faith in Christ, and a joyous assurance of "a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens."

Detroit Conference.

Samuel Bessey was born at Enosburg, Vt., Feb. 2, 1815. In the spring of 1837 he came to Michigan, and in 1842 was licensed to preach by the Quarterly Conference at Novi, and joined the Michigan Conference in 1844. His appointments were as follows: Livingston Circuit, Mapleton, Ingham, Manchester, Tompkins Circuit, Dearborn, Clarkston, Utica, Newport and Algonac, Oxford, Almont, Oakland, Rome, Dundee, Clinton, Fairfield, Dixborough. Aug. 22, 1838, Brother Bessey was united in marriage with Miss Harriet Huntington, who shared with him for forty-five years the work and sacrifices of life, and for twenty-nine years those of an itinerant ministry. Brother Bessey was a good preacher. It had been his aim to secure such a method and spirit in his sermons as would enable him to lead men to Christ, and to this point his studies all converged. He was in the active ministry for thirty years, and always maintained a blameless and irreproachable character. He was unwearied in labor, but when the infirmities of age began to press upon him, at the age of fifty-nine, he retired into the superannuated relation, and devoted his time to the cultivation of a little plot of ground. But he did not lose his interest in the work of the Church, nor his readiness to participate, as far as practicable, in all its services. Though unable to hear distinctly, he was seldom absent from the public ministration of the word. He took care of all interests intrusted to him, and honestly endeavored to make the most of his opportunities. On the 31st of March, 1884, he was thrown from a carriage, in the city of Grand Rapids, and instantly killed. But all who knew him pondered the sad intelligence of his death with feelings of grateful assurance that it was but a sudden call to rest and to glory.

John Orlando Bancroft was born in Trumbull County, O., Aug. 16, 1826, and died at Vassar, Tuscola County, Mich., Dec. 21, 1883. At eight years of age his religious impressions were deep and definite, but he failed to gain a clear assurance of acceptance with God till he was twelve. His parents were Presbyterians, but he chose a home in the M. E. Church, and became a member of it at the age of sixteen, attending all the public services of his church, and regularly maintaining the family altar in the absence of his father. But the conviction that he was divinely called to preach the Gospel of his Master became constant and resistless. A corresponding conviction reached his pastoral brethren. Then followed his authorization to exhort, by Rev. Thomas Seeley, in April, 1851; a year later to preach; and in 1853 he was received on trial into the Michigan Conference, and appointed to the Lexington Circuit. His first year was one of great labor and of great success. After this we find him laboring in Armada, South Flint, Goodrich, Tuscola and Watrousville, Brighton, Pinckney, Holly, Vassar, Clarkston, Oxford, Hess Street, East Saginaw and Midland City. In all these twenty-eight years of labor he lost only eight Sabbaths by sickness. The seven churches he built, the parsonages he repaired, the old debts he paid, and the one thousand souls he led to Christ in revival effort, tell, in eloquent eulogy, the story of his faithfulness and efficiency in the vineyard. His preaching was clear, forcible, scriptural, fruitful. Truly a good man in Israel fell when a stroke, sudden as the lightning's flash, literally burst the loving heart of John Orlando Bancroft.

George Hills Field was born at Smithville Ontario, Sept. 21, 1835, and died at Detroit on the 10th of November, 1883. Brother Field was converted at about sixteen years of age, and at eighteen received license to preach. The following seven years he spent in earnest preparation for ministerial work, dividing that period between the school of his native town and "Victoria College." In 1860 he entered the ministry of the Wesleyan Church in Canada. Four years later he was united in marriage with Miss Jane E. Adams, who has been in every sense his real and efficient helper in all work and care and sorrow for the almost twenty years of their united life. His ministerial work in Canada was limited to five years, one at Avenmore, two at Niagara, and two at Port Dalhousie. Reading and conversation led him to desire a home in the United States, and a trip to Michigan, in 1872, led to his acquaintance with Dr. Ninde, and to an almost immediate call from Dr. D. C. Jacokes, then presiding elder of Adrian District, to fill a vacancy on Medina Circuit, where he went at once, with his family. At the session of 1872 he was admitted into the Detroit Conference, and appointed to Ridgeway Circuit; and closing a three years' term of most successful labor there, he was stationed at Manchester, in 1875 and 1876, during which period he experienced the premonitions of the malady which finally terminated his labor and his life; and at the Conference of 1877 he took a superannuated relation and went, with his family, to Southern California. Receiving little or no benefit to his health in that climate, he returned to Michigan, and the Detroit Conference of 1878 appointed him to Caro, where he remained two years, with great success in his work and universally beloved. After two years at Caro he was recalled to Ridgeway, where, for one year, he worked as Brother Field would work, and suffered as never before from his rapidly advancing disease, the form of which was goiterous tumor of the throat. He left Ridgeway at the ensuing Conference, and, settling at Flint, engaged in business, preaching occasionally, but steadily declined in health. His faith in God never wavered, but gave him a hopeful and cheerful outlook, enabling him to say, in the words of the text of his last sermon, "When Christ, who is our life, shall appear, then shall ye also appear with him in glory." With dubious prospects as to the results of a surgical operation, yet he decided for it as a last but faint hope for relief. On the morning of the operation he led in family devotion, reading the twenty-third Psalm, and in his prayer committing all to God, as he looked down the "shadow of the valley of death." Soon after the operation all hope vanished as in a moment, and he calmly said it to his wife and brother, and at once extending his hand, said, "Good-bye," and George H. Field, of precious memory, was beyond the reach of care and pain forever.

Curtis Mosher.—[Obituary not received.]

Morgan H. Davis came to Michigan from Centralia, Canada, September, 1882, and was appointed as pastor of the M. E. Church at Millington, in the Saginaw District, then under the supervision of Rev. J. S. Smart. He entered upon his work under a voluntary but emphatic promise to the presiding elder to do faithful work. He served for one year, and at the session of 1883 was received into the Detroit Conference, and returned to the same charge, and, on Dec. 2, 1883, his "body and his charge laid down, and ceased at once to work and live." He had delivered his second message on that Sabbath day, and, after announcing the hymn with which the evening service was to close, he attempted to sit down, but fell upon the seat, stricken with paralysis. He had kept his promise of faithful service, and he fell in the pulpit, and, by his fall, enforced upon the congregation the heavenly counsel he had just given. The people sang, "Are you Ready when the Bridegroom Cometh?" and he answered with a shout of "Hallelujah!" and they wept as the bereaved weep. He remained conscious for two or three hours, and testified that the angels had come to bear him to a home above, and admonished those present to have their lamps trimmed and burning. He was a good man and useful, and his death was triumphant.

Central New York Conference.

Joseph Chapman was born in Connecticut, Oct. 5, 1801, and died at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. O. E. Danford, of Sodus, N. Y., on Sabbath morning, Sept. 7, 1884. In the spring of 1818, when he was in his seventeenth year, he went to New York city to learn a trade. In August of that year he went, with some of the New York Methodists, to a camp-meeting on Long Island, and there, as he expressed it, he “received a mighty baptism of the Holy Spirit.” Soon after this “mighty baptism” he united with the M. E. Church worshiping in Duane Street, under the pastorate of Rev. Seth Crowell. In the month of April, 1823, he was united in marriage to Frances Washburn, who, from that date, became the faithful partner of his joys and sorrows and his efficient helper in the labors and trials of a long life. Their wedded life continued through the almost unparalleled period of nearly sixty-two years. In 1831 he became a resident of Elmira, N. Y., and there, on the 5th of November, 1831, he was licensed to preach, and was recommended for admission to the Genesee Conference on the 24th of June, 1832. At the session of the Conference in August, 1832, he was admitted on trial, and appointed to Troupsburg Circuit. His subsequent appointments were as follows: Painted Post, Seneca, Sodus, Walworth and Pultneyville, Sulphur Springs (now Clifton Springs) and Manchester, Rushville and Middlesex. In 1842 he was returned located. Being readmitted, he was, in 1843, appointed to Orange, Cohocton, Jerusalem, Coke's Chapel and Bristol, Rogersville, Groveland, South Sodus, Junius, Dresden, Cameron, Avoca, Bethel and Voak, Henrietta and Rush, and Junius. At the Conference of 1866 he requested, and the Conference granted him, the superannuated relation. He was then sixty-five years old, and had begun to feel the infirmities of age, and the wear and tear of many years of unremitting ministerial labor. His wife was in a very feeble condition, and it was chiefly on her account that he retired from the effective ranks, that he might secure for her the comforts and quietness of a permanent home. Brother Chapman was without reproach; a man to be implicitly trusted. Being “in Christ” while he lived, he died “in the Lord,” and is blessed “from henceforth.”

Richard Videau was born in Lenham, County Kent, England, March 23, 1825. At the age of seventeen he gave his heart to God, and consecrated his all to the Lord's service. His experience was most satisfactory to himself, and was made a gospel to all who knew him. A wonderful yearning for the salvation of others expressed itself in tears and prayers and earnest pleadings. In October, 1846, he married Miss Sylvia Eliza Sampson, sister of Rev. W. H. Sampson, D.D. In 1859 he supplied the East Charleston Circuit. He was then appointed assistant on Mansfield and Tioga Charge, which then included Covington and Mill Creek. In 1862 he supplied the Springfield (now the Leona) Charge; in 1863 and 1864, the Sylvania Charge; and, in 1865 and 1866, Forksville. At the close of his first year at Forksville he was received as a probationer into the East Genesee Conference, and was re-appointed for the second year by the Bishop. He next served the Smithfield Charge two years, then Bristol Centre two, and Enfield Centre and Wellsburg, each one year. Again he retired on account of ill-health, but, in 1877, he took the place of the pastor at Daggett's Mills, whose health had failed, and for a considerable part of the year was abundant in labors there. In all these fields of labor God gave him to see the fruit of his labors; in some of them an abundance. On the Bristol Centre Charge one hundred and eighty professed conversion, and on the Forksville more than sixty. He was a trustee of the Mansfield Classical Seminary for nine years, and gave liberally toward that institution, and, when it was destroyed by fire, he generously gave to it again, and heartily acted as one of the building committee. He was also a man of pleasing address, of very ready utterance, and of a most affectionate and genial nature. He carried sunshine and diffused it wherever he went. In his Conference he was the first of a class of eleven to be crowned.

John W. Jenner was born near Paterson, N. J., March 23, 1833, and died at Cardiff, N. Y., Jan. 13, 1884. He was converted in 1853, and, in 1871, by the appointment of the presiding elder, went to Sodus Point and labored upon that new and struggling charge as a supply. During this year Brother Jenner succeeded in pushing to completion the church edifice which had been commenced a few months before he came, and also in raising sufficient subscriptions to clear the society from indebtedness. Oct. 10, 1872, he joined the Central New York Conference, at Palmyra, N. Y., and was returned to Sodus Point, where he received twenty-five members into the Church. At the close of this year he was appointed to the Freeville and Peruville Charge, where he labored for three years, repaired both churches, and left them free of debt. He was instrumental in promoting a gracious revival of religion, the fruits of which remain. Thence he went to Van Ettenville, which charge he served for two years, and from there to Navarino. He labored here for three years, repaired the church, and did much good in many ways. From thence he was appointed to Cicero. Here, during his two years of service, he repaired the church edifice from the foundation, besides raising a fund for the parsonage. He was then appointed to Cardiff, where he suddenly closed his labors on earth, after saying, “Tell the Church my feet are on the Rock, my trust is in Jesus.” Brother Jenner was instant in his work every-where. Viewing him from the stand-point even of a very slight acquaintance one could but be impressed with his Christian manliness. He aspired to none other than the humblest place in the service of the Master, and then labored to give himself entirely to his work.

William M. Fisher was born in Enfield, Tompkins County, N. Y., Oct. 11, 1848, and died in Deland, Fla., March 27, 1884. He was converted in 1866, while a student at Angelica Academy, and soon after he united with the M. E. Church. In 1880 he united on probation with the Central New York Conference, and served with acceptability Alpine and Cayutaville, Sheldrake, and Varna. In January last circumstances relating to the health of his family led him to remove, by transfer, to Florida; and in that milder climate he trusted he might still go on advancing the good cause. He was warmly welcomed by the Church at Deland to which he was appointed. There being no parsonage, he directed his first effort toward building one, and in nine weeks from the time he arrived he had, by personal solicitation, secured the funds and built a parsonage, and was occupying it, when attacked with pneumonia. It took but twenty-five days for the disease to do its work unto death. During the early part of his sickness he was hopeful of recovery, but ere long there came to him the thought that his work might soon be terminated. Much of his time was spent in quoting Scripture, and in talking of Christ to all who came to see him. He never preached better sermons than those he preached on his dying bed, so full of warning to those who were living in worldliness, although living by profession in the Church. On one occasion, a short time before his death, he said to his beloved wife, “My dear, I want you to be so good, so very good.” At another time he said, “Promise me that you will fight sin and whisky as long as you live.” A few moments before death he gave his final utterance in the words, “Hallelujah! hallelujah! He is the Searcher of hearts!” and was gone. In his death an affectionate wife parted with a devoted husband; parents with a worthy and honored son; and the Church with one of her young, devout, and increasingly useful ministers. He was a man of one work. that of preaching a saving Gospel; and to this end he consecrated most studiously his best thought.

Robert Hogoboom was born in Arcadia, Wayne County, N. Y., Nov. 22, 1822, and died in Austin, Nev., Aug. 9, 1884. He was converted at the age of seventeen, and very soon thereafter heard the Master's voice, saying, "Go, preach my Gospel." His mental struggles were presented to deter him from the work, but a godly mother said: "If God calls, my son, obey the call." This advice helped him to decide his life-work. He entered upon his preparatory studies at the Marion Academy, in his native county, and afterward pursued them at the Genesee Wesleyan Seminary, Lima, N. Y. He joined the Genesee Conference on trial in 1846. On the division of that Conference, in 1848, his lot fell with the East Genesee, of which he remained a member until the re-arrangement of the boundaries, in 1872, when he became a member of the Central New York Conference. He served successively at Sheldrake, Chemung, Victor, Geneseo, Benton Centre, Ovid and Sheldrake, Penfield, Newark, Elmira, First Church; Rochester, Frank Street; Corning, Waterloo, Palmyra, Geneva District, Cazenovia District, Ithaca, State Street; Moravia and Watkins. He was a member of the General Cönference of 1872. At the earnest request of Bishop Warren he took a transfer at the last session of Conference to Austin, Nev., and before he had finished his first year of service there was called to his reward. He was married to Miss Esther Calkins, of Victor, N. Y., July 8, 1850 She has been a most efficient helper of her husband in all his work during the years of itinerant toil. Brother Hogoboom was a remarkable man. The list of appointments gives but a faint idea of the work he performed. On every charge there was something done. He could not be idle, and never allowed things to stagnate. He usually remained his full term, and, in a number of instances, it seemed that his place could not be filled when the "limit" was reached. Revivals of great power were enjoyed on many of his charges, and large numbers were added to the churches through his instrumentality. Improvements in church property were the order of the day wherever he went. New and repaired church edifices and parsonages sprung up in his track as if by magic. His last great triumph in this line was the erection of the State Street Church, Ithaca. It is doubtful if any other minister in the Conference would have thought of it as a possibility, but he not only thought it possible, but practicable, and before many of us would have decided to make the effort the church was up and dedicated, and more than a hundred souls converted. His energy knew no bounds. It was this that led him to accept the call to the "Far West." He had high hopes, and was planning for large things in that far-off land, where he almost literally ceased at once to work and live. He was generous, almost to a fault. His sympathies were easily aroused, and he knew no limit to their expression, only the bottom of his pocket, which he often reached.

Ohio Conference.

Barton Lowe was born in Clermont County, O., Nov. 8, 1808, and departed this life at his home, near Winchester, Adams County, O., Jan. 31, 1884. In 1827 he was converted. He was licensed to preach in 1832, and in 1842 united with the Ohio Conference, and was appointed to Troy Circuit. Brother Lowe filled the following appointments: Lewisburg, Union Circuit, Batavia, Union Circuit, Aberdeen, Winchester Circuit, Washington Court-house, Piketon, Rockville, Burlington, superannuated one year, Marysville, Hebron, Asbury, Deavertown, Rehoboth, Irville, Elizabethtown, Asbury, Wilkesville, Patriot, Swan Creek, Letart. In 1874 he took a superannuated relation, which was continued till he was released from his earthly tabernacle. He was married thrice. First to Miss Mary E. Carr, who shared his itinerant labors for thirty years. His second wife was Miss M. E. Shepherd; they were married May 6, 1863; she died in 1876. The third was Miss B. E. Lawrence, whom he married Feb. 27, 1877. She survives him. Brother Lowe was a good man, a faithful pastor, and had many seals to his ministry. He had heavenly visions of his future home. He said the angels were about his bed. All was well with him, for he certainly had an abundant entrance ministered to him unto his mansion not made with hands eternal in the heavens.

Richard Pitzer was born near Newark, Licking County, O., Feb. 7, 1825. In early life he experienced religion, and united with the M. E. Church; in 1844 he was admitted on trial in the Ohio Conference, and received the following appointments: Pomeroy, Coleville, M'Arthur, Baltimore, Hebron, Asbury, Pickerton, New Albany, Rushville, London, Darbyville, West Rushville, Deer Creek, Kingston, Bainbridge, Bloomingburg, then supernumerary and superannuated until 1879. In 1880 his relation was changed to superannuated, which continued until his death, April 22, 1884, at Knoxville, Tenn., to which place he had removed between one and two years ago. While he sustained an effective relation to the Conference he was an acceptable and successful pastor, generally having revivals of religion in his charges. After he had changed his relation he still preached occasionally, and with his usual fervor and ability. He was a preacher of more than ordinary ability, and had a warm and sympathetic heart. He was a true and devoted friend and an affectionate parent.

Nathaniel Westerman was born in March, 1806, came to America when seventeen, and settled with his parents in Baltimore County, Md. He was converted at the age of twenty-two, and joined the M. E. Church. In 1830 he was licensed as a local preacher, and in 1841 was received on trial in the Baltimore Conference. Taking the advice of Bishop Waugh, he went to Missouri, where there was more need for his services than in the Baltimore Conference. He was received into the Missouri Conference, having served under the presiding elder a few months. In 1842 he was appointed to Lexington Circuit, then to Booneville and Columbia, when he was transferred to the Ohio Conference, and served North Bend Circuit, Venice, New Richmond Circuit, Goshen, Madisonville, Lancaster, Jackson, Deer Creek Circuit, Bainbridge, Staunton, New Holland, Kingston, Barlow, Cookville, Taylorsville, Irville, and Deavertown. In 1874 he received a superannuated relation, and spent the remainder of his days with his daughters, dividing his time between Bloomington, Ill., with Mrs. Simmons, and Columbus, O., with Mrs. Sniffin. He closed his earthly pilgrimage Feb. 29, 1884. He was a good specimen of a Christian minister, of deep and universal piety. He was a useful servant of the Church, filling his appointments acceptably and profitably to the spiritual interest of his charge. He was a good Gospel preacher and a Christian gentleman.

Frederick Skidmore Thurston was born in Saint Lawrence County, N. Y., July 5, 1830. He was converted when twelve years old. Having attended college for a few years at Berea and Delaware, O., he entered the ministry of the M. E. Church at the session of the Ohio Conference, held at Newark, in 1856. At that time he was appointed to Jackson Circuit, where he remained two years. In 1857 he was married to Miss Emeline Morgan. In 1858 he was pastor on Gallipolis Circuit, after which he was stationed as follows: New Plymouth, Amesville, Barlow, Letart, Bainbridge, Bourneville, Adelphi, Tarlton, Rushville, Uniontown, Johnstown, New Salem, Jerome, and Lafayette. He never was a rugged man, and the years of toil through which he had labored had very much enfeebled him. The severe labor of his last circuit incident to our work in the winter helped to bring on pleuro-pneumonia, of which he died March 20, 1884. Modesty was characteristic of Brother Thurston. He exemplified Paul's teaching: "Not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think; but to think soberly, according as God hath dealt to every man the measure of faith." His demeanor seemed to say: "My proper place is to sit at the feet of Jesus and his ministers; yet, if it be God's will I preach, I will do it to his glory." With all that was retiring in his nature he was brave and courageous. He submitted not only in meekness, but in love, to the entire economy of the Church. What he loved he loved ardently, and what he hated he hated with all his mind, soul, and strength. Wherever he went he was instrumental in bringing many to Christ. In the pulpit he was a zealous, experimental, and practical preacher. His feeling and faithful heart fitted him well to minister to troubled souls. His heart was in his work. Indeed, he had no heart for any other work. His tender, tremulous, pleading voice in prayer seemed to send fervent petitions up to the throne of God and down into the souls of men.

Joseph M'Cuskey was born, Jan. 10, 1846, at Malta, O. His mother died when he was only a few days old. The one he knew as mother and loved tenderly took him when he was only nine months old, and early trained him for God's service. He was an obedient, industrious, and conscientious boy. While quite young he entered the army as a private in the Sixty-second Regiment, O. V. I. During his army life he joined the Church, was converted, and received his call to preach the Gospel. After the close of the war he attended college, first at the Ohio University, then at the Ohio Wesleyan University, where he was graduated in the class of 1874. He was received into the Ohio Conference at its session held at Newark, O., Sept., 1874 His appointments were as follows: Johnstown Circuit, West Lancaster, Harrisburg, Heath Chapel, Columbus; Pataskala, Cooleville, then superannuated. He was eight years an effective and two years a superannuated member of the Conference. He was married, Nov. 10, 1878, to Miss Alice Walton. He died Sept. 9, 1884, aged thirty-eight years. He leaves a widow and two little boys. He was a close student, an industrious and faithful pastor, and a good preacher. While he may not have excelled in any one thing, he was evenly good in all. Late in his sickness he said: "When we come near to death, it does not look as it did from the distance. It loses its unwelcome features; the everlasting arms are beneath me; 'Behold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God.'" His sick-room was a cheerful one, his end peaceful.

John Kemper was born at Thornville, O., May 31, 1813, and died at his home, near Graham, Mo., March 9, 1884, in his seventy-first year. He was converted at the age of twenty, and joined the M. E. Church. He soon became an active worker in the Church, and in 1843, was licensed to exhort. His first license to preach was given in 1845. For nine years he served the Church as a local preacher, preaching almost every Sabbath. In 1854 he joined the Ohio Conference, and was appointed to Deer Creek Circuit, Royalton, Johnstown, Irville. During 1857 he was attacked with a severe bronchial affection, which compelled him to take a supernumerary relation, and in 1859 he was superannuated, which relation he sustained till death. He was married, Jan. 1, 1852, to Miss Elizabeth Hanke, who, with one son and two daughters, survives him. He was a good preacher, earnest and instructive, loyal and true. He believed in positive Christianity. He presented it; he lived it; and his works follow him.

Wisconsin Conference.

Hiram Hersey died, Feb. 9, 1884, in Hastings, Neb. He was born in Maine, Sept. 9, 1812. He moved to Illinois in 1837, thence to Wisconsin, where he taught the first school in Beloit. In 1843 he was married to Miss Nancy Fawcett, who survives him. He was converted when young, and, in 1848, united with the Wisconsin Conference, of which he remained a member until death. He gave the strength of his manhood to the ministry, and preached in the wilds of Wisconsin in an early day with fidelity and zeal, resulting in the conversion of many. Ministers there are more learned and eloquent than he was, but none more faithful and true. About fifteen years ago he took a superannuated relation, on account of poor health, and moved to Iowa, and thence to Nebraska. Three years ago he came to Hastings and preached more or less in the country around, sometimes with great success. Five weeks ago he went to his appointment. The wind was cold and the house warm. He went to his afternoon appointment, and rode home the same day, taking the severe cold which ended his life. He leaves a wife and two children. Brother Hersey died as he lived, in the faith, leaving more than forty years of fidelity and truth as evidence of his Christian character.

Jennings T. Boynton was born in Pennsylvania, Nov. 2, 1833, and died in Wisconsin, May 27, 1884. He was married to his now bereaved wife, April 11, 1857, was converted in 1860, licensed to preach in August, 1867, and joined the Wisconsin Conference on trial in Oct., 1868. Brother Boynton, for over fifteen years, did the work of an itinerant, and the blessing of God went with him. He was a very active and hard worker from his conversion, as Sunday-school superintendent, class-leader, and in the ministry. He held meetings, had a glorious revival, with eighty conversions as a result, and built a church near his old home, in Trenton, Dodge County, on the Fox Lake Charge, before he received his first license to preach. His itinerant life was laborious, and he literally wore his life out. He served Chilton Charge two years, Markesan, two; Rosendale, three; Horicon and Juneau, two; Sheboygan Falls, three; again at Rosendale, one; from thence he was sent to Jefferson, which proved to be his last, for he went from there home to die. He was a peace-maker and debt-payer, two marked characteristics essential in the make-up of a Methodist preacher. He was a man of warm and strong attachments, and made fast friends, and it was always hard to sever his relations with the people. Brother Boynton had no need to make the ministry simply a means of support, for, financially, it was a loss, but a woe was upon him if he preached not the Gospel; and the Lord blessed him in his labors, and for him there was a well-earned "well-done."

Southern California Conference.

Thomas Cookson was born in the town of Unity, Me., on the 15th of August, 1810, and was, consequently, seventy-four years of age at the time of his death. He was married to Roxana Farrow, at Ilesborough, Me., on the 25th of December, 1833. On the 3d of April, 1852, he was married to Mary J. Penney. Brother Cookson was converted at a camp-meeting, and joined the M. E. Church when about fourteen years of age. In 1853 he joined the East Maine Conference of the M. E. Church, and filled the following-named appointments: Aroostook, Mission, Robinston, Penobscot, Harrington, Lincolnville, Knox, Westport and China, remaining in the most of them for two years, this being as long as the rules of the Church at that time permitted. In 1869 he came to California, and was transferred from the East Maine Conference to the California Conference, receiving his first appointment in 1870, which was Ione, and, following this, Indian Springs, Brownsville, and Colusa. In 1875 the Southern California Conference was formed, and Brother Cookson became a member of it. He was, in that year, appointed to Plano, where he had a gracious revival under his earnest labors, but was unable, through ill-health, to remain during the year. The next year he took a superannuated relation to the Conference, retaining that relation to the time of his death, filling

Norrereau, as a supply, Oakdale and Knight's Ferry, and Westport. Brother Cookson was a good preacher, and a man of more than ordinary attainments. He was laid to rest in sure and certain hope of the resurrection of the just.

Texas Conference.

William Burley was one of the first members of the Texas Conference. He departed this life at Harrisburg, April 11, 1884, in full triumph of faith, leaving a wife and children to mourn his absence. His age was about eighty years.

Benjamin O. Watrous was born in Tennessee in 1811. He moved to Alabama, where he remained until 1856. He was converted and joined Ebenezer Church in 1847. He was present at the organization of the Texas Conference, in which he was a presiding elder five years. He died in hope of a glorious resurrection, May 5, 1884, at Brenham.

Spencer Hardwell was born in the State of Tennessee. He was converted at Nashville, moved to Texas in 1850, and joined the M. E. Church at Austin. He became a member of the Texas Conference very soon after its organization, and remained a faithful worker until called home. He was taken ill at the Conference at Paris, November, 1884, and lived about four hours after reaching his family. He leaves a wife and children to mourn their loss.

Southern Illinois Conference.

John T. Johnson, at the time of his death, was the oldest itinerant in the Southern Illinois Conference. He was born in Sumner County, Tenn., Aug. 13, 1805. He was licensed to preach in 1825, and joined the Illinois Conference, which convened that year at Bloomington, Ind. His appointments were as follows: Whitewater, Ind.; Apple Creek, Ill.; Vernon, Columbus, Paola, and Vevay Circuits, Ind. During this time he had for his presiding elders Samuel Thompson, Peter Cartwright, John Strange, and Allen Wiley. At the division of the Conference, in 1832, he fell into the Indiana Conference, and afterward filled successively Salem, Brownstown, Bedford, Vernon, and Connersville Circuits. He located in 1836. In 1849 he was re-admitted in the Illinois Conference, and was appointed as follows: Wabash Circuit, Lawrenceville, Olney, Mount Carmel, Benton, Richview, Tamaroa, Spring Garden, and Hickory Hill. He again located in 1862, and was re-admitted in 1871, and granted a superannuated relation, which he held to the close of his life. Brother Johnson was a Christian gentleman, a plain, practical, faithful Methodist preacher. Thousands in Illinois and Indiana remember him to love him. Having a comfortable competence, he never was a claimant on the Conference. At his pleasant rural home, near Mount Vernon, he died, March 18, 1884, with a blessed hope. His life was faithful and his death was peaceful.

George W. Farmer was born in Barren County, Ky., in 1838, and died in the Hospital for the Insane at Anna, Ill., Aug. 24, 1884, aged forty-six years. At an early age he removed, with his parents, to the State of Mississippi. From thence he removed to Memphis, Tenn. He entered the Mississippi Conference of the M. E. Church, South, in 1860. The civil war broke out almost immediately, and all his hopes of a successful ministry in that country were blasted, because his entire sympathies were against the rebellion and in favor of the Union. He resolved to reach the Union lines, and, after a perilous journey, did so, reaching Southern Illinois safely in 1861. Here he enlisted in the Sixth Regiment Illinois Cavalry, perhaps the most famous cavalry regiment of the West, and remained with it in camp and march and battle-field until his health entirely failed; and, returning to Illinois, he engaged in teaching until 1866, when he was married to Miss Sarah E. Cheney, of Pope County, and was admitted on trial in the Southern Illinois Conference the same year, and sent to Reynoldsburg Circuit. His health being poor, he discontinued at the end of the year, and did not re-enter the Conference until 1869, when he was again admitted, and remained in the Conference until his decease. He was appointed to the following charges: De Soto, Highland, East Saint Louis, Shawneetown, Mount Vernon Circuit, Nashville, Elsah, Bunker Hill, Tamaroa, and from 1882 till the time of his death sustained a superannuated relation. As a preacher, Brother Farmer excelled. As a writer, he was fluent and forcible. His rhetoric was faultless, his wit sparkling, his logic powerful, his arguments almost unanswerable. His sermons were carefully written and memorized, and then delivered in such a manner as to charm the cultured and intelligent, captivate the careless, comfort the saint, arouse the sinner, and astonish all. Though strong in mind when at his best, he was never strong in body, and his constantly failing health, coupled with trials and adversities, gradually produced a corresponding effect upon his mind, and, as the shadows came over him, he was committed to the home for the unfortunates. In the late evening of his life the clouds that hung over his mind and soul were rifted and removed, and the renewed baptism of the Holy Ghost sat upon him as a refiner's fire. His last words were touching and satisfactory to all his friends that he died in great peace.

Rock River Conference.

Henry Hill was born, Feb. 13, 1819, in Clermont, N. H., and died in Chicago, Ill., Sept. 1, 1884. He finished his earthly career in joyful expectation of eternal life. He was led to the Saviour in early life, he gave his heart to God when only seven years of age. As he grew to manhood he became profoundly convinced that he was called of God to preach the Gospel. Immediately after he was graduated he joined the New Hampshire Conference on trial. He was ordained deacon in 1846 by Bishop Hedding, and, two years later, elder by Bishop Waugh. Brother Hill was a man of mighty faith in God. He believed in the doctrines and promises of the blessed word, and he preached with great earnestness, power, and success. After laboring one year in Sandwich, N. H., two years in Ashland, and one in Bath, he was sent to Lancaster, one of the leading appointments in the Conference. He spent one year at Kingston, and was then sent to Great Falls, Mass., to organize a second church, and this task, with the divine blessing, was gloriously accomplished. As a result of his earnest labors about three hundred persons were converted, and a large, flourishing church was organized. In 1853 he was stationed at Amesbury. His next station was at Rochester, N. H., where he remained two years, and was then sent to Nashua, then to Manchester, which was the best appointment within the bounds of the Conference. At the close of the second year his health failed, and he took a supernumerary relation. In 1861, when the war of the rebellion broke out, he hastened to offer his services in defense of flag and country. He enlisted, and was appointed chaplain of the Third New Hampshire Volunteers, in which position he served with great fidelity and heroism until the close of the war. He took an active part in thirty-three pitched battles, and was under fire in a large number of skirmishes. He was faithful, pre-eminently faithful, in the discharge of his duties, often in his labor of love going far beyond his power of endurance. He loved the soldiers and, in return, was loved by them. At the close of the war he was appointed by President Lincoln chaplain and superintendent of Webster Hospital, in Manchester, N. H., which position he held for several years. In 1869 he came West and supplied the church in Dunleith, Ill., for nearly two years, and then joined the Rock River Conference. In 1871 he was stationed at Simpson Church, Chicago, (now Paulina Street,) where he remained three years, then at Halstead Street Church two years. At the close of his second year his health was greatly impaired, and desiring a change, he was stationed at Lockport, where his health rapidly declined, and, at the close of the year 1878, he was sent to Peotone. This was his last charge. During the year 1880 he became convinced that the affection of his brain was growing constantly worse, and he realized that he must relinquish all hope of active work, and, in the fall of the same year, he took a superannuated relation. He was married on the 8th of May, 1844, to Miss Sarah A. Henderson, a young lady endowed with rare qualities of Christian womanhood. She was, to the end of his life, his devoted wife and constant inspiration. Brother Hill leaves behind an untarnished reputation, and the record of a life crowned with work well done. His active labor covered a period of thirty-six years, and, during this time, he was a fearless champion of liberty, an earnest advocate of temperance, a strong friend of education, and an enthusiastic supporter of the cause of missions.

Cyrus F. Kryder was born of Methodist parents in Cedarville, Stephenson County, Ill., Jan. 15, 1851, and died at Oregon, Ill., Jan. 5, 1884. He was converted at the age of thirteen, and united with the Methodist Church soon after. While attending the high school at Freeport he was induced, by Brother Crews, to enter the ministry. He accordingly entered the North-western University, and was graduated in June, 1878, when he took the Harvard Church until October, when he joined the Rock River Conference, and was appointed to the Shannon and Van Brocklin Charge. A great revival at Van Brocklin the first year resulted in making it a separate charge, to which Brother Kryder was re-appointed. Again a great revival followed, and he was returned the third year. During the year, Hooper Crews, on his dying bed at Oregon, requested that Brother Kryder succeed him in that pastorate. The request was granted, and three years after, in the same room, Brother Kryder left us to meet Brother Crews in heaven. "Strange coincidence," he said, "Brother Crews dying on his third year, and I on mine." Brother Kryder was ordained deacon in 1880, at Rockford, by Bishop Hurst, and elder at Aurora, in 1882, by Bishop Harris. He was united in marriage to Miss Jennie Pattison, of Freeport, June 14, 1881. Near the last of November Brother Kryder was attacked with a fatal fever, against which he manfully struggled for seven sad weeks, when his faithful wife broke to him the fact that death was inevitably near. He loved his family and his Church, and assured them that he could brave it some time longer. He looked up and said, "We have been very happy together." After a little pause, he added, "Well, heaven is a very happy place: in a few days I shall see my Saviour." The next day he bade all good-bye, and whispered, "It will not be long, only a day. I will love you always, always." He said no more, but went where we all hope to rest erewhile. Cyrus F. Kryder was an honest student, a sublime character, and a faithful preacher. He could not do a thing unworthy of himself as a man and a Christian. He was eminently a "good man;" a man of intelligence, courage, affection, purity, truth, and integrity. He was a studious, accurate, orthodox, earnest, popular, and successful preacher. To know him was to love him with an everlasting love, was to love him always. A young man of great usefulness and greater promise has left us for great reward.

James Bush was born in Sheffield, England. Converted at the age of twelve, he was licensed to exhort at seventeen, when at once his name was placed on the local list of preachers, where it remained until he came to America, in 1849. He first settled in Naugatuck, Conn., preaching regularly as a local preacher until he removed West, when he was appointed to the regular duties of the circuit in connection with Rock River Conference. For twenty-nine years he continued, with but an occasional rest; and by the purity of his life, his kindness in word and deed, and by his earnest effort in preaching and teaching divine truths, he alike endeared himself to his brethren in the ministry, and those placed under his charge. He was a genial friend, a devout Christian, and a devoted Methodist. No one had truer friends than he, nor more appreciative listeners, when he preached. He died as he had lived and wrought, confident in Christian faith, submissive to the will of God. No soul was ever saddened by his severity, no hope darkened by his criticism, no penitent discouraged by his neglect. Just before his death he was heard to say, "He giveth his beloved sleep." To his beloved and eminently helpful wife all extend warmest sympathy in the sad bereavement. The funeral was largely attended by many clergyman, as well as the entire neighborhood in which he labored, marking the great esteem in which he was held. His remains were taken to Rose Hill Cemetery, near Chicago, for interment, according to his expressed wish. "He rests from his labors, and his works do follow him."

Luman Andrus Sanford was born in Newtown, Conn., July 13, 1807, and died in Sterling, Ill., Dec. 5, 1883. He was received into the New York Conference at its session in 1839, and appointed to the Wethersfield Circuit, but, by a division of territory, was thrown into the Troy Conference. His highest energy and success was reached when he was appointed by Bishop Hedding to State Street, Troy, N. Y., with its membership of five hundred, and a large company of probationers lately received under the labors of the celebrated J. N. Maffit. In 1834 he was married to Julia A. Carpenter, who shared his toils and triumphs for over thirty years and then passed to her reward from Sycamore, Ill. In 1856, in impaired health, he decided to move West. He came to Ela, Ill., and settled upon a farm. But in the autumn of the same year he was transferred to the Rock River Conference, and stationed at Court Street, Rockford. For fourteen years he took important charges in the Conference. But for the last thirteen years of his life he was in a broken state of health, and could not hold to continuous work. He occasionally preached for different denominations and towns, giving great satisfaction. On July 30, 1867, he was married to Mrs. Gurley E. Ross, of Chicago, who is now left a widow. Brother Sanford appreciated that nothing but entire devotion to God can furnish any man for the work of the Gospel ministry. In the early part of his ministry he came into the experience of perfect love. He records that he did not retain an unbroken witness of this experience, but at different times it was very vividly renewed. He was a genial, intelligent companion, painstaking and neat in his pulpit preparations, as sketches and sermons indicate. For forty-five years he was a constant herald of our risen Lord, and many were gathered into the Church under his labors.

Theodore H. Haseltine was born, Feb. 12, 1837, at Middletown, Conn., and died, Feb. 18, 1884, in Grant Park, Ill. His father, Rev. William B. Haseltine, for twelve years a member of Troy Conference, came West in 1856, and became a charter member of the West Wisconsin Conference, and is still a laborious and successful minister. Brother Haseltine prepared for college at Fort Edward Seminary, where he was converted. He went from Fort Edward to Schenectady, N. Y., and pursued a thorough course at Union College, and was graduated in 1861 with high honor. He entered the Rock River Conference in 1870. He has given nearly thirteen years of matured mid-life. His appointments have been: North Prairie, Yorkville, Dakota, Durand, Warren, Lasalle, and Grant Park. As a preacher, Brother Haseltine united qualities very diverse; by taste a recluse scholar, but by felt obligation a constant visitor. He had a high sense of honor, and was rigid in righteousness, and yet very humble and very sympathetic. He made it his duty to get his heart up against every man. At whatever cost or crucifixion he must bear the burdens of those around him. He would fill up the measure of the sufferings of Christ that remained. He went to his last appointment exhausted, yet anxious to do the Lord's will. The people were kind and delighted with his great ability, and he felt that he must shake himself from his strange weariness. He preached as long as he could, never sparing himself. He preached as long as he could stand, and the two last Sabbaths, sitting in his chair. The last was a sacramental occasion. He thought by husbanding his strength he might be able to distribute the elements, but his strength failed. He sat down, reached as far as he could, then moved his chair along, or, moving upon his knees, accomplished his holy work. He frequently said: "I love the work; I would rather work and die ten years sooner, than to give it up now."

East Tennessee Conference.

J. C. TATE, one of the oldest members of the Conference, has fallen during the year. He died at his home on Cumberland Mountain, Feb. 28, 1884. Brother Tate was a man of more than ordinary natural ability. Without education, he nevertheless evinced a comprehensiveness of grasp not always met with in those who have enjoyed literary training. He was an able preacher and a devoted Christian man. Though somewhat eccentric, he was a man of strong character, and in his death the Church has sustained great loss.

West Texas Conference.

JACKSON CAESAR was born in Louisiana, in the year 1829. He came to Texas in the year 1845. He joined the Church in 1854, and became a member of the West Texas Conference in 1879. He was an active member, going where and when sent. At the last Conference, held at San Antonio, he received his last appointment from Bishop Edward G. Andrews, and was sent to Caney and Wharton, where he did good work for the Master. He was taken ill on the 16th of September, and, on the 21st, he departed this life in peace with God. He leaves a wife and five children to mourn their loss.

Central Illinois Conference.

J. L. KIRKPATRICK.—[Obituary not received.]

WILLIAM HANEY, son of the Rev. James and Hannah Haney, was born in Washington County, Pa., April 12, 1810, and died in Abingdon, Ill., on the 27th of February, 1884, nearly seventy-four years of age. In 1836 he was licensed to preach by Peter Cartwright, and in the same year was recommended to the Illinois Conference, which he joined at the session held in Rushville, and was appointed to the Plattville Circuit, integral part of the territory of Michigan. In 1837 he was appointed junior preacher with Rev. E. Thompson, in charge of the Columbus Circuit. At the close of that session he was admitted into the Conference and ordained deacon by Bishop Soule, and during the year was married to Miss Sarelda Galbraith. He then located. He was re-admitted to the Rock River Conference and served the following charges: Monmouth, Berwick, Oquawka, Farmington, La Fayette, Nauvoo, Tennessee, La Harpe, Marietta, Vermont, New Albany, Milan, Wataga, Summitt, Knoxville, Hermon, West Jersey. He sustained a superannuated relation for fifteen years, and, for the greater part of the time, was quite feeble. About two years before his death he was stricken with paralysis, and from that time until his death there was a slow decadence of mental and physical power. He was seldom a great, but always a good, preacher, usually plain and practical. A few times in his ministerial life he very greatly surprised his most intimate friends by the breadth, symmetry, and power of his sermons. He had a kind, loving, genial soul, always a smile and a word of cheer for those he met. I presume no one can recall a single censorious or unkind word in reference to his brethren in the ministry, or any one else, during his long life in the ministry.

Oregon Conference.

JOHN W. YORK was born in Jackson County, Ga., Sept. 18, 1801. The circumstances and the exact date of his conversion are unknown; but on Aug. 1, 1824, he was licensed as an exhorter in the M. E. Church, and, Dec. 31, 1825, as a preacher—his license in both instances being signed by Rev. W. W. Redman. He was admitted as a probationer in the Missouri Conference in 1826, and on the 14th of September, 1828, he was ordained deacon by Bishop Soule, and elder by Bishop Robert R. Roberts, Sept. 19, 1830, in the city of Saint Louis. At this session of the Conference he located, and soon after removed to Illinois. He soon became a member of the Illinois Conference, and remained in the active work until 1842, when he thought best to take a location. He came to Oregon in 1852, and settled near Corvallis, and, in December of that year, he was employed by the presiding elder, Rev. T. H. Pearne, to travel the Marysville Circuit. He became a member of the Oregon Conference in 1854. Father York was married three times. First, July 8, 1828, to Mary P. Collier, who died Dec. 10, 1842; second, to Nancy S. Barret, Sept. 5. 1843, who died Aug. 17, 1844; and, on Jan. 21, 1847, to Pamelia H. Quinton, who, on Dec. 17, 1880, died at their home in Corvallis, Ore. After Father York's admission into the Oregon Conference, he filled various appointments with credit to himself and with profit to the Church. At one time he had charge of the Albany Circuit, and he was the principal agent in securing the erection of the church building at that place. He also served as presiding elder on the Umpqua District for two years. He continued to do faithful work in the itinerancy until the session of the Conference of 1861, when, owing to failing health, he was granted a superannuated relation, in which he continued up to the time of his death. He died, Feb. 19, 1884, in Corvallis, aged eighty-two years.

JOHN SPENCER was born in Cambria County, Pa., in April, 1802, and departed this life at M'Minnville, June 30, 1884. From childhood the conviction that he was a sinner deeply impressed his mind, and also that somehow or sometime he should enter the ministry, and this, too, before he had heard preaching of any kind, except the simple exhortations of the Dunkards, or had obtained deliverance from the bondage of sin. At twenty years of age he heard his first Methodist sermon from John Bowen, who afterward was a useful member of the Baltimore Conference. One thing among the Methodists particularly impressed him—the question of religious comfort. They professed to be happy in the Lord. He had all along thought a life of religion was a life of misery. It was at his first class-meeting that he found peace, and soon afterward a clear evidence of his acceptance. After conversion thoughts of the ministry came to him with increasing intensity, and he soon entered the traveling connection of the M. E. Church. The following appointments in the Pittsburg Conference for twenty-five years will show his standing: Monongahela Circuit, Short Creek Circuit, Brownsville Circuit, Harrison, Ohio Circuit, Pittsburg Circuit, Connellsville Circuit, Bealsville Circuit, Richmond Circuit, Steubenville District, until 1852, when he asked a location, in order to remove his family to Oregon. In 1854 he was re-admitted into the Oregon Conference, and, in 1856, he asked a superannuated relation, having done twenty-eight years of solid work in the ministry. He then relinquished all claim upon the funds of the Conference, and faithfully improved every opportunity to preach until the last. Thirty-one months ago he was taken down with fever and never regained his strength, being entirely helpless for the last year. John Spencer was a holy man of God; he fathomed the depths of religious experience; satisfied in his inmost soul with what he regarded as evidence of entire sanctification, he observes: "My experience finally settled down into a state of peace and a full assurance of divine favor. I became fully satisfied that there is no difference, other than in degree, between what is enjoyed in a high state of grace and a low one." In that faith he lived, and in that faith he died. During much of his life he had great peace—sometimes almost rapture. His hope in God was always strong. The following is one of the last passages he ever wrote: "I wish my last religious testimony to be this: I expect to die a sinner saved by grace. I hope in God through Jesus Christ. Glory be to the Lord Most High! So sure am I of the value of religion that I should be glad to exhort every unconverted individual in the thunders of eternity, 'Prepare to meet thy God!'"

North Ohio Conference.

J. T. M'Cartney was born near Point Marion, Fayette County, Pa., July 31, 1843, and died April 21, 1884. He enlisted in the Union army, when but seventeen years of age, and served three years in the Fourteenth Pennsylvania Cavalry. While in the service he was wounded in the shoulder, which partially disabled his right arm. Soon after his return from the service he was converted and entered the West Virginia Conference in 1870. While a member of that Conference he served the following charges: Moundsville, South Wheeling, Weston, and Albans, when be was transferred to the North Ohio Conference, and was stationed as follows: Orrville, Apple Creek, Spencer, and Nashville. On account of failing health he took a supernumerary relation in 1882. One year ago he was at the session of the Conference, and, though very feeble, he was full of courage and hopefulness. Brother M'Cartney was a man of deep religious experience, strong convictions, and was devoted to his work with a persistency of purpose that insured success. He was a good preacher, a faithful pastor, and a zealous worker in the temperance cause.

Thomas Thompson was born in the North Riding of Yorkshire, England, Oct. 15, 1799, and closed his long, laborious earthly life at his home near Republic, O., March 14, 1884, at the advanced age of eighty-four years. He was admitted to the traveling connection in the Ohio Conference at Chillicothe, Sept. 18, 1828, and appointed to Upper Sandusky, as missionary to the Wyandottes. He was continued as missionary four years successively, and, after one year's absence, was returned, and remained two years, making six years as missionary and one as preacher spent among the Indians. In the fall of 1830 a large extent of territory was added to the mission, requiring a second man and some five hundred miles' travel every four weeks. During the Conference year of 1830 and 1831 Benjamin Boydston was his colleague, and in 1831 and 1832, E. C. Gavitt, the only missionary living who labored among the Wyandottes before they went West. These two were years of great labor, but years of remarkable prosperity, seventeen new classes were formed, and over one thousand members, Indians and whites, returned. No man ever labored more faithfully and successfully for the temporal and spiritual welfare of the Wyandotte Indians than Thomas Thompson. His efforts for the education of their children were highly appreciated by them, and gave him a warm place in their affections, but, after seven years' service among them, he felt that the interests of his family demanded a change, and from this time on his labors were among the English-speaking population. In 1843 he was appointed presiding elder on the Norwalk District, which, at the time, extended from Monroeville to Ohio City, now Cleveland, west side, and from the lake some thirty or forty miles south. During his term on this district the Norwalk Seminary passed out of our hands, and he, in common with many others, felt the importance of continued educational advantages on the Western Reserve, and was casting about for an opening. Providentially, he became acquainted with Brother John Baldwin's desire and intention to consecrate his property to God in the interests of the Church, and, by his wise counsels and course of action, Baldwin Institute, now Baldwin University, was established at Berea—a monument of Brother Baldwin's generosity, and of Brother Thompson's judicious management. After a few years more of effective service his health began to fail, still, with some intermissions on account of poor health, he continued in the work until 1872, when he became supernumerary, and in 1875 he was superannuated, and continued in that relation to the close of life. Thomas Thompson was a good man, honest, true, and faithful, a firm friend, an agreeable companion and fellow-laborer. His pastoral labors were abundant, and such as endeared him to the people he served. No Church interest suffered in his hands. What God gave him to do, he did willingly, and to the best of his ability. His gift in prayer was wonderful; often in the pulpit and at the family altar it would seem as if heaven were opened to him, and he stood face to face with the Father of mercies pleading for his presence with his people here on earth. The following were his appointments: Wyandotte Missions, Wyandotte and Fort Findlay Mission, Mansfield, Wyandotte Missions, Tiffin, Bucyrus, Mexico, Tiffin, Lower Sandusky and Ottawa Mission, Bellevue, Norwalk District, Berea, Western Star, Wellington, Brunswick, supernumerary and superannuated for two years, Republic, Clyde, Melmore, superannuated for one year, Melmore, Green Springs. He was for ten years a local preacher, and fifty-five years in the itinerancy.

Jesse Durbin was born near Westminster, Frederick County, Md., Oct. 25, 1827, and died in Denver, Col., Sept. 1, 1884, aged fifty-seven years. He was converted at the early age of fifteen, and united with the M. E. Church, in communion with which he lived a sincere Christian life to the time of his death. He was appointed by the presiding elder in 1849 to Republic Circuit; in 1850, received on trial in the North Ohio Conference, and sent to Bucyrus Circuit; in 1851, to Norwalk Station; in 1852 he was ordained a deacon, and appointed to Wadsworth Circuit; in 1853 he was removed by the presiding elder to Wooster, Station, to fill the unexpired term of Rev. S. L. Yourtee; the next year he was returned to Wooster. In 1855 he was ordained an elder, and, from failing health, received a superannuated relation. His ministerial life was short but useful. He never so far recovered his health as to be able to take effective work, and yet he did an amount of labor under these unfavorable conditions that but few have done in health. Notwithstanding his relation to the Conference was that of a superannuate, he was five times elected first assistant secretary of the body, and twice its secretary. This is the only instance in which the Conference has conferred such honor upon one of its superannuated members. A secular paper published in Denver (his home) has this worthy notice of him: "His thorough knowledge of human nature, rare intelligence, and broad views upon all subjects, made him a delightful companion and a valuable counselor. He was a man of great natural ability, and this, supplemented by a deep and thorough study, made him able (had he possessed the physical strength) to take and maintain a commanding position in the Church. He had obtained a most thorough control of himself, and was never surprised out of an habitual evenness of temper. He was thoroughly devoted to his family, which consists of a wife, four sons, and a daughter, and made his home a model religious household." He removed from Canton, O., to Denver, in hope of improving his health, but in this he was doomed to disappointment. He did not, however, forget the friends he had left behind, but annually he sent a brotherly letter of greeting to his Conference, containing, besides words of cheer, a liberal contribution to the benevolences of the Church. His death was such as might be reasonably expected from such a life. His latest words to his family were: "I love you all very dearly, and am going straight to heaven, and expect to meet you all there." To few men could the words of David be more appropriately applied: "Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright: for the end of that man is peace."

Alabama Conference.

John C. Self was born and died in the State of Alabama. At the reorganization of the M. E. Church in the South, Brother Self stepped up to the front and united with the "grand old mother Church," as he was pleased to call it. He was in the reorganization of the Alabama Conference, which took place in Taladega, Ala., Oct. 17, 1867, Rev. Bishop Davis W. Clark, D.D., presiding. His first appointment was the Blount Springs Circuit. In 1868 the Alabama Conference was held in Murphree's Valley, at old Carolina, and Bishop Clark presided again. This year Brother Self was returned to Blount Springs Circuit. In 1869 he was appointed to the Jasper Circuit. He closed this, as he did the two preceding years, with great success, and in the midst of times that tried men's souls. In 1870–74 he was presiding elder of the Jasper District. In 1875 he was appointed to the South Alabama District. His health began to fail, and it became evident that his life was wearing out rapidly. In 1876–77 he was granted a supernumerary relation. In 1878 he was rendered effective, and appointed to the Sipsey Circuit. In 1879 to the Morgan Valley Circuit. In 1880 he was appointed to the Murphree's Valley Circuit the second time. Bishop Simpson gave to him his last appointment, which was the Murphree's Valley Circuit again. This year his health failed, and at the Conference he was granted a supernumerary relation. During this year he was able to preach but a few times. In 1883 he was granted a superannuated relation. His health continued to decline until Jan. 31, 1884, when, in the full triumph of faith, he passed away. Thus, after a life of toil and much suffering and pain, our beloved brother entered into his eternal rest, in his fifty-eighth year. Brother Self was a good preacher; he had but few superiors in the Conference. It may be truly said that "he was a good man, and full of the Holy Ghost, and of faith: and much people was added unto the Lord by his labors."

West Virginia Conference.

William H. Young was born Oct. 11, 1846, in Upshur County, Va., and died at his home in Middlebourne, Tyler County, W. Va., May 19, 1884. He was admitted on trial in the West Virginia Conference, March, 1870, and was appointed to West Milford Circuit. In 1871 he was in charge of Point Pleasant Circuit. In 1872 he was united in marriage with Miss Elnonah M'Ghee, of Harrison Co., W. Va. He was ordained deacon at Wheeling, March, 1872, by Bishop Simpson; and elder, by Bishop Scott, at Fairmont, March, 1874. From 1873 to 1882 his appointments were: Palatine, West Union, Harrisville, and Frenchton. At our last Conference he was appointed to Middlebourne Charge, whence he was removed to his reward. He was a man of sterling piety and conspicuous Christian principle. In the pulpit he was evangelical, earnest, and impressive; in the pastorate, diligent and discreet; in the family, a devoted husband and a kind, affectionate father. In social life he was a warm hearted, genial companion, kind in his disposition, intelligent in his intercourse, and refined in his manner. During his sickness, though suffering severely in the body, his soul was full of glory. Although entertaining some hope of recovery, almost to the last, he yet seemed submissive to the Father's will, saying, "My Father will do all things well, and though strange to me now, I shall understand it all by and by." On Monday morning, as the end drew near, he touchingly pronounced the benediction upon his family, then triumphantly entered into rest. Many true hearts will cherish his memory.

George W. Parriott, of West Virginia Conference, died near Cameron, Marshall County, W. Va., Nov. 8, 1883, in the fiftieth year of his age and the twelfth year of his ministry. At the last session of the West Virginia Conference he was appointed to the Bridgeport Charge, but owing to failing health he did not reach his work. Brother Parriott was converted in 1859 and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, and in 1872 was admitted into the West Virginia Conference on trial. His appointments were, successively, New Martinsville, Burton, Greene, and Masontown. In all his ministry he has been a faithful, earnest worker. His character was most noble, his heart most tender, and his friendship enduring. But few ministers were more beloved by their people. He always had the entire confidence of the people. He was devoted to his work, genial, lovable at home and abroad. As a minister, he was a workman that needed not to be ashamed. He was plain, simple, earnest, practical, an honor to the ministry, and a blessing to all the charges he served.

Nebraska Conference.

Alvin G. White was born in Northfield, Mass., June 18, 1833. In 1857 he moved to Illinois, and joined the Rock River Conference on probation. That year he married Miss Emily Thompson, who has been to him a loving wife. Still suffering with bronchial trouble, he was discontinued, at his own request, and moved to Nebraska, where he was engaged in teaching two years. He entered Nebraska Conference in the spring of 1863, and was sent to Brownville, where he had served as supply the previous year. He then served Pawnee one year, and Fort Calhoun two years. He was then chaplain in the United States Army for three years. He served a full term as presiding elder of Omaha District when it covered twenty thousand square miles. In this field his able ministration, his untiring labors, his wise counsels, his care for the preachers and their families, his urbane deportment, greatly endeared him to all the people. He then served a full term on the Kearney District, with a territory larger than Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and Connecticut. He served two years on the Lincoln District. He then served South Bend Charge one year. Next he was at Roca and Bennett for two years. Finally, he labored one year in Wahoo. At the last session of the Nebraska Conference he asked for a supernumerary relation. His health was poor, but still he loved to preach, and his last Sunday on earth was spent at Wahoo, where he preached two sermons. On Saturday morning, Nov. 3, at nine o'clock, he became speechless with inflammation of the brain, and at five o'clock in the afternoon his spirit returned to God who gave it, leaving a bereaved wife and seven children to mourn the loss of a kind husband and loving father.

H. W. Warner was born in Chesham, Buckinghamshire, England, Sept. 11, 1855, and came to America, Jan. 2, 1869. He entered the North-western University in 1876, and was licensed to preach by the Evanston Quarterly Conference in the fall of 1877. He came to Nebraska in 1878, and supplied the Fairbury Charge as junior preacher the following spring and summer. On Oct. 5, 1878, in Exeter, Neb., Brother Warner was joined in marriage with Miss Alice Chester, of Pewaukee, Wis. He supplied the Hebron Circuit that Conference year. In the spring of 1879 he organized the Waco Charge, in the York District, while attending York College. The same fall he was appointed to York Circuit. He joined the Nebraska Annual Conference on trial in 1881, and was appointed to the Steele City Charge. Here his labors were blessed to the people in a wonderful manner, and many souls were saved. In 1882 he was appointed to Blue Springs Charge, where, in the midst of his labor of the second year, on Aug. 9, 1884, he was called home; but not until his life and memory were forever enshrined in the souls of his people. He was a clear and forcible preacher, full of the Holy Ghost.

Central Tennessee Conference.

James Lafayette Park was born in Jackson County, Ga., Oct. 8, 1850; was converted at eleven years of age, and removed in early youth with his parents to Tennessee, and commenced the duties of the religious life. In 1871 he was licensed to preach, and took work as a supply; the following year he entered the Tennessee Conference. In 1873 he entered the East Tennessee Wesleyan University, and continued in the educational work as student or teacher, and in the ministry at times as pastor, until within a year of graduation, when his exhausted means and shattered health compelled him to desist from study and confinement. He was actively engaged in the itinerancy as pastor and presiding elder until a few months before his departure; for nearly two years he was presiding elder on the Memphis District. It is scarcely necessary to say that his end was peace; there was nothing remarkable in his dying words; he had long been watching and waiting for the coming of his Lord and King. One who had lived so well would be sure to die well. It is seldom that we have the mournful pleasure of recalling to our recollection the excellences of so well balanced a Christian character; such a rare combination of all that is amiable and lovely, with such firmness and courage for the right; such loyal consecration, with such large intelligence and progressiveness on all questions of truth and right; it may be truly said of him, as of a Christian knight of the Middle Ages, he was without fear and without reproach. As a preacher, he was original, suggestive, and spiritual; as a presiding elder, he was faithful, earnest, and a model of uprightness and zeal; a volume might be filled with the record of his virtues and labors, but we must close by saying, "Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright: for the end of that man is peace."

Genesee Conference.

Truman H. Perkins was born in Concord, Erie County, N. Y., Dec. 30, 1845, and died in Attica, Wyoming County, April 10, 1884. Converted when eighteen years of age, the attention of the Church appears to have been early drawn to him as one likely to be useful as a preacher of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. In the matter of his early education he does not seem to have been one of fortune's favorites; but, being methodical and persevering, he became a man of good culture, and at the same time the owner of that self-reliance which is often so valuable to a man, and which results largely from earnest toil and heroic struggling. He studied at Springville Academy; and later, in order to fit himself for the work that was to command his future earthly life, at Evanston Theological Seminary, graduating in 1871. While at Evanston he married Miss Carrie I. Andrews, the union proving in all respects a happy one. In October, 1873, he was received on probation in the Genesee Conference, and admitted into full connection two years later. His first appointment was Attica, at that time a very difficult charge to manage, and he gave signal proof of his ability by his prudent management there for three years. His succeeding appointments were Marilla, Erie County; Alexander, Genesee County; and Groveland, Livingston County, in all of which places his courtesy, ability, piety, and sterling manhood won for him the highest esteem. His seemingly all too brief career showed him to be a young man of excellent promise, and, in our comparative ignorance of the employments of the future state, we cannot but hope and believe that he has found a more congenial sphere for the development of his powers. During the summer of 1883 his health failed, and by October he grew so feeble as to be unable to attend Conference. He was still hopeful, however, and so, at his own request, was re-appointed to Groveland, and preached there when he felt able. But the call had come, and so he reluctantly laid aside his loved work — for three months only, as he hoped — and sought further medical aid. As the sequel proved, however, he then laid aside his earthly toil, the work he so much loved, forever. He bore his sufferings with Christian bravery and patience, and when told he must die, the thought of meeting death failed to disturb; his approach was with Christian confidence as one sure of victory. To his loving, watchful wife he said, "I don't want you to think of me as dead, only as gone away." At other times he said, "Every thing is all right. 'To me to live is Christ, and to die is gain.'" Having greatly loved his brethren in the ministry, he loved them to the end. Said he, "Tell my brethren how I love them." His was a beautiful character: modest, yet firm; unobtrusive, yet true; a respectful, dutiful son; an affectionate, careful husband; a tender, judicious father; a faithful friend, an able preacher, a prudent pastor. Had he lived long here we cannot doubt that, though for a time his modest, unassuming ways might have caused others to distance him in the race, his real ability and sterling worth would eventually have won for him some of the best positions in the Church's gift. No doubt he had failings in common with others, being a man of like passions; but if so, we saw them not; to us he was lovely in life and triumphant in death.

Joseph Keith Tinkham was born in Sharon Springs, Schoharie County, N. Y., Nov. 22, 1811, and died, Sept. 30, 1884, at his residence in Lima, Livingston County, N. Y. When but a youth, at the age of eighteen, at a powerful revival under the labors of Rev. Schuyler Seager, he was converted to God and united with the Church. He very soon heard the Master's voice, saying, "Go, preach my Gospel!" His convictions being clear, in the fall of 1838, when twenty-eight years of age, he offered himself to the Genesee Conference, and was admitted on trial as a traveling preacher at the Elmira annual session. His appointments were as follows: Ovid and Trumansburg, Burlington, Milo, Clyde, Sodus, Tyre and Junius, Canoga, Canadice, Henrietta, Bloomfield, Junius, Wayland, Sodus Center, and Thorpsburg. He became supernumerary in 1861, and has since continued in that relation. Brother Tinkham was no ordinary man. He believed in the life and power of religion, and he enjoyed it himself. It might be said of him as was said of Barnabas in Acts xi, 24, that "he was a good man, and full of the Holy Ghost, and of faith." He was an effective preacher, a faithful pastor, a man of sound common sense, and possessed of a genuine spirit which gave him success in his work. He was married, Sept. 22, 1836, to Miss Helen E. Squier, of Rochester, N. Y., by Rev. Allen Steel; she has been a most efficient helper of her husband in all his work, gladly sharing with him the pleasures and responsibilities of life's mission. Two sons survive with her to mourn his departure. Brother Tinkham filled a conspicuous place among his brethren in his day. He was a member of the Troy Praying Band for a number of years. He was prominent in the organization of the Auburn Praying Band. By his wonderful gift of song he has won his way into the hearts of thousands of our people. He was an earnest temperance worker, a successful laborer in the vineyard of the Lord. But his warfare is ended, his toils and sufferings are forever at an end, and he rests from his labors in the presence of God. To him the Master has given the palm, the mansion, and the crown.

Gersham Benedict.—[Obituary not received.]

William Weber was born in Philadelphia. Pa., April 15, 1811, and died at his home in Sardinia, N. Y., Sept. 8, 1884. Himself and excellent wife had been married just fifty years and one day. He was converted to God through the preaching of Rev. Allen P. Ripley, at the age of twenty-nine years. The writer of this first knew him in 1842, at Coudersport, Pa., as a student in the academy of that town, and a local preacher. It was in the institution referred to, under the instruction of the popular principal, William H. De Puy, that he acquired valuable mental preparation for the work of the ministry. He was received on trial in the Genesee Annual Conference in 1854, in 1856 was admitted into full connection and ordained deacon, and in 1858 was promoted to elder's orders. From 1854 to 1879, or during the twenty-five years of his effective relation, Brother Weber's appointments, according to the Minutes, were, consecutively, as follows: New Hudson, Wales, Java, Evans, Williamsville, Collins, East Porter, Minard and Pendleton, Ceres, Ellicottville, Collins, Sardinia, East Ashford, Sardinia. In 1880 he worthily took the superannuated relation, having, against much discouragement, built a house for a permanent home for himself and family. In his career of labor and travel this servant of God and the Church gained some distinction, though for distinction he labored not. He modestly estimated four hundred or more converted under his ministry. For eighteen years he every year, save one, held a circuit camp-meeting, owning two canvas tents, one for his own occupation, or to rent, and a large chapel tent, so that he would have a camp-meeting at all events. With or without the assistance of other preachers the meeting must go on, and he usually found a few, at least, to stand by him. Unobtrusive in his manner, and charitable to all, thankful for sympathy, and regardless of ridicule, he worked heroically on, with faith in the mighty One, to spread scriptural holiness over every field of his pastoral toil. In the department of church and parsonage building and improvement, and in the payment of old church debts he admirably succeeded. Brother Weber's character would bear to be studied. He had great faith, so that he might be said to "remove mountains." He professed to walk daily in the sunlight of perfect love. He preached because he believed. During the closing thirteen days of his life he was in a state of extreme exhaustion, yet seemed to be conscious of the presence of his family and friends, in his more lucid moments praying and exhorting, in keeping with his "ruling passion." At length, after some hours of difficult respiration, the final moment came, and quietly the earnest preacher, the loyal Methodist, the genial Christian brother, the loving husband and father, the familiar friend and neighbor, and the esteemed citizen exchanged earth for heaven.

Central German Conference.

John Strauch was born in Busenborn Circuit, Nida, in the Grand Duchy of Hesse Darmstadt, May 26, 1807. He was married to Catharine Man July 20, 1836. Five children were born unto them, four sons who live to mourn the death of their father, and one daughter who, in the year 1861, preceded her parents and brother to the eternal home. In 1880 the good mother followed. In 1838 he emigrated to America and settled in Monrovia County, Ohio. Here he was made acquainted with the usages and doctrines of the Methodist Episcopal Church. By the preaching of the Methodist pioneers he was powerfully awakened and converted to God. He did not confer with flesh and blood, as the call to preach the Gospel came upon him, but looking to Him who had said, "And lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end," he grasped the sword of the Spirit and fought heroically and with crowned success to the end of his peaceful life. Father Strauch's usefulness as a preacher began in the year 1845, when, according to his diary, he was taken up in the Ohio Conference. He served the following appointments: Rockford, Mount Vernon, New Albany, Fort Wagner, Pennsylvaniaburg, the present Batesville Circuit, Poland Mission, Rockford, Charlestown and Jeffersonville Mission, New Albany, Lafayette, Goshen, Batesville, Birmingham, South Pittsburg, Newark, Jeffersonville, Danville, Breckenridge, and Louisville. On all these appointments he labored with success, in some extraordinarily so. His sermons were plain, clear, and thoroughly biblical. He gained the affection and esteem of all those that formed his acquaintance, on all his appointments. Although in the year 1871 he was placed on the list of superannuated preachers, he filled two appointments, Danville and Breckenridge. In the fall of 1873 he selected Jeffersonville, Ind., as the place in which to spend the evening of his life in quietude, but even here he was active in spreading good literature, and preached as often as opportunity offered. His last sermon was preached at the Watch-night meeting of last December, at Jeffersonville, Ind. That he kept the faith, he testified with a stammering tongue upon his dying bed. He rests from all his labors and trials, and his works do follow him. Many will call him blessed in that day. The two great floods no doubt contributed to his sufferings and hastened his death, for since January last he began to break down, and grew weaker constantly, and on the 20th of March last he fell asleep in Jesus. He reached the honorable age of seventy-six years. He was carried to his last resting-place by his brethren, members of the Conference.

John W. Fishbach died suddenly July 11, 1884. On the said morning he, in company with his wife, went to the city in apparent good health; but on the way homeward he complained of vertigo, and soon after his arrival at home he uttered a loud shriek and settled down in his chair; apoplexy of the brain had done its work. Medical aid was summoned in vain, and in a very short time he had departed this life. Brother Fishbach was born, June 24, 1824, in Ereisenstein, in the county of Coblenz, Prussia. In 1834 he emigrated with his parents to the United States, and settled in Dayton, O., where, at the age of sixteen years, he was converted to God through the instrumentality of the M. E. Church. He was the first of a numerous family who experienced a change of heart. He endured much persecution and mockery, but remained steadfast, and was permitted to rejoice over the conversion of the entire family, and when, somewhat later, Brother Riemenschneider and A. Miller preached the word of God to the Germans in that city, he and his parents were the first who joined the Church. Called of God and of the Church to preach the Gospel, he entered the itinerancy of the M. E. Church in 1855, and labored on the following fields: Ripley, O.; Furnaces, Waverly, New York; then, owing to great family responsibility, he superannuated, but served the Waverly Charge without compensation. In 1875 he again assumed active work and served Baresville, Marietta, Pittsburg, (Fortieth Street,) Galion, and at the last Conference Greenville Mission was assigned him. This was his last field of labor. His work was done, and the Lord called him to his reward. Brother Fishbach was a pious man and a faithful laborer in the vineyard of the Lord. In his administration he was conscientious; his sermons were thorough, evangelical, simple, and clear. To save souls and lead them to Christ was his work. A short time before his death he said in a love-feast: "I have no greater care than this, that the work intrusted to me may prosper, and souls be led to Christ." Two days previous to his end God gave him an overflowing measure of blessings. The joy which he expressed by word and look will not be forgotten by the members of his charge. He loved the Church and was loved. From Greenville he was sent out to work in the vineyard, and from there he entered into his rest.

John Jacob Roser was born, January 20, 1828, in Hansen, County of Schopfheim, Grand Duchy of Baden, and died at the age of fifty-five years. He was awakened in his youth through the preaching of some missionaries from the city of Basel, who frequently preached in his father's house. More than a year did he seek the Lord; but he continued until he made the blessed experience that Jesus truly has power to forgive sins. He immediately began working for the Lord by telling his neighbors of life and happiness in Jesus. The Lord gave him fruits of his labor, among whom his parents were the first. After this he tried to hold meetings in Austria, but he was imprisoned, and after attaining his freedom he was ordered to leave the country. In 1865 he joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, under Brother Nippert, in Schaffhausen, Switzerland. Here he served the Church as class-leader, exhorter, and local preacher, and Bishop Simpson ordained him to deacon's orders in 1870. In 1873 he came to this country and joined Race Street Church, Cincinnati, O. In 1874 he was admitted to the Central German Conference as a traveling preacher and served in the following places: Blanchard Chapel Mission, Aurora and Milan, Defiance. At the Conference in 1883 he was sent to West Unity, whence the Lord took him home after eight short weeks. Brother Roser was a faithful servant of God, diligent and conscientious in doing the will of his Master and of the Church. We have no scruples in applying the words of Scripture to him, "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord from henceforth: yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors, and their works do follow them." His widow, three sons, and three daughters mourn their loss, but not as those who are without hope. May the Lord comfort them with his grace! And we, the remaining members of his Conference and his Church, deeply feel the loss of our brother. Our loss is his eternal gain.

William Mueller died suddenly and unexpectedly August 23, 1884. He was born, April 29, 1855, in Wolf, County of Bidingen, Grand Duchy of Hesse Darmstadt. He came to this country at the early age of eleven years. After attending our church in Allegheny City, Pa., for a considerable time, he joined the Church under the administration of Brother Hermann zür Jacobsmühler, and during the pastorate of Brother Charles Bozenhard he was converted and made class-leader. Being called of God to preach the Gospel he went to Berea to prepare for the work of the ministry. During his attendance at college he was licensed to preach, and supplied the pulpits of our Church at Berea and Sandusky. September, 1866, Brother Mueller was admitted to Conference on trial, and was sent as junior preacher to Lansing and Saint John Mission. The same year he entered the married state with Regina Moldenhauser. His married life was happy but short. The following year he continued as junior preacher on the same circuit, Rev. Jacob Brann being his senior. He was held in high esteem by his superior as well as by the members of the Church. September, 1868, he was taken into Conference as a full member, and was ordained deacon by Bishop Kingsley. From 1868 to 1871 he labored on Galion and Mansfield Circuits. Sept. 18, 1870, he was ordained elder at Louisville, Ky., by Bishop Scott. From 1871–73 he labored in Newark, O., with great success. He afterward served, with great acceptance, Pittsburg, Pa.; Fortieth Street, Ross Street, and Southside Charge, in the same city. Here Brother Mueller exerted himself far beyond his strength, and was obliged to practice great self-denial. He labored on Kendallville Circuit, and God's blessing rested on his work. From 1879–82 he was in charge of the church on Sixteenth Street, Detroit, Mich. Here his beloved wife died, after long suffering. The Lord comforted his servant by giving him a grand harvest of souls, and many joined the Church. He married Christina Jordan, née Reitenbach. She was a true wife and pious woman. Since 1882 Brother Mueller labored successfully on Allegan Circuit. Here he died. On a Saturday evening, while he was preparing for the Sabbath, the Lord called him. His death was caused by paralysis of the heart. There was no one with him when the summons came. When he was found he seemed asleep, so calm and composed were his features. He slept the sleep of the just. He was of a mild, peaceful, and loving disposition. He was esteemed by all his brethren in the ministry. The welfare of the churches committed to his care was near and dear to his heart. The Lord comfort and sustain the widow with her eight children.

Des Moines Conference.

W. L. Edmonds was born in the Province of Ontario, Canada, October 4, 1845. He remained in that country until his twenty-second year, when he came to the United States. Although he had been raised in the lap of Christianity and Methodism he resisted their influence until leaving home, when the possibility of never meeting the dear ones, and his unfitness to meet them in heaven, made a strong impression on his mind. He removed to Carrollton, Mo., and at a protracted meeting held by Rev. —. Mumpower, of the M. E. Church, South, he gave his heart to God and united with the Church. Six months after this he moved to Chillicothe, Mo., and deposited his letter with the M. E. Church. His "gifts, graces, and usefulness" were so obvious that during the first year of his connection with this Church he was licensed as a local preacher, and appointed as a supply to Norborne Circuit by Rev. J. H. Hopkins, presiding elder of Chillicothe District. During this year he was married to Miss Anna Willis, who, with five little boys, survives and mourns her loss. He was received as a probationer at the next session of the Missouri Conference and sent back to Norborne, to which he was re-appointed at the Conference session of 1869. His appointments were as follows: Chillicothe, Breckenridge, Oregon, Fillmore, Quitman, Burlington Junction, Hopkins. At the end of six months he was transferred to the Des Moines Conference and stationed at Malvern, Iowa, in the Council Bluffs District. At the session of the Des Moines Conference, held at Clarinda last September, he was returned to Malvern. He preached as usual on the 4th of October, although he was hardly able. He was confined to his room on the 5th, and the disease rapidly developed into typhoid fever, which caused his death. On October 17, at 11 o'clock A.M., the wheels of life stood still, and Brother Edmonds had gone from labor to reward. He died well, at the very last uttering the words, "The blood of Jesus Christ is sufficient," and with those words on his lips breathed his last.

George F. Brand was born in Onondago County, N. Y., Oct. 5, 1850. He was converted in early manhood, and joined the M. E. Church. In June, 1876, he came to Iowa to supply the Tabor Charge, Des Moines Conference, and rendered satisfactory service thereon. At the following session of the Conference he was elected to orders as local deacon, was ordained by Bishop Foster, and, after his ordination, was admitted on trial in said Conference, and appointed to the Hawleyville Charge. The following year he was sent to Brooks, and, at the end of the year was received into full connection in the Conference, and appointed to the College Springs Charge, which he filled successfully for two years. At the end of his term at College Springs he was ordained elder, and appointed to Guthrie Centre. His first year's work on this circuit was satisfactory; and he won large respect by his gentlemanly deportment, purity of character, and merit as a Christian minister, and was re-appointed to the charge. His health was not good during the winter, but he had encouraging success in revival effort. In the spring a severe trial suddenly befel him, through which he exhibited great fidelity to Christian obligation. Returning from Conference with all that was dear to him in earthly desire and prospect enshrouded in unendurable darkness, brain fever set in, reason gave way, and, on the 11th of October, 1882, he passed to the presence of the Judge of all.

Illinois Conference.

Solomon M'Call was born in Marion County, S. C., June 10, 1813. In early life he removed to East Tennessee, where, in 1831, he was converted at Knoxville. Soon after he felt that he was called to preach, but such was his sense of unfitness that he refused to obey the call, and as a consequence lost his assurance of the divine favor. In 1836 he came to Illinois, and a few years afterward he returned to God and resolved to submit entirely to his will. He united with the M. E. Church in Jacksonville, Ill., where he received a license to exhort, and in 1847 to preach. The next year he was received on trial in the Illinois Conference, and traveled in succession the following charges: Vandalia, Greenfield, Cummington, London City, Waverly, Whitehall, Hardin, Perry, Barry, Perry, Ripley, Hardin, Spring Lake, Blue Point, but was changed by his presiding elder from this to the Decatur Circuit, where his effective labors ended. In 1862 he was granted a superannuated relation, in which he continued until his death at Decatur, Oct. 16, 1883. Though of limited education, yet as an industrious, zealous, and successful laborer, Brother M'Call had few superiors. In most of the charges he served revivals followed his labors; while in some hundreds of souls were led to the Saviour. During the many years of his superannuation he was greatly afflicted, at first with an affection of the eyes that rendered him almost totally blind, and for seven years prevented him from reading, and afterward by a complication of disorders that caused him great suffering. In his most severe paroxysms of pain he could say, "Good is the will of the Lord." As death approached the grace of God abounded more and more toward him. Among his last utterances were: "What a halo of glory around me! Streams of heavenly light! I am waiting to step into the heavenly mansion that my Father has prepared for me."

Abner Pottle was born at Buffalo Hart Grove, Sangamon County, Ill., Oct. 15, 1842. He was married on April 8, 1874, joined the Illinois Conference in 1875, and was sent to Lovington Circuit. He served the following appointments: Shelbyville Circuit, Casey Circuit, Grandview, Assumption, and Mansfield, where he broke down under a combined malady of stomach and lungs. During his sickness at Mansfield he was patient, cheerful, and hopeful. In 1883 he was moved to Waynesville, where he died July 2. Brother Pottle had been of poor health ever since his admission into conference. But notwithstanding this he was a faithful, industrious, untiring laborer in the Master's vineyard. Had he done less work he might have lived longer; but he had consecrated his spirit, soul, and body to the Master's work, and he made his consecration an efficient one. He was a man of fair English education, considerable reading, clear common sense, and a heart filled with the love of God. His life was a happy illustration of the combination of holy industry and patient resignation. A week or so before his death he said, "I do not have the joys that others have had in their last hours; such joy as I have read about, and such joy as I have seen in others; but if the Father wishes me to go down into the river by faith, I can do it." A few minutes before Brother Ellis (the pastor at Waynesville) said to him, "Brother Pottle, do you know that you are going down into the river?" He answered, "I did not know it until a few moments ago. The first intimation I had that I was going down into the river was when I heard the angels singing." He lay still for a short time, with his eyes closed, listening to the heavenly singers, when suddenly he opened his eyes, reached his hand to his wife and said, "A band of angels have come! I am going; good-bye;" then "he fell asleep." Brother Pottle leaves a wife and two little daughters.

Michigan Conference.

W. E. Newlon was born in Alleghany County, Pa., June 27, 1848. He became a member of the Church in 1859. He entered Drew Theological Seminary in the fall of 1872, and was graduated in 1875, united with the Michigan Conference in the fall, was transferred to India, and stationed at Bangalore, then at Madras. At this point his health failed. In the spring of 1881 he went to Muskegon, Mich, then to Kentucky, and was stationed at Louisa for one year. In March, 1883, he accepted an appointment to Greenville Circuit, and in the fall of this year he was stationed at Jackson, Cooper Street Charge. Here he did his last work, and "was not, for God took him."

Valmore Granville Boynton was born in Le Roy, N. Y., Jan. 22, 1818. In 1840 he was licensed to exhort, and to preach in 1843. In 1844 he was received on trial in the Michigan Conference, and ordained deacon by Bishop Janes at Marshall, Mich., in 1846, and elder in 1848. His ministerial record is as follows: Dundee, Schoolcraft, Allegan, Climax, Hastings, Edwardsburg, Litchfield, Girard, Centreville, Sturgis, Otsego, Buchanan, Eaton Rapids, Galesburg, Marengo, Manistee, Hastings, Grand Traverse District. "The first year he did the work of the district, and was the stationed preacher at Traverse City, dividing his time equally between the district and the station. The next three years he did the district work only." In 1870 he moved to Des Moines, and preached more or less in several different churches during the winter; supplying the pulpit at Wesley Chapel, Des Moines, several weeks. The presiding elder on Indianola District failing in health, urged Mr. Boynton to apply to the Michigan Conference for a transfer and take the district, which he did in the spring, supplying the work until Conference. In 1871 he was appointed to Odell Station, then Altona, Taylorville, Des Moines City Mission; 1876, transferred to Michigan Conference, and stationed at Mottville, Douglass, Mattawan, Crystal Valley, Lawrence and Hartford, Lawrence, superannuated. In the spring of 1882 his health entirely failed and he moved to Mattawan, where he ceased, nearly at once, to work and live. His disease, at first a kidney affection, made him an extreme sufferer for about two years. About a year and a half before he died he had an apoplectic fit, from the effects of which he never recovered. Dropsy of the heart ended his sufferings, Oct. 12, 1883. Thus has a good man and true, in all the relations of life, an honest, earnest, conscientious, devoted minister of the Gospel, finished his course, has kept the faith, and exchanged cross for crown. Striking qualities of Mr. Boynton were kindness of heart and urbanity of deportment. As a preacher, he aimed to save souls and edify the church, not to secure merely the applause of men. This merest outline of a ministerial life of thirty-nine years, all in the active work, but about three years, can but faintly reflect the exact filling up of pulpit and pastoral work. His ministry, modest and unpretentious, was approved by his brethren, and bore the stamp of the divine approval, in the conversion of sinners, and the upbuilding of the Church.

W. W. Elder was born at Rockport, Ind., Jan. 30, 1843. His father, Rev. D. S. Elder, a Methodist minister, died in the early boyhood of the subject of this sketch. He was converted at the age of sixteen, and immediately felt himself called to the ministry, with which his life had been so intimately connected. Obedience to the call was deferred several years with the hope of its withdrawal. The result was an intensified conviction: "Woe is unto me, if I preach not the Gospel." He at once entered upon the work of preparation, reaching the junior year of the classical course at Asbury University. Thrown upon his own resources, two years of preaching and teaching brought means to enter Boston University as a theological student. After two years at Boston, impaired health admonished to a more active life, which he sought in the effective ranks of the ministry. Brother Elder was admitted on trial in the New York East Conference, April, 1870, ordained deacon by Bishop Simpson in 1872, and elder by Bishop Wiley in 1874. His appointments, all in the State of Connecticut while in the East, were as follows: Wilton and Zion's Hill, Third Church, Norwalk; West Haddam and Killingworth, Yalesville, Essex, Summerfield and Howard Avenue, New Haven. In 1878 he was transferred to the Michigan Conference, and stationed at Parkville, and at Oshtemo. At the latter place spinal curvature, the disease which terminated his life, made its appearance. Thinking himself more overworked than sick, he accepted a professorship in Wiley University, Marshall, Tex., with the hope of relief. He was re-transferred to the Michigan Conference in 1882, after a residence of six months in the South. Three months after his return North he was completely prostrated by paralysis of the lower limbs. One year he lay in that condition, then came a hopeful convalescence, in which he was able to go about and to preach twice. But the old disease re-appeared, attacking the outer membrane of the brain. Days of intense but patient suffering followed. Sunday, May 11, 1884, at Valparaiso, Ind., came the peaceful end.

W. A. Bronson.—[Obituary not received.]

Thomas J. Congdon was born, Jan. 10, 1825, near Coburg, Canada, his parents having removed from the State of Massachusetts to that place a few months before his birth. He was converted at the age of twelve years. At eighteen he was appointed a class-leader; at twenty he removed to the State of Michigan, and settled in Ionia County. In the fall of 1854 he was employed as a supply on Sparta Circuit. He was licensed to preach Nov. 4, 1854, and was received into the Michigan Conference on trial at its session at Flint, in 1855, and was appointed to Newaygo. His appointments have been Sparta, Newaygo, Bellevue, Charlotte, North Adams, White Pigeon, Quincy, Girard, Union City, Colon, and Cooper. He has not been able to do effective work since 1870, but has always been anxious to work for the Master, and has done what he could. He went to California, and settled in Los Gatos, in April, 1883. He maintained his usually meek and unblemished Christian character, loving and beloved by all, until he sweetly fell asleep in Jesus, Feb. 5, 1884.

Horace Hall was born in Genesee County, N. Y., Feb. 26, 1819, and died suddenly at his home, near the city of Niles, Mich., March 14, 1884. In the winter of 1839, when about twenty years of age, he was converted and consecrated himself to the Lord's work. He was baptized, joined the Church in full connection, and licensed to exhort, before the year closed. He spent the two years following in thorough preparation for the great work of his life. He was received on trial in the Michigan Conference at its session in Adrian, Aug. 17, 1842, and was appointed junior preacher on Mt. Clemens Circuit, with W. C. Comfort, preacher in charge, and E. H. Pilcher, presiding elder. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Hamline at Coldwater in October, 1844, and elder by Bishop Morris at Ypsilanti, September, 1847. Brother Hall's appointments were Mount Clemens, Clarkston, Mapleton, Bennington, Plymouth, Northville, and Paw Paw, each one year; Berrien Springs and Edwardsburg, each two years; superannuated, one year; Constantine, two years; superannuated, two years; Hastings, one year. In 1860 he was sent to Grand Haven Mission. During the year he organized the Spring Lake Circuit, after which he was stationed at Saranac, where he remained one year and a half. His next appointment was Lyons, one year; then Lansing District, four years; Niles District, four years; Lawton, three years; Benton Harbor, one year; agent Benton Harbor Church, one year; Constantine, one year; Parma, two years; Marshall, one year; Albion District, four years. He retired from the district to his new home near the city of Niles. In every year of his ministry he was blessed both with seed-time and harvest. He was not only diligent in the planting of the pure word of God, but successful in gathering souls into the garner of the Lord. He was a thorough student of "Practical Theology," a faithful and able preacher of the Gospel. He was a manly man, fully consecrated to the cause of Christ. He was a man of clear intellect, warm heart, pure life, and clean lips. Few ranked him in administration and pulpit ability. Though modest and retiring in all of his bearings, he was a leader, and Michigan Methodism owes much of her success and prosperity to the wise counsel and earnest labors of Horace Hall. His abilities and piety were appreciated by his brethren in the ministry, and he was selected to represent them in the General Conferences of 1864 and 1868.

Jeremy Boynton was born of American parentage, in Evansville, N. Y., Sept. 20, 1824. He experienced religion at Clinton, Mich., in October, 1835. In September, 1845, he was received on trial in the Michigan Conference, and appointed to Shiawassee Circuit, with George Hemenway as colleague. His subsequent appointments were as follows: Flat River; discontinued because of afflictions and death in his father's family, the main care of which had devolved upnn him. In 1847 he was married to her who, with two daughters, sincerely mourns his death. In 1850, at Albion, he was re-admitted on trial by Bishop Morris, and appointed to De Witt. In 1851, De Witt; in 1852 he was ordained deacon at Niles by Bishop Scott, and stationed at Sturgis, remaining two years. In 1854 he was appointed to Niles. In 1855, ordained elder at Flint, by Bishop Ames, and re-appointed to Niles. His subsequent appointments were as follows: Division Street, Grand Rapids, Hillsdale, Hastings, Marshall, Lansing, Manistee District, Pentwater District, superannuated on account of sickness and loss of voice, Pentwater, Dowagiac, (in March,) transferred to Kansas Conference and appointed to Oskaloosa, Kansas, Salina, Baldwin City District, Lawrence District, re-transferred to Michigan Conference and appointed to Prairieville; Prairieville, Schoolcraft and Vicksburg, Constantine, Ovid, Stanton, re-appointed to Stanton. As a preacher, Brother Boynton excelled in convincing argument. His style was very deliberate and weighty. Sometimes he arose to a plane of great impressiveness and power. He seemed to forget himself in the contemplation of divine truth. His life was conscientiously devoted to the interests of morals and religion. On all the charges where he labored, Division Street and Marshall excepted, revivals attended his ministry. He believed the way of holiness the way to live. He thanked God that one "may enjoy perfect, constant peace." "Some years ago," he tells us in his book, "I was upon a mountain in clear, bright, beautiful sunshine, while the valley below was being visited with a terrific thunder-storm. Never before had I been where I could look down upon such a storm. It seemed terrifically sublime; and while gazing upon the thick, dark clouds below, and listening to the thunder which shook the mountain where I stood, I thought, So it is with those who enjoy perfect love; they live above the storms of life, in the sunlight of God's countenance. They mount upon the wings of faith above the storms, and feel that all is well." For a year he had not enjoyed his wonted health, yet he came to the last Conference session with strength and zeal enough to richly enjoy all its services. There remained only two weeks of life for him. He did so much in those two short weeks—so much for the church and for his family—that the dying man seemed like one thrilled with new life. He had ever felt a perfect dread of being laid aside from the regular work, and often wondered what he should do when he had to give up preaching; but he was spared the trial. God gave him the crown while yet, with the sword of the Spirit in his hand, he was battling in the ranks. His funeral occurred in Stanton, the attendance of citizens being very large. Business houses closed their doors, and the whole village joined in the demonstration of sorrow.

Francis Dana Hemenway, D.D., son of Jonathan W. and Sally Hibbard Hemenway, was born, Nov. 10, 1830, in Chelsea, Vt. He was led to the Saviour when but twelve years of age, during a season of revival in Chelsea, but delayed for some years uniting with the Church of which he was destined to become so bright an ornament. Believing himself called to the ministry, he entered the Methodist General Biblical Institute, at Concord, N. H., then the only theological school of our Church. He completed the course and was graduated in 1853, having enjoyed the instructions of such eminent scholars and teachers as the late Dr. S. M. Vail, Bishop Baker, and Dr. J. Dempster, with the latter of whom he was afterward associated as a colleague in Garrett Biblical Institute. After leaving Concord he was appointed as a teacher in the Newbury Seminary, where he had formerly been a pupil. After a brief period of teaching, at the session of his Conference in 1855, we find him appointed to Montpelier, the capital of the State. There could scarcely be a clearer indication of the high estimation in which he was held than the fact that at the beginning of his pastoral life he was assigned to the leading charge in the Conference. He remained there two years, completing the full pastoral term, when, from considerations of health, he felt constrained to ask a location. In the fall of the same year, on the invitation of Professor Henry S. Noyes, then acting president of the North-western University, he came to the West and settled in Evanston, as Principal of what was then the preparatory department of both the Institute and the University. While in this position he was elected Adjunct Professor of Biblical Literature in the Garrett Biblical Institute, and afterward was promoted to the chair of Hebrew Exegesis, to which biblical literature was appended. On the death of Dr. Bannister he was transferred to the chair of Exegetical Theology—his work, however, not undergoing any material change. After coming to the West he united with the Michigan Conference, and in the fall of 1861 he temporarily resumed the pastoral office, being stationed at Kalamazoo. The following year he was transferred to the Rock River Conference, and appointed to the First Church in Chicago. Finding the work here too taxing for his strength, he was re-transferred and spent two more years at Kalamazoo. During these four years of absence he had retained a nominal connection with his chair at Evanston, and the financial affairs of the Institute having now improved, he resumed those congenial labors which henceforth occupied him till within a few days of the close of his life. Brother Hemenway was the worthy recipient of both literary and ecclesiastical honors. When the committee for the revision of the hymn book was ordered, he was appointed chairman of the Western Division, and the perfection of our present admirable Hymnal is largely due to his cultivated taste and unremitting industry.

Upper Iowa Conference.

Samuel Y. Harmer died in Clarence, Iowa, March 26, 1884. He was born in Germantown, Pa., Dec. 9, 1809; was converted and joined the M. E. Church when eighteen; and was married, July 5, 1832, to Miss Clarissa Roop. He received a local preacher's license in 1843, was ordained deacon by Bishop Morris, April 4, 1847, and elder by Bishop Scott, March 30, 1856. Rev. S. Pancoast, his pastor in 1846, says: "Brother Harmer was a local preacher, leader of a large choir, a class-leader, recording steward, and treasurer of the church, and filled all positions efficiently." He was admitted into the Upper Iowa Conference in 1857, and served with great acceptability at Sabula, Princeton, Maquoketa Circuit, Agent of Cornell College, Lisbon, Sabula, Vernon Prairie, Johnson, Andrews, Elwood, London, and was superannuated, Sept. 29, 1880, because of failing health. He bought property in Clarence, and he and his son Milton engaged in business. Although his mental powers failed, his mind was always clear with regard to heaven. At noon, March 26, he fell asleep in Jesus, and now knows more about the "Christian's home in glory" than he was ever inspired to sing.

Nathaniel Jones, of Upper Iowa Conference, was born Nov. 8, 1821, and died at Staceyville, Mitchell County, Iowa, June 1, 1884. In 1853 he was licensed as local preacher by John Kennard, and in the fall of 1854 was received on trial by Genesee Conference at Warsaw. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Morris and elder by Bishop Baker. He continued a member of Genesee Conference for seventeen years, doing efficient work in the following charges: New Hudson and Cuba two terms, New Hudson, Franklinville, Otto and Mansfield, West Carlton, Kendall, Parma, Churchville, and Bergen. In the fall of 1870 he was transferred to the Upper Iowa Conference, and served God and Methodism fourteen years in the following charges: Fort Atkinson, Auburn, Albany, Brandon, Quasqueton, Manchester Circuit, Ward's Corners, and National, where he was stationed his third year when death found him. Thus passed thirty-one years of faithful itinerant work. He was a good preacher, practical, and always carried the conviction that he fully believed the truths he preached. He was at his son's home on a visit, the son's family having sickness. While busily caring for others he was taken sick with neuralgic pain in his arms, which soon developed into pneumonia. On Sabbath morning, after a quiet night and much improved symptoms, he died while sitting in a chair, without a word or a struggle.

Roderick Norton was born at Southington, Portage County, March 20, 1819. He joined the Erie Conference in 1848. During this year he married Miss Caroline N. Pardee, whose memory as a pastor's wife is still cherished by so many of the members of our Church. After three years' service in this Conference he was again in educational work for two years as Principal of Asbury Seminary. Again in the regular work of the ministry, he served Mentor, Willoughby, Chardon, and Madison Charges, in Ohio. In 1860 he was transferred to the Upper Iowa Conference, from which he received the following appointments: Clinton, Marion, Cedar Falls, Mount Vernon, Manchester, Osage, Fayette, Janesville, Bellevue, Centre Grove, and Quasqueton; and also an appointment in 1868 as State Agent of the American and Foreign Christian Union. In all these appointments he showed himself a man of God—"a workman that needeth not to be ashamed." Everywhere the conversion of souls and the quickened and deepened piety of the church attested the genuineness of his call of God, his faithfulness to that call, and the blessing of God upon his labors. But special opportunity and special fitness for the opportunity made his work on some of these charges worthy of special mention. During his second year at Fayette, besides his pastorate of the church, he assumed the duties of President of Upper Iowa University. Perhaps no year of his life was more laborious or more useful. The university was embarrassed with debt, and its friends were almost in despair. But during the year confidence was restored, the financial condition improved, the number of students quadrupled, and the school started on its later career of usefulness in which its friends rejoice to-day. The year was also memorable for the conversion of about one hundred and fifty souls. At Osage he found a small society, embracing but twelve male members, with an unfinished brick church, whose basement walls had already cost three thousand dollars, under execution for debt. He left the charge strong in numbers and spiritual power, with the church inclosed, and the basement tastefully finished and free of debt. In August, 1877, he was again married, to Mary L. Snow, of Windham, O., whose faithful love and gentle ministry were his joy and solace until death. In the winter of 1882 he suffered a slight stroke of paralysis, followed by such impairment of health that at the close of the Conference year he felt compelled to ask for a supernumerary relation for rest and recovery. But he could not rest so long as opportunity called him to his Master's work. At the home of his childhood in Ohio he engaged, during the following winter, in protracted revival services, resulting in a number of conversions. He preached for the last time, with great earnestness and power, on Sunday, May 13, at Nelson, his first appointment. That night he was prostrated by paralysis. On Sept. 22 he was attacked by a mild form of bilious fever, and, failing gradually under it, on Sunday morning, Sept. 30, 1883, quietly and without pain he fell asleep. But the faith he had so long preached to others made even death a triumph.

Sweeney C. Freer was born in Ontario County, N. Y., Jan. 8, 1818, and died at his home in Vinton, Ia., Nov. 15, 1883, in the sixty-sixth year of his age. Licensed to exhort and employed as a supply in 1840, he was admitted on trial by the Erie Conference in 1841, and appointed by Bishop Roberts to Wesleyville Circuit, Pa. Morgan, Poland, Windsor, Ellsworth, Chagrin Falls, Chardon, Ashtabula, and Willoughby, all in Ohio, were his subsequent appointments in the Erie Conference. His marriage to Miss Louisa Hurlburt occurred Feb. 21, 1843. In 1855 he decided to remove West, stopping one year as pastor at Hennepin, Ill., then he was transferred to Upper Iowa Conference, attending its first session in Maquoketa, 1856, and in the bounds of which he served the following appointments: Le Clair, Camanche, Tipton, Vinton, Independence, and in 1864 he was appointed presiding elder of the Vinton District, which he faithfully served for the four following years. At the close of his eldership he felt the need of rest, and took a supernumerary relation, which he retained until 1874. The inspired description of a model man in this world surely applies to him: "Diligent in business, fervent in spirit, serving the Lord." Loyal to the Church and her ministers, regular in his attendance at her services, liberal to all her benevolences, ready to share in revival and other labors, he was a tower of strength to "Christianity in earnest" during all these years of release from direct ministerial responsibility. Being somewhat invigorated in health, and desirous to die in the harness, (as he would say,) he returned in 1874 to the ranks of effective elders, and served with at least his old-time efficiency the following charges: Mechanicsville, Oasis, Jessup, La Porte City, and Raymond. In December, 1882, the avant-courier of the pale horse and his rider appeared in the form of a slight shock of paralysis. He rallied and toiled on till the close of the Conference year, but was impressed that the messenger was at hand, as we judge from his asking a superannuated relation, and from his love-feast testimony. Brother Freer was an acceptable preacher, a successful evangelist and church builder, a stanch friend of education, a pronounced patriot and prohibitionist; one who was sound in doctrine, wise in counsel, correct in practice, and conscientious in all things.

Southern German Conference.

Frederick Ries was born in Oberschoepf, Grand Duchy Baden, in 1832, and died, Sept. 18, 1884, in Houston, Texas. He came to America in 1855 and settled in Indiana, where he experienced a clear conversion by the power of the Holy Spirit, and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. After his conversion he went farther west, where he received local preacher's license from Brother John Plank. He was received in the North-west German Conference, and received an appointment on the Saint Paul District. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Simpson in 1867, and elder by Bishop Clark in 1870. On all the charges he served he was loved by all. At his own request he was granted a location. He came to Texas as a local preacher, and was admitted to the Southern German Conference. About four years ago the Conference suspended him, but, although he was not in the active ministry, he assisted the preacher in charge in upbuilding the cause of our Lord Jesus Christ. He died in peace. The last utterance he made was, "I am going home to Jesus."

Erie Conference.

Thomas Stubbs was born in Kendal, England, October, 1801, and died in Cleveland, O., Feb. 8, 1884, in the eighty-third year of his age. He was converted when he was sixteen, and was licensed to preach when he was twenty years of age. He came to this country in 1832, in the month of May, and in the following July was admitted into the Pittsburg Conference. When the Erie Conference was formed he became a member of that body, and continued a member of it until his death. He soon became recognized as an able preacher and successful pastor, and filled with great acceptability the leading pulpits of his Conference, among which were Youngstown, Newcastle, Meadville; Erie, First Church; Cleveland, First Church. His bearing in the pulpit was graceful and impressive. His imagination was fervid, his logical power strong, and he often rose to great power in the pulpit, and was always pleasing and instructive. His language was terse and incisive, and his heart was always warm with the love of Christ. His was a long and useful life. He died as he lived, in happy fellowship with the divine Master he served.

A. C. Tibbitts was born in Monkton, Vt., Nov. 10, 1824, and died in Geneva, O., Feb. 19, 1884. The bare outline of his personal history is as follows: converted at the age of nineteen under the labors of Rev. D. D. Buck, in Lewiston, N. Y., received into the M. E. Church by Rev. Thomas Carlton, in 1845, at Niagara Falls, where he was married to Miss Eliza A. Derry in 1846. He was licensed to preach in 1855, was admitted into the traveling connection by the Erie Conference in 1856, and served with great acceptability the following charges: Riceville, Pa.; Warren, Pa.; Fredonia, Mayville, Dunkirk, Portland, N. Y.; Erie, Pa.; Geneva, O.; Fairview, Pa.; Mayville and Portland each a second term, and Wesleyville, Pa. By reason of ill health he was on the supernumerary list from 1867 to 1873, and on the superannuated list from 1881 to the end of his life. Brother Tibbitts was a rare and beautiful character, and an eminent success in all departments of Church work. His fine business qualities enabled him to promote the financial interests of the Church, his genial and tender spirit made him a power in social life, while his love for souls and skill in leading sinners to the Saviour gave him the well-earned reputation of being a "revival preacher." He was more remarkable for the even qualities of a well-rounded character than for the possession of brilliant or extraordinary qualities. He was practical, judicious, wise. As a preacher, he was plain, clear, forcible. There was no affectation about him, no display of intellectual superiority, no attempt to excite attention or to gain applause by eccentricity of any kind. His sermons partook of his own sweet spirit. There was no invective, no controversy, no impetuosity about him. He could not use the weapons of hostility, but in all his ministrations the olive branch of peace was a magic wand. He was, in many respects, another Barnabas, or, like Tychicus, "a beloved brother and a faithful minister of Jesus Christ." He died well. A short time before his departure he said to the writer, "My sun is setting low in the west, but the western slopes are light." At another time, "I am prostrate, but I am happy." "The Gospel I have preached to others," he said, "sustains me now; I know it is true." Many other happy expressions are remembered, but we have no space to record them here. The bereaved family—the wife, two sons, and a daughter—are greatly comforted by the assurance that the devoted husband and father, the faithful Gospel minister, sweetly rests from his labors. "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord." "Remember them who spake unto you the word of life, whose faith follow."

J. BREWSTER GILFILLEN was born, March 1, 1850, near North Liberty, Mercer County, Pa. His parents, James G. and Mary Ann Gilfillen, being faithful members of the United Presbyterian Church, afforded him constant opportunity for home and other suitable religious culture. At an early age he professed faith in Christ, and connected himself with the Church of his parents in the Slippery Rock Congregation, under the pastoral care of Rev. N. C. Brown. One of his brothers became a minister of that Church. His higher educational attainments were secured by diligent home study, and in attendance at Edinborough Normal School and Westminster College. Being fitted for teaching he engaged for several years in that calling, and wherever he served was regarded as a very successful and competent educator. Having married some years ago an intelligent Christian lady—a member of the M. E. Church—he was led during her life by her influence, and then and afterward through other causes, to a more particular acquaintance with the doctrines and other peculiarities of Methodism; a very decided approval followed. At a meeting held in Petersburg, O., in February, 1883, he stated publicly his change of views, and on May 5 of the same year presented his certificate of good standing from the United Presbyterian Church, and was received by Rev. S. K. Paden into the M. E. Church. Years ago he expressed a desire to enter the Gospel ministry, but because of his wife's sickness and death, and his own ill health, he was prevented from making definite preparation. Having entered into this new church relation, and his heart into a deeper and more thorough consecration to Christ, he anew and more fully realized his duty to preach. Making what direct preparation he could in the short time between that and the ensuing District Conference, he appeared and passed a most satisfactory examination, was licensed to preach by the Newcastle District Conference, at Middlesex, Pa., Sept. 12, 1883, and was received at our last annual session at Newcastle, and appointed to Stoneborough Charge. Brother Gilfillen was a man of fine personal appearance, of excellent natural and acquired attainments, a consistent, earnest, sweet-spirited Christian; wherever placed he endeavored to promote the kingdom of Christ. He entered heartily upon his work as a minister. From his first public effort, and especially on the two Sabbaths he was permitted to spend on his charge at Stoneborough, he was regarded as of fine ability and superior promise as a preacher. His death from heart disease was sudden. On Monday morning, Oct. 22, while standing in apparent good health conversing with a friend, near the borders of the beautiful little lake at Stoneborough, the messenger came. He suddenly fell in death, and his pure spirit went up to God. His life-work was done. On the morning of his death he wrote the following expression of his faith, and left it in his Bible: "My faith is strong in the atoning merits of Christ; his promises are yea and amen to them that believe; I do believe, and soon will be at home where there is no more pain and sorrow." Thus closed the short ministerial career of this promising young man in the abiding triumphant faith of our Lord Jesus Christ.

WATSON W. WOODWORTH died in East Randolph, N. Y., Oct. 8, 1884. That day the Conference adjourned, and two hundred of his dear brethren went to their labors, but he passed to his reward. For ten years his health had been impaired, but with a strong will and unfailing cheerfulness he kept on in his beloved work until the silver cord was snapped, and the golden bowl was broken. He was born of pious parents in Conewango, N. Y., Aug. 8, 1843. At fourteen he was converted at a camp-meeting in Napoli, and from that time walked worthy of his profession. He was blessed by nature with an agreeable presence, and divine grace in his heart gave a sweet charm to his intercourse, and marked him out as a Christian gentleman. He was educated at Chamberlain Institute, and in 1875 began his work in the ministry. He and his wife, a daughter of Hon. Mr. Holdridge, of East Randolph, entered heartily upon the work. The churches were built up and many souls won through his efforts. He served three years at Sinclairville, two years at Frewsburg, one year at Portland and Brockton, and two years at North East. On the day of his death he was appointed to Mayville, but God transferred him to the heavenly city. Who shall say that his little Grace, who had gone before, was not the first to welcome him to the home eternal? At his funeral many of his ministerial brethren gathered to do honor to his memory. Unassuming and quiet, he cheerfully, patiently, and faithfully toiled for his Saviour. In physical suffering and weakness his devotion never faltered, and even while in the last agony he smilingly said, "I think I shall pull through." It was not death, it was "transition." The funeral service was not a sad one, the brightness of the faith that had shed its light over the life so suddenly closed here still shone upon his coffin and illumined his grave. May his loved companion and his little son find in the arm of the Saviour a sure support!

JOHN ABBOTT was born Nov. 28, 1813, and died, March 19, 1884, near Geneva, Crawford County, Pa. He was converted at the age of fifteen, and immediately joined the M. E. Church. Soon after he was licensed to exhort; then followed the license to preach, which was renewed from time to time till he was received into the traveling connection and joined the Erie Conference in 1842, in which he reached the forty-second year of his itinerant life. He was married to his now bereaved widow, Elizabeth Mason, Nov. 6, 1834, and with her lived a peaceful and happy life nearly fifty years. Brother Abbott traveled in nearly every part of the territory of the Erie Conference, and was a very successful minister of Christ. As a revivalist he was pre-eminent. Several of his charges he served a second time, and at least two thrice, always with the approval of his heavenly Father, made known by the throngs of converts brought into the fold. This was the case especially upon the Meadville District, within whose bounds he did a large share of his ministerial work, and hundreds upon that territory attribute their conversion to him as God's instrument. It is impossible in a brief memoir to do justice to the great work accomplished for God and his Church by this laborious man. Suffice it to say, as a revivalist, in pure evangelistic work, he was a king, and had no superior, if an equal, among his honored brethren of the Conference, among whom he so long labored. After a few months at Sunville, weary and tired, he came to his little farm to rest — to die. The summons found him ready. He requested his old friend, Rev. W. P. Bignell, to preach his funeral sermon, which was done in the church at Geneva in the presence of hundreds of old friends and spiritual children. He sleeps beside the church awaiting the trump of God. Truly a good man, a man of faith and full of the Holy Ghost, has left us and gained his rest. "Servant of God, well done."

* These numbers for the [illegible]l Conferences are not always the same as those furnished by the statistical secretaries; the difference is caused by the correc[illegible]n of 139 errors in the footings of columns, and filling 73 out of 136 blanks with the numbers contained in the last report.

† From returns for 1883.

‡ This total for the Spri[illegible] Conferences is obtained by correcting 98 errors in the footings of columns and filling 54 out of 99 blanks from the last report. [illegible]08 charges remain blank, and their membership is not included in these totals.
